Too Much Kissing Nurse Charges.

Doctors at Yountville Home Accused of Caressing Women Employees.

Romantic Intrigue Said to Have Produced Situation Like Vaudeville.

Neglect of Patients and Unsanitary Conditions Alleged in Affidavits.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—[Exclusive dispatch.] Vaudevillian administration of affairs at the Yountville State Veterans' Home, Napa county, punctuated by occasional exchanges of kisses and holding hands between staff physicians and nurses and the existence of a general atmosphere of romantic intrigue conducive to gross neglect of patients, are charges made in affidavits by several nurses and a former chief steward of the institution filed today with the State Board of Control.

Much emphasis on the swearing activities of the doctors and the terrible sanitary conditions of particularly the kitchen and the tubercular ward of the home, is made in the affidavits.

Dr. D. M. McRae, surgeon at the Veterans' Home, is declared in the affidavits as the physician who has developed considerable talent for using foul language and is largely responsible for the alleged unsanitary conditions about the home.

Dr. W. H. Crane, assistant surgeon, figures in the charges as the man endowed with a faculty for kissing and caressing the hands of the nurses, regardless of their desire for such attentions.

GRASSHOPPERS STALL TRAIN.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DODGE CITY (Kan.) July 30.—"Train No. 64, delayed forty minutes; stalled by grasshoppers," was the report received at the Rock Island station here yesterday. The train was coming out of Ford when it struck a deep cut, which always causes a snow blockade when there is a snow storm. The wind had blown dead hoppers over the rails in such numbers that the engine wheels slipped and spun round, leaving the train motionless. The train crew scooped the hoppers off the track and sanded the rails before the train could proceed.

SAYRE TAKES COLLEGE JOB.

Wilson's Prospective Son-in-Law Will Speak in Interest of the Williams Institution.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Francis B. Sayre of Dist.-Atty. Whitman's office, who is to be President Wilson's son-in-law, said today that he has decided to accept the position of assistant to President Harry Garfield of Williams College. Sayre will take the new position in February of next year.

He will study conditions of college life and follow this by an extended tour of the country to speak before alumni associations and stir up interest in the college by delivering lectures in High Schools and preparatory institutions.

Sayre will resign from the District Attorney's staff just before his marriage to Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, President Wilson's second daughter, and after a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs Sayre will go to Williamstown.

VOTE STRIKE ON ESPEE.

Engineers May Join Trainmen.

Railroad Officials Decide to Ask for Mediation Under the Newlands Act.

Electrization of the Suburban Lines on the Pacific Coast Precipitates Dispute.

Unions Oppose Segregation and Insist on Enforcement of Seniority Rule.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Ninety-six per cent. of the trainmen and conductors employed on the Pacific division of the Southern Pacific system have voted to strike unless differences with the management over the terms of employment, rating and seniority allowed on the company's electricized lines can be adjusted.

The result on the vote, which stands 3816 in favor of striking to 137 against, was made public here tonight.

The grand officers of the joint General Committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, feeling that their interests are vitally wrapped up in the same conditions which face the conductors and trainmen, are now on their way to San Francisco to take up the problem from their viewpoint and will arrive Friday night or Saturday morning.

APPEAL TO NEWLANDS ACT.

Southern Pacific officials announced tonight that they would invoke the mediation of the national government through the Newlands act to settle their differences with their employees.

Explaining the position of the railroads, William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific Company, in a statement tonight says the arbitration of various grievances with the men has been in progress since the middle of March, and everything except the jurisdiction of the men's organization over electric lines has been adjusted.

A telegram about 2000 words long was forwarded tonight by President Sproule to the Board of Mediation and Conciliation at Washington, invoking the services of the board, and including copies of all correspondence between the men and the railroad officials.

In the meantime the engineers and firemen and enginemen have requested the conductors and trainmen to defer final action until their own attitude can be determined, and a united stand taken.

EIGHT THOUSAND INVOLVED.

Approximately 7500 men are involved, and the territory affected extends south from Portland, Or., to the Gulf of Mexico, and west from Ogden and El Paso.

The result of the vote was communicated to the company yesterday and thirty hours later no reply had been received.

Friction has arisen between the company and the men because of the company's announcement that hereafter it will be its policy to segregate its electric lines as separate units of operation, distinct from the main steam lines.

Such action, the company contends, is necessary for efficiency and economy, but the men see in it a determination to operate electricised suburban and interurban lines on a street car basis. The conductors', engineers', firemen's and enginemen's unions in the Southern Pacific division, if complete segregation of employment and operation were carried into effect, would have nothing to say about conditions affecting employees.

SENIORITY RULE.

Specifically, the conductors and trainmen contend that the promotion and seniority schedules of electric lines should be the same as those of steam lines.

They say that within the past week the company has posted notices in Oakland offering to employ men at 30 cents an hour for suburban work, which on the main line is paid for at 60 cents an hour.

GIVES HISTORY OF CONTROVERSY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an interview, President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific Company, said:

"Our operating officers have been in session with the board of adjustment of the Order of Railway Conductors and The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at intervals since the middle of March, dealing with a large number of demands upon the company. All questions were disposed of except those pertaining to the jurisdiction of the organizations over our electric lines, those immediately under controversy being the Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley lines, and the electric lines in Oregon known as the Portland, Eugene and Eastern Railway. These electric lines are maintaind as separate operating organizations, and Estranged.

DASHING SOCIETY HOSTESS WOULD DIVORCE CLUBMAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A divorce action of interest to society in many parts of the State was filed today in the Alameda county Superior Court. Mrs. Gladys Courvoisier Lafler, who has cut a dashing figure in East Bay society for several years and has been hostess at many pretty parties in the Hotel Oakland since its opening, is plaintiff, and Henry Anderson Lafler, clubwoman, litterateur, Bohemian, and now advertising manager for the Wickham Havens Company, is defendant. Cruelty is the ground for the requested action of the court.

The beautiful and petite matron charges in her complaint, which has been put on the secret file, that Lafler has beaten her on several occasions, and that his pet name for her was "Little Hell Cat," all of which has caused her no little anguish of mind, as well as humiliation. Less than a month ago, she charges, she gave a tea in the Hotel Oakland for a party of people with whom she believed her husband was on friendly terms. On the departure of her guests, she states, her husband flew into a rage and demanded: "Why in —— did you have those people here to tea?"

SETS PACE IN SMOKING.

Mrs. Lafler shocked the guests in the Hotel Oakland by smoking cigarettes after her afternoon tea in the main lounge of the hotel, but many have come to follow her fashion, and smoking among the women guests there is not at all uncommon now. Her rare beauty and dashing manner have made her the center of many fashionable events and her charm of intellect have caused her to be much in demand at semi-Bohemian gatherings.

The plaintiff in the divorce action has been married before. She is a graduate of the Fresno High School, and shortly after her graduation she married Lieut. Madden, U.S.N., but divorced him after six months. She married Lafler in September, 1911, but the ceremony was performed by an unfrocked clergyman and another marriage had to take place. Her father is a San Francisco art dealer. She gained some notoriety lately by promoting a bill before the State Legislature prohibiting one-armed men from driving automobiles.

EDITED THE "BLUE MULE."

Lafler was editor of the Blue Mule, a publication financed by F. M. "Borax" Smith. Previously he had been connected with the editorial department of the Argonaut. He has written considerable poetry of more or less quality and collaborated with the poet George Sterling.

The defendant is a man of dictatorial disposition, according to Mrs. Lafler, and has made life very miserable for her, especially since they have been making their residence in the Hotel Oakland. She asks no alimony. They have no children. Lafler makes a general denial of his wife's allegations.

SACRAMENTO INDORSES CHOICE OF HIGHWAY COMMISSION.

Chamber of Commerce Declares State Board Has Chosen the Most Practical Thoroughfare for Fresno-Los Angeles Section and Praises Judgment of Selection.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a meeting of the directorate of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce this afternoon resolutions were adopted declaring for the Tejon Pass route selected by the State Highway Commission for the Fresno-Los Angeles section of the road and praising the commission for its selection. It was stated by Secretary Andrus that the act called for the best, shortest and most practical route, and there seemed to be little doubt about the commission having complied with the provisions of the act.

Arguments over the routing of the State Highway system between Fresno and Bakersfield, Bakersfield and Los Angeles and Sargents and Salinas will be heard by the advisory board of the State engineering department in Gov. Johnson's office Friday.

It was announced that the Sargents-Salinas controversy would be considered first. Then the Fresno-Bakersfield conflict will be heard.

At 2:30 o'clock the Tejon-Tehachepi dispute will be taken up. It will last for two hours. Each side will be given half of the two hours to be devoted to each of the highway disputes. It is thought that the board will go into legislative session following the hearings and render a final decision on all three matters.

TWO DEAD, SIX DYING FROM MOTORCYCLE EXPLOSION.

Salt Lake Rider Crashes Into Electric Light Pole in Kentucky Race and Brings Disaster to Himself and Spectators by His Contact With a Live Wire.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, July 30.—Two are dead, six will die before morning, according to attending physicians, one other is probably fatally burned and eleven more are seriously injured as a result of a motorcycle accident at the Lagoon Motordrome, across the river from this city, tonight.

Odin Johnson of Salt Lake, captain of the Cincinnati team which was contesting at the Motordrome, for some reason that probably will remain unknown, drove his motorcycle to the extreme top of the circular track, crashed into an electric light pole, broke it off, and the contact of the live wire with the machine exploded the gasoline tank, throwing the burning fluid over a score of spectators.

Johnson paid the penalty with his life, while William Davis, aged 5 years, also is dead as a result of the accident.

Six others, two women and four men, cannot live until morning, while others are registered at the Kentucky Hospital as in a serious condition.

That a large number of others who cannot be located tonight were burned is almost a certainty, as several drug stores in the vicinity of the place were kept busy for an hour after the accident dressing burns of those who escaped without serious injury.

NEW HOPE FOR HUERTA BORN IN THE SENATE.

Foreign Relations Committee Hears from Ambassador That the de Facto President of Mexico Did Not Instigate the Killing of Madero—Testimony May Pave the Way for Wilson to Give His Moral and Practical Support to the Party in Power.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although Ambassador Wilson urgently advocated conditional recognition of the Huerta government before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today, it can be stated authoritatively that nothing will be done by Congress affecting the President's freedom of action. Congress will mark time and will trust the President for the present.

Ambassador Wilson succeeded in impressing the committee with the gravity of the situation in Mexico and convinced it that a definite policy must be adopted if the neighboring republic is to be saved from chaos. He frankly said nothing is to be gained by mediation and he does not expect that the conference in Mexico looking to an arrangement of the difficulties between the leaders will be productive of results. In his judgment the United States is facing two alternatives—recognition of President Huerta, provided he shall agree to certain stipulations, or military intervention by the United States.

THE AMBASSADOR'S PLAN.

Ambassador Wilson's plan of dealing with the Mexican situation as told before the Senate Committee provided for the recognition by the United States upon the following conditions:

That a constitutional election be held in Mexico next October and that proper safeguards be adopted to insure a fair expression on the part of the voters at the polls.

That pending claims of the United States against Mexico, including the Chamizal controversy and the Colorado River dispute, be adjusted on terms proposed by the United States.

That the pecuniary claims of American citizens and others be adjusted immediately through a commission and arrangements made for assuring payment within a reasonable time.

QUIZZED THREE HOURS.

For three hours the Ambassador was quizzed by the committee. He began from the time he took office in Mexico, explained the gradual disappearance of the power of Porfirio Diaz, related the incidents connected with his retirement and the accession of Madero and described the conditions in Mexico City, which caused him to arrange a conference between Huerta and Felix Diaz, the assassination of Madero and the present conditions.

Huerta is not the bad man the American people believe him, in the view of Ambassador Wilson. While the President of the republic has a certain measure of responsibility for the crime, the Ambassador is satisfied that he did not instigate it. This point is important because of the assertion of President Wilson that he will not recognize a government founded on murder. Some of the members of the Foreign Relations Committee have a higher opinion of Huerta from the Ambassador's report and are inclined to agree with him that probably the better course for this government to pursue is recognition of the only effective force in Mexico. Among these members are two Democrats.

Moreover, they were impressed by the Ambassador's statement that Huerta is far stronger than has been believed here. As already stated, however, the committee is averse to complicating the situation by any action which might embarrass the chief executive.

RADICALS ARE DEFEATED IN OHIO'S QUEEN CITY.

Combine of the Socialists With Union Labor to Impose a Lot of Governmental Fads on the Town Knocked Out at the Polls—Proposed Charter Commission Probably Lost Also—Light Vote Cast.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI (O.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To the mystification of trained politicians Cincinnatians today probably voted against a new charter. The vote is very close. It was generally conceded that the new charter proposition would carry by a comfortable majority. Returns from 285 precincts show that the "no charter" issue is leading by 761 votes. One hundred and thirty-five precincts remain to be heard from.

As between radicals and conservatives, both of which offered candidates for the Charter Commission, the radicals are hopelessly beaten. Under the leadership of Representative Herbert S. Bigelow, late president of the Ohio Constitutional Convention, it was generally believed that the radical element, supported by union labor, would poll a tremendous vote, and would probably win. Returns at hand indicate that the conservative ticket, headed by Attorney Walter Knight, will defeat the Bigelow candidates by an overwhelming vote. A proposition to establish a small Council instead of a Council by ward representatives was defeated by a vote of approximately 3 to 1, while the bond issue for hospital maintenance carried.

The election was held under a pitiless sun that sent the temperature soaring at the government building to 101. As a result of the intense heat thousands of voters remained away from the polls and indications now point to a vote of less than 50 per cent. of the electorate.

The regular Republican organization was opposed to a new charter, but favored the Knight ticket in case the new charter ticket should win, so that in case a new charter were formulated, it should be done by a conservative committee. Doubtless thousands of business men voted against the charter proposition also. Some weeks ago the Federation of Catholic Societies issued a ukase against the new charter and against the Bigelow ticket. These three forces were most potent in bringing about the defeat of Mr. Bigelow.

The radical campaign was carried out on a platform advocating municipal ownership of public utilities, including the street car lines and the gas and electric company. As a result of the warfare waged, the market value of the stock of these corporations depreciated greatly. This aroused the stockholders, who were of a unit against Bigelow and his ticket.

Tornadic.

STORM BLOCKS CONGRESS; THREE DEAD; MANY INJURED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Like a giant flail, a cyclonic storm of wind, rain and hail whipped back and forth across the nation's capital today, leaving death and ruin in its wake. Three were killed, scores injured and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property was ruined, according to a hurried canvass made when the city aroused itself from half an hour of helplessness in the grasp of the elements.

Out of a blazing sky, under which the city was sweltering with the temperature at the 100 point, came the storm, roaring from the north, driving a mass of clouds that cast a mantle of total darkness over the town, the gales, reaching a velocity of nearly seventy miles an hour, swept the streets clear, unroofed houses, tore small structures from their foundations, wrecked one office building, overturned wagons and carriages in the streets, and swept Washington's hundred parks, tearing huge branches from trees, and even uprooting sturdy old elms, the landmarks of a century.

As the wind wreaked its havoc, the rain came, and in five minutes the temperature from the hundred mark dropped to between sixty and seventy. Then the rain turned to hail, and hail stones crashed through skylights and windows.

CITY PARALYZED.

For half an hour the city cowered, paralyzed, under the beating of the storm, every activity suspended.

The wind wrecked a three-story brick office building occupied by the R. S. Saul Company, real estate dealers, and fifteen persons were car-

REBELS SCOUT AIRSHIP STORY.

Federal Gunboats in Harbor Shell Rebel Positions.

Col. Hill Ordered Forward With Yaqui Warriors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The report of the destruction of the Mexican gunboat Tampico by bombs from Didier Masson's airship is denied on every hand. Rebel Gen. Obregon was asked about the aeroplane story. Laughing, he said it was absurd; that he never took any stock in the aeroplane undertaking, considering it merely money thrown away. A report direct from the rebel headquarters states that the aeroplane did not rise more than 500 feet and went out but a few miles from Batomatal, owing to adverse wind currents.

The official rebel organ, La Voz de Sonora, has at no time made mention of the reported sinking of the Tampico.

There is a story on the streets, but it lacks confirmation, that Venustiano Carranza will come to Hermosillo, Sonora. Another rumor hardly to be believed has it that he is to be made President of the republic of Sonora.

The State of Sonora is making desperate efforts to sell across the border 50,000 tercios of wheat at $1.25 a tercio. A tercio is equal to 155 pounds.

The same report from rebel headquarters states that the gunboats in Guaymas harbor began shelling the rebel positions at Batomatal the morning of July 28, without appreciable damage. A general forward movement is expected, as more troops supported by a battery of artillery have been ordered forward. Batomatal is now held by 3200 men, to be reinforced by the troops of Col. Hill and Maj. Mendez from Cruz de Piedra, 2000 in number, half of whom are Yaqui Indians.

WATCH AEROPLANE FLIGHT.

Gen. Cabral, with 600 men and numerous cannon, left Hermosillo Sunday for Maytorena. The general officers, including Gens. Alvarado and Cabral, went to the hills near Batomatal from the main camp to watch Masson attempt a flight over Guaymas harbor. Masson's attempt turned out to be fruitless.

Gov. Maytorena, it is reported, will leave tomorrow for Hermosillo to assume the Governorship. He will be accompanied by Brig.-Gen. Ignacio Pesqueira.

Numerous rebel celebrities from other States are appearing on the scene in Sonora, due, it is said, to the breaking up of the revolution in their respective states, one of the latest being Lic. Jose Vasconcelos.

PLEDGE PEACE IN NINETY DAYS.

Carranza and Pesqueira Inform Washington that Permission to Import Arms Is All that Is Needed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) July 30.—Venustiano Carranza, the Mexican rebel chieftain, wired his Washington agents today that he would pledge peace in Mexico within ninety days if the United States government would grant the Constitutionalists the right to import arms and war munitions freely. This was the information obtained today from a reliable source.

Acting Gov. Ygnacio Pesqueira, who is in Nogales, Sonora, just across the line, indorsed Carranza's proffered pledge, saying that peace could be established in sixty days. He said the Constitutionalists could arm 10,000 men immediately, and by uniting with the revolutionists in other States could capture Mexico City and overthrow Huerta in two months.

"CHE CHE" CAMPOS EXECUTED.

Federal General, Former Orosco Rebel Chief, Put to Death After Torreon's Fall.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) July 30.—"Che Che" Campos, a general of Federal irregular troops, was executed after the taking of Torreon, said a detailed report of the battle received today by the Constitutionalist committee here. Campos was a former Orosco rebel chief.

Saltillo, the capital of Coahuila, is invested by insurgents who plan to take from there against Monclova, recently taken by the Federals, according to the same advices.

Gov. Pesqueira of Sonora was at Nanes today investigating reports of a threatened strike of the Mexican miners in the American-managed camps. It was said that the strike probably would be averted.

Jose Maytorena, the temporarily-retired Governor, is awaiting Pesqueira's return to Nogales, Sonora, the two Governors will proceed to Hermosillo, the State capital, for continued conferences. It was announced here today that their political differences had been settled.

PURE FOOD LAW WINS.

Government Gains Decisive Victory and Destroys Fake Tuberculosis Remedy in Denver.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, July 30.—United States District Attorney Harry E. Kelly announced today that the government had won the first prosecution brought in the Federal District Court here today under the Sherley amendment to the pure food law. He asked judgment a large quantity of stramoline, an alleged cure for tuberculosis, was condemned and destroyed.

The Sherley amendment specifically makes it unlawful to print false and fraudulent statements as to the curative effects of medicine. Under this law, suit was brought in the stramoline case. The manufacturing company failed to appear and judgment was given to the government by default.

FRISCO" RECEIVER REPORTS.

ST. LOUIS, July 30.—Report was made today to the Federal District Court that the net earnings of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad for the first month of the existing receivership were $264,000. The total receipts between May 29 and June 30 were $5,569,000.

Bears Brunt of Ojeda's Rage.

Col. Benjamin Hill,

Whose name can hardly be called Spanish or Mexican, is one of the military leaders of the Constitutionalists of Sonora. He is in command of a thousand Yaquis, who are part of the advance column operating against Guaymas and who bear the brunt of the pounding by Gen. Ojeda, who is pushing his Federals against Hermosillo, according to Federal advices from Guaymas.

retary Bryan are concerned they are still waiting to ascertain the results of the efforts of the Mexicans themselves to adjust their differences. This does not mean that the administration has not determined upon a definite policy. It has. Exactly what it is only the President and Secretary Bryan know. Not even the Senators have been taken into their confidence. The President has not forgotten that some days ago he advised Senators of his meditation programme and that it promptly leaked out. He will not take any further chances of publicity because some of the measures he has in contemplation he believes will have a greater chance of success if surrounded with the strictest secrecy. Nevertheless it can be stated positively that the mediation plan still looms large in the administration's programme.

THE MEXICAN MIND.

President Huerta and Gen. Carranza already have been brought to realize that the United States cannot any longer tolerate a condition such as now exists. They know further that failure to settle their differences and a continuance of the internecine war in which they are now engaged will lead eventually, perhaps, in a short time, to American military occupancy for their country.

How long this occupation would last no one can tell, but the Mexicans themselves would remember that the loss of their independence was due to the personal ambitions of Huerta and Carranza. No man with a grain of patriotism in his composition would care to suffer such obloquy.

ATTITUDE OF BUSINESS.

Of great potency at the present time, however, is the attitude of the big business interests of Mexico. The administration hopes for a great deal from them. It believes that if the men behind Carranza will cease furnishing him with money and if the men friendly to Huerta will refuse to advance him further loans, the situation will be adjusted.

ASK FARRELL TO RETIRE.

Family of Oregon Railroad Magnate Wish Him to Devote His Time to His Country Estate.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Close friends of J. D. Farrell, president of the O. W. R. and N., have been discussing for the past week or so the rumor that there is a possibility of his early and voluntary retirement as the executive officer of the affiliated Harriman road. It is known that if Farrell acceded to the wishes of members of his immediate family he would retire at once and give up all public duties and return to the management of his great country estate near Renton, Wash., where he has developed one of the most famous fancy dairy farms in the Northwest.

Farrell is reputed to be worth more than $1,000,000 and this one farm is probably worth close to half that sum. He has always made it his pet hobby to develop the best live stock that skill, effort and money could produce. It has been his practice, whenever possible, to put in a day or so at frequent intervals in personal attention to the details of management of this estate.

At the same time Farrell is intensely interested in the railroad game and ranks among the most influential of western railroaders when he is called into counsel with the eastern transportation kings.

According to an intimate friend of his, the question with Farrell is merely whether he shall decide to accede to the importunities of his family or to continue to devote his best energies to the building up of the great and prosperous railroad plant now under his direction and supervision.

ASKS MILLION DOLLAR REFUND.

El Paso Mayor Demands Rebate for Policy-holders Because of Small Fire Losses.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mayor C. E. Kelly demanded today that the insurance companies in the State refund $1,000,000 in rebates on insurance premiums paid by El Paso policy-holders.

Mayor Kelly has just returned from a trip to Austin, where he was in consultation with the State Fire Marshal, who agreed with him that the companies, because of low fire losses in El Paso during the past three years, should pay back an even million to the policy-holders here in the form of rebates, according to the Texas fire insurance law.

El Paso being built entirely of brick has a record of small fire losses. It also enjoys a key rate of only 20 cents, which is the lowest in the State.

Storm Blocks Congress.

ried down in the crash. W. E. Hilton, vice-president of the real estate company; Thomas B. Fealey, a clerk, and an unidentified man who entered the building to rescue those caught in the wreck were taken from the debris dead. Half a dozen were taken to the hospitals seriously injured, and half a dozen more were treated for slight injuries. Tonight the police still were digging in the ruins for other bodies that they feared might be there.

The neatly kept lawns of the White House were devastated. Three huge elm trees, uprooted by the wind, were thrown bodily across the lawn and up to the very portico of the building, blocking the drives.

WILSON HAD TO MOVE.

President Wilson was seated in the executive offices when the wind crashed through several windows of the White House proper. Secretary Tumulty hurried the President and Representative Korbly of Indiana, with whom he was conferring, to a sheltered interior room.

The Capitol, set high above the city, caught the brunt of the wind, rain, hail and lighting. The Senate was in session when the hail swept down with a deafening roar, beating on the glass roof of the chamber. The tumult made further business impossible, and hurrying to the Vice-President's desk, Senator Kern megaphoned with his hand a motion to recess. The motion was put and although the Senators could hear nothing, the Senate quit work for fifteen minutes.

PAINTERS CAUGHT.

When the storm broke, thirty-five painters were at work on the dome of the Capitol, swarming over the curving surface or swinging high on shaky scaffolding. Most of these men got to shelter inside the big inverted bowl, but Jim Boyle, John Ford, Noble Bailey and Bruce Jones were too late. Bailey and Jones succeeded in scaling the dome in the wind and rain, and gained a sheltered ledge where they weathered the storm after trying in vain to get inside. Boyle and Ford were caught on a swinging scaffold just under the eaves of the dome and there they swung, buffeted by the wind, beaten by the hail and soaked by the rain, while the big flashes of blue lightning trickled around the dome, down from the platinum lightning points in the head of the Goddess of Freedom that surmounts the structure. When the storm was over, they crept, bruised, to safety inside the dome.

PANICS AVERTED.

In some of the office buildings and the government departments disastrous panics were narrowly averted. At the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, where hundreds of women are employed, the wind, sweeping through a huge window, sent a swarm of broken glass hurling through the big pressroom.

Eight or ten women were cut by falling glass, and one printer, John Rhodes, received severe scalp wounds. The crash of glass swept panic through the big room. A hundred or more of the girls working as printers' assistants, fainted and fell to the floor, and the others dashed terror-stricken for the exits.

While the excitement was at its height, the wind caught a bundle of 10,000 $1 bills, half finished, and swept it through the broken window. The bundle was ripped to pieces and the bills scattered far and wide. Director Ralph hurried out a force of scouts, and after combing Potomac Park and the grounds of the Washington monument for miles and fishing in the tidal basin nearby, all but $75 worth of the bills were recovered.

TELEPHONE GIRLS SAVE LIVES.

Warn Residents of Missouri Lowlands of Flood Caused by a Six-inch Fall of Rain.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WEST PLAINS (Mo.) July 30.—Girl telephone operators, who stood nobly by their work, saved the lives of residents of the lowlands here this afternoon by giving warning of a great cloudburst that broke over West Plains.

Six inches of rain fell in ninety minutes. It went roaring from the hills to the bottom lands, a mile away, and had the residents and workers below not been notified, many undoubtedly would have perished. As it was, no one was injured.

Eight Break Loose in Winnipeg and Wreck Houses and Half the Circus Tents.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WINNIPEG (Man.) July 30.—During a severe electrical storm here today a herd of eight elephants with a circus broke loose from their stakes, wrecked half of the circus tents, damaged a number of small buildings in the vicinity and caused a panic. Squads of police were summoned but refrained from action while trainers tried to subdue the animals.

SCORES KILLED BY HEAT RAYS.

Wells Fail in Middle West and Factories Close.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A sudden shift in the wind last night in five hours pulled the temperature from 99 to 79, and saved the city from a fearful broiling today. As it was, the breeze off the lake was faint, and did not benefit those living a half mile distant. Meanwhile babies in the congested districts are dying, for the last three days, at the rate of one each hour because of heat, improper food and bad sanitary conditions. Several special nurses were today assigned to work in these districts. In other portions of the city infant mortality has been less than a year ago.

Down State, the heat today was terrific. At Peoria, 109 was recorded, with one death and many prostrations. Corn is shriveling under the intense heat. The loss in Woodford, Peoria and Tazwell counties alone was today estimated at experts at $2,700,000, and every day without rain and cooler weather adds thousands to the deficit.

SEVEN DEAD IN HEAT.

Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Indiana and Ohio are sweltering under deadly heat. Akron, O., reports seven dead since Saturday, and deaths and prostrations are reported from cities and towns in Indiana, Iowa and Kansas.

WELLS ARE FAILING.

Wells are said to be failing generally over Illinois and in Kansas and Iowa. Pastures are in bad condition and continued drought and heat will make costly inroads upon the corn and late wheat crops of the northwest.

FACTORIES SHUT DOWN.

Many cities reported deaths caused by the heat, and prostrations were numbered by scores. Factories were closed down and street laborers were forced to flee from the sun's rays and the stifling winds. Galesburg and Pontiac reported record temperatures, one death resulting in the former city. The mercury touched 101 degrees at Rockford.

Three prostrations were reported at Indianapolis, where the mercury reached 106 degrees at noon. Six persons were prostrated and five babies died from the effects of the heat at Cleveland, O., while Cincinnati reported a temperature of 100 degrees, the record for the summer.

Zanesville, O., reported one death. Two deaths and many prostrations were reported at Louisville, and Milwaukee recorded one death and many prostrations. Ten deaths were recorded in Philadelphia.

One dead and twelve prostrations was the toll of the heat at Dubuque, Iowa, where work was practically suspended. Des Moines showed an official temperature of 100 deg. at noon, while Burlington showed 106 deg. at 2 o'clock.

HOTTEST TOWN IN COUNTRY.

Kansas, which suffered heavily from the heat Tuesday and this morning, reported that low flying clouds had obscured the sun, promising a storm. Leavenworth, Kan., reported a temperature of 107.

HEAT WAVE HITS ATLANTIC COAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—No promise of relief from the heat wave within the next twenty-four hours was held out tonight by the Weather Bureau experts. They said, however, that local thunderstorms probably would bring lower temperatures tomorrow in many of the suffering sections in the West, where the mercury climbed highest today.

The heat wave from the Middle West struck New York with full force today, establishing a new high temperature record for the summer with an official mercury reading of 94.6 in midafternoon. Four deaths and about a dozen prostrations in the metropolitan district were attributed to the heat.

At Boston, although the maximum temperature today was officially only 84, the abnormally high humidity caused much suffering and several heat prostrations were reported. An electrical shower accompanied by large hailstones and heavy gusts of wind swept across the city in the early afternoon.

The heat wave extended from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Coast, but the maximum temperatures were reported from points between Kansas and Ohio. In those and intervening States the mercury bounded well above 100. The Weather Bureau temperature, usually several degrees lower than the street-level temperature, from Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis and Davenport, Iowa, was 102.

Southern Illinois got the full blast of the heat. At Galesburg it was 106, and Peoria, 104. Burlington, Iowa, also reported a temperature of 106. Local showers relieved the heat in some places. While at Galesburg, Ill., no rain had fallen since July 9, Cairo, Ill., today enjoyed 2¼ inches of rain.

In Missouri, Illinois, Eastern Iowa and Southwestern Ohio the heat generally was about the 100 mark.

At Zanesville, O., Willard Twiggs, 70 years old, was overcome by heat today and died, making the second death from the heat in that city since 7 o'clock last night.

At Pontiac, Ill., the government thermometer showed 106 deg. in the shade at 4 o'clock this afternoon, the highest point recorded for five years.

At Galesburg, Ill., one death and several prostrations were reported.

At Dubuque, Iowa, Daniel Dickens, 85 years old, died from the heat today. Ten other men, two of whom are not expected to recover, were overcome.

At Cincinnati, O., all heat records were shattered when the mercury reached 101¼ deg., at 3 p.m. There were twenty-one prostrations reported at the hospitals.

At Columbus, O., one death and two prostrations were attributed to the intense heat.

At Minneapolis the government thermometer registered 93.5 deg. at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Five prostrations were recorded.

Espee Strike.

while we regret and endeavor to avoid any crisis in relations with our employees, we believe it is impossible to meet the demands made upon us with respect to these electric properties and at the same time operate them efficiently and safely in the public interest as a satisfactory public utility.

"As we have been officially notified that failure to meet these demands will bring a strike of our trainmen upon all lines west of El Paso, Tex., Ogden, Utah, and south of Portland, Or., we believe it to be a public duty that we invoke the national government in mediation of these difficulties in accordance with the Newlands Act, which became law on the 15th of this month. In thus invoking the authority of the nation we desire to avoid the evil consequence uniformly experienced from strikes, to the detriment of the railroad properties, of the public in their pursuit and properties and in distress to the men and their families."

THE NEWLANDS ACT.

The Newlands Act was signed by President Wilson and approved by him on the 15th of this month. It passed both houses with little debate, it being stated on the floor to be the result of a conference among the railroad brotherhoods and officers of the National Civic Federation, and railroad presidents. It is designed to remedy the objections on the part of employees' organizations to the Erdman Arbitration Act that the board was not far enough removed from partisan influence and that where ambiguity existed in the findings of the board, no authority existed to interpret the findings. It was hastened in passage to avert a threatened strike on eastern railroads and seems to have done so.

The board first endeavors to settle the controversy without formal arbitration. If that does not avail, formal arbitration is resorted to which, in this case, the Southern Pacific Company, through it president, formally offers the views of its employees' organization not yet having been made public.

The Southern Pacific Company yesterday sent to the Board of Mediation and Conciliation at Washington, a lengthy telegram which included corespondence between the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors and the company, at the same time sending copies to the officers of theorganization.

TELEGRAM ASKS MEDIATION.

The telegram reads:

"SAN FRANCISCO (Cal.)
July 30, 1913.

"The United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation, Washington, D. C.:

"The undersigned, Southern Pacific Company, by William Sproule, its president, hereunto duly authorized by resolution of the Executive Committee of said Southern Pacific Company, a certified copy of which resolution will be furnished your board, hereby applies to the United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation, created by the act of Congress approved July 15, 1913, No. 6, entitled 'An act providing for mediation and conciliation and arbitration in controversies between certain employers and their employees,' and invokes the services of said board for the purpose of bringing about an amicable adjustment of a controversy between said Southern Pacific Company and its employees who are members of the Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which said controversy concerns wages, hours of labor and conditions of employment of some or all of the members of said organizations who are employed by said Southern Pacific Company in railroad train operation and railroad train service, said controversy threatened to interrupt the business of said Southern Pacific Company to the serious detriment of the public interest. Said Southern Pacific Company is a common carrier railroad corporation and engaged in transportation of passengers and property wholly by railroad among States of the Union, and engaged in operating steam railroad trains in and among the States of Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, and electric railroad trains in the State of California and Oregon.

"The existing controversy more fully appears from the following letters, first, a letter under date of June 28, 1913, signed by E. E. Calvin, vice-president in charge of maintenance and operation of said Southern Pacific Company, Pacific System, addressed and in the words and figures as follows:

"Gentlemen: Confirming my statement to you yesterday as to proposed arrangement for operation of our Alameda county electric lines; also for operation of the lines of the Portland, Eugene and Eastern Railway under managements separate from the Pacific System Lines of the Southern Pacific Company:

"I am willing to cause to be issued a separate schedule in the case of each of these two properties, with your organizations, embodying therein the rates of pay and working conditions in the present schedule of the Pacific System, which apply to those lines. The method of handling any question that may arise in connection with such schedules to be as follows:

"Such questions to be taken up through the usual channels with the officers of these properties, respectively, to the ranking officer thereof. Failing in adjustment, it may be appealed to this office through such general chairman as your men on each property may select, such chairman to be an employee of the property upon which the question arose, or of the Southern Pacific Company Pacific System. The matter of seniority as to rights on the lines of the P.E. & E. other than in street car service, to be:

"All men employed at the time of transfer to the new management on the steam lines that are being converted to electric operation, those employed on the purchased lines of the Corvallis and Alsea Railroad, and those employed on the newly constructed line from Muroe to Eugene, will have rights according to the date of their employment, it being understood that in any event the men that were in the employ of the Corvallis and Alsea at the time of its purchase will be retained in capacities equaling those they occupied at that time. It also being understood that no men on the lines of the Portland division other than those that are being converted to electric operation, will, after the change is made have any rights on the line of the P.E. & E. Railway, nor will men on the P.E. & E. lines have any rights on Pacific System lines.

"On the Alameda county electric lines there will be no interchange of employment or rights with Pacific System men, this being the present arrangement. It is to be understood that the above is offered with the provision that it be accepted in its entirety, and that it is not to apply to street car service. As explained to you verbally, this arrangement is not intended to disturb any men who are employed upon the lines of either of these properties, but is necessary in order that the management of those lines may be in position to successfully operate them and compete for traffic.

"Yours truly, E. E. CALVIN.

"S. Veatch, General Chairman of The Order of Railway Conductors.

"E. A. Larrieau, General Chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen under date of July 8, 1913, and addressed to said E. E. Calvin as follows:

"'Mr. E. E. Calvin, Vice-president Southern Pacific Company, Passenger System, Flood building.

"'Dear Sir: Your communication of June 28 received, in which you outline proposed arrangement for operation of Alameda county electric lines, also for operation of The Lines of the Portland, Eugene and Eastern Railway, under managements separate from the Pacific System Lines of the Southern Pacific Company, and after carefully considering it in every detail we are authorized to advise you that there are several provisions contained in your decision that cannot be accepted. Therefore, your plan is not accepted in its entirety, but in an endeavor to reach an amiable settlement of these questions we are further authorized by the committee to submit the following as a tentative proposition:

"'We to accept your plan of operating the two electric properties as outlined in your letter of June 28, in so far as it affects the seniority of the men involved on each property and the interchange of rights. The properties to be operated under any plan of management that to the Southern Pacific may seem advisable provided, however, that the present schedule of rates of pay and working conditions for trainmen be continued in force and effect intact, and without any change in the method of handling grievances, except that local committees will be elected for the electric service, such local committees to deal with the electric officials as other local committees now deal with any other local officials of this company, and if the local committees for the electric divisions fail to reach a settlement of any questions in hand, such committees to have the right to appeal to the general committees for the Southern Pacific Company which they will remain a part of, and the General Committee or general chairman will be met and dealt with by the company in these cases in precisely the same manner as all other matters are handled, and further provided, that if the electric service is extended to such an extent that steam line crews are permanently supplanted, because of invasion of steam territory, or where steam lines are electrified and turned over to be operated by electric divisions, such men who are supplanted or turned over, (or other men, to the extent in number of those supplanted or turned over) will be given the right to bid in the electric service, carrying their seniority with them, but such men will be required to remain in electric service when they accept such transfer.

"'We suggest a conference with you on this subject at your earliest convenience.

"Third, a letter signed by said E. E. Calvin in answer to said letter of July 8, 1913, and under date of July 11, 1913, addressed to said T. A. Gregg, R. McIntire, S. Veatch and E. A. Larrieu, as follows:

"'Mr. S. Veatch, General Chairman O.R.C., No. 436 Pacific Bldg., San Francisco.

"'Dear Sir: Confirming my verbal statement to you this morning, would say that the changes proposed in yours of July 8 to the plan outlined in mine of June 28, would not work out satisfactorily, and cannot be accepted by us. A committee, such as the one I met in this matter, consisting of some fifty men from all parts of New Mexico, Arizona, California, Nevada, Utah and Oregon, would have no knowledge or appreciation of conditions on electric lines in Portland and vicinity, where we are to be in sharp competition with other lines and where the demands of the public as to the character of service required of us will be more than usually exacting. Neither could we consider for a moment agreeing in advance as to future electric lines. Each situation will have to be worked out upon its own merits. In the cases that have arisen, however, there can be no fault found with our treatment of them.

"'Yours truly, E. E. CALVIN.'

"Fourth: A letter under date of July 12, 1913, in answer to said letter of July 11, 1913, addressed to said E. E. Calvin, and signed by said Gregg, McIntyre, Veatch and Larrieu as follows:

"'E. E. Calvin, Vice-president Southern Pacific Company, Pacific System, Flood building, city.

"'Dear Sir: Your final decision under date July 11, received, and we are authorized to reply as follows: We regret that your final decision, which means that no settlement of the electric questions can be made by us with you, without a full and complete separation of the rights of the men and committee's as well as the issuance of separate schedules to cover these parts of the system which

Clark of Wyoming Accuses Wilson and McAdoo.

Says They Are Responsible for General Distrust.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Shaking a clenched fist at Republican Senators, Senator Stone charged during the tariff debate today that every Republican speech he had heard had been delivered with the deliberate attempt to create a panic.

The Missouri Senator spoke in reply to Senator McLean. He declared that it appeared to him that Republican Senators through their speeches were sending messages to the country with a design of creating fear and distrust.

Senator Clark of Wyoming challenged Mr. Stone's statement and asserted that if any distrust were being engendered, it was through statements by President Wilson, Secretary Redfield and Secretary McAdoo.

Senator Stone replied with a charge of a conspiracy among Republican Senators to create public distrust.

"Name the Senators," demanded Senator Clark.

"Every Republican I have heard speak," said Senator Stone. He finally named the Wyoming Senator himself.

"I have not delivered a speech," retorted Senator Clark.

Senator Stone read mercantile agency reports showing good business improvements. Senator Penrose declared that not a textile industry in Pennsylvania east of the Susquehanna River was running three days a week.

SCORES DEMOCRATS' PROMISES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Charging that Democratic leaders have broken their tariff promises made to the working people of New England before the last national election, Senator George P. McLean of Connecticut assailed the Underwood-Simmons bill in the Senate today.

Recounting the campaign in Connecticut directed particularly against Representative Ebenezer Hill of the Ways and Means Committee, Senator McLean quoted from speeches made by Majority Leader Underwood, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, Representative Reilly and Gov. Baldwin, whom he quoted as having assured the millworkers that the Democratic tariff would look after the differences in cost of production here and abroad.

"The protection Democrats have tried to compromise with the free trade Democrats and this, of course, is impossible," Senator McLean continued. "My complaint is that the Democratic party has broken its sacred promise to the people of Connecticut. This I have shown from the lips of those Democrats who alone had authority to do the promising. If adequate protection is found in any rate contained in this bill, it is there by accident only.

"This bill has been described as a glaring example of invisible government."

CHARGE LAND FRAUDS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 30.—A suit charging fraud and seeking the return to the State of Oregon of approximately 100,000 acres of timber and agricultural land held by the Southern Oregon Company in Coos and Curry counties, was filed in the Federal court here yesterday by eleven settlers who allege in their complaint that the terms of the Congressional land grant of 1849 were violated when the Southern Oregon Improvement Company secured title to the lands many years ago. Title was received, it is claimed, through numerous individuals who merely acted as agents for the latter company when they secured the land in 160-acre tracts, as homesteads as provided by the government when the land was granted to the State.

It is charged that the same individuals organized both the companies mentioned in the suit and Collis P. Huntington, Leland Stanford and Charles W. Crocker are named among the alleged organizers of the companies. An injunction against further cutting of timber on the land also is asked in the bill.

The charge of fraud is made in connection with the alleged logging of the tract to a Boston lumbering firm, and the subsequent sale, foreclosure, and transfer of the property to the Southern Oregon Company.

Gov. West, Atty.-Gen. Crawford and other State officials in Oregon are also are named as defendants in the suit, it being charged that the State of Oregon was negligent in its duty in not carrying out the terms of the grant, requiring the sale of the agricultural lands to actual settlers at $2.50 an acre.

Edwin Gould and William Cromwell Are Heaviest Claimants Against Former Copper King.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Four suits for sums aggregating $1,110,258 were filed in the Supreme Court today against Augustus Heinze. Judgment was asked for the amount named with interest from January 8, 1908. Two suits were brought by Edwin Gould, who asked $900,284 in one action and $28,974 in another. William Nelson Cromwell sued for $154,000, and Richard Canfield asked $15,972. It is understood that the actions are based on aid rendered by the plaintiffs to financial interests in which Heinze was interested at the time of the panic of 1907.

"Name the Senators," demanded Senator Clark.

"Every Republican I have heard speak," said Senator Stone. He finally named the Wyoming Senator himself.

"I have not delivered a speech," retorted Senator Clark.

Senator Stone read mercantile agency reports showing good business improvements. Senator Penrose declared that not a textile industry in Pennsylvania east of the Susquehanna River was running three days a week.

SCORES DEMOCRATS' PROMISES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Charging that Democratic leaders have broken their tariff promises made to the working people of New England before the last national election, Senator George P. McLean of Connecticut assailed the Underwood-Simmons bill in the Senate today.

Recounting the campaign in Connecticut directed particularly against Representative Ebeneser Hill of the Ways and Means Committee, Senator McLean quoted from speeches made by Majority Leader Underwood, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, Representative Reilly and Gov. A. E. Baldwin, whom he quoted as having assured the millworkers that the Democratic tariff would look after the differences in cost of production here and abroad.

"The protection Democrats have tried to compromise with the free trade Democrats and this, of course, is impossible," Senator McLean continued. "My complaint is that the Democratic party has broken its sacred promise to the people of Connecticut. This I have shown from the lips of those Democrats who alone had authority to do the promising. If adequate protection is found in any rate contained in this bill, it is there by accident only.

"This bill has been described as a glaring example of invisible audible government."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 30.—A suit charging fraud and seeking the return to the State of Oregon of approximately 100,000 acres of timber and agricultural land held by the Southern Oregon Company in Coos and Curry counties, was filed in the Federal court here yesterday by eleven settlers who allege in their complaint that the terms of the Congressional land grant of 1869 were violated when the Southern Oregon Improvement Company secured title to the lands many years ago. Title was received, it is claimed, through numerous individuals who merely acted as agents for the latter company when they secured the land in 160-acre tracts, as homesteads as provided by the government when the land was granted to the State.

It is charged that the same individuals organized both the companies mentioned in the suit and Collis P. Huntington, Leland Stanford and Charles W. Crocker are named among the alleged organizers of the companies. An injunction against further cutting of timber on the lands also is asked in the bill.

The charge of fraud is made in connection with the alleged mortgaging of the tract to a Boston banking firm, and the subsequent suit, foreclosure, and transfer of the property to the Southern Oregon Company. Gov. West, Attv.-Gen. Crawford and other State officials in Oregon also are named as defendants in the suit, it being charged that the State of Oregon was negligent in its duty in not carrying out the terms of the grant, requiring the sale of the agricultural lands to actual settlers for $2.50 an acre.

GEM ROBBERS BAFFLE POLICE.

Expert Crooks Match Wits With Rival Detectives.

Narragansett Pier Colony Reports More Thefts.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NARRAGANSETT PIER (R. I.) Aug. 2.—The best detective genius available is matching wits today with the expert crooks who took $225,000 worth of gems almost from under the noses of the owners in the summer colony here during the last week-end.

Rival detective agencies have been engaged by the victims, Mrs. C. C. Rumsey, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman, and Mrs. John H. Hanan, wife of a shoe manufacturer. Every pier on Narragansett Bay is being watched in the belief that the thieves disguised as "gentlemen" are sauntering about the fashionable hotels looking for an opportunity to leave town without exciting suspicion. Thus far not a clew has been found.

Mrs. Hanan's jewels, worth $150,000, were stolen from her room at Shore Acres Friday evening during a short absence of a maid. The gems lost by Mrs. Rumsey were removed from her sleeping-room while she was out Saturday evening.

It is believed that the old gang which profited so greatly here in the summer of 1911 is again at work and the police realize that if this is the case they are pitted against expert cunning. Attention is again turned toward the reported "fence" in Boston, long believed to be patronized by these thieves, but which has never been located. However, it is not expected that the members of the gang will attempt to dispose of their booty for the present.

THE HANAN ROBBERY.

Reports that the Hanans had been robbed were denied until today when Mrs. Hanan told the story of their loss. Mr. Hanan is seriously ill and has been kept in ignorance of the robbery. An unwillingness to disturb him influenced his wife to withhold the facts.

The articles stolen include a diamond necklace, a pearl necklace, two diamond encrusted watches, a set of star sapphires surrounded by diamonds, a pendant, a brooch and a pair of rare black diamond earrings surrounded by white diamonds.

A peculiar feature of the robbery was that some particularly valuable gems were left in the bureau drawer from which others had been removed. They could hardly have been overlooked and this suggests that the job was a hurried one.

Mrs. Hanan seldom wears the jewels and would not ordinarily have had them at Shore Acres. They had been brought over from New York at a time when she had expected to give her annual reception to Gov. and Mrs. Puthier. The illness of Mrs. Hanan made it necessary to cancel the function. The jewelry was taken from Mrs Hanan's boudoir a few moments after she had left the house to attend a reception. The loss was discovered within thirty minutes, but, although three detective agencies have been working on the case since Monday morning, no tangible clew has been found.

Mrs. Hanan said that the servants, of whom there are about twenty-five, had been eliminated in the investigation. With the exception of two butlers, who were engaged this year, all of those employed at Shore Acres have been with the family for years. The theory of motor-boat thieves also has been dismissed, as the shore of Block Island Sound, over which the house looks, is very rough and a small boat would have great difficulty in landing anywhere near the estate.

"I left the house on Friday evening for a church reception," said Mrs. Hanan, "leaving on my bureau several pieces of jewelry for my maid to put away, which she did. When I left the house the maid went to a spring not far from the house to bring some water to my room. When she returned, perhaps twenty minutes later, she found the bureau open and much of the jewelry gone. She notified me by telephone at the church and I immediately returned to the house. I at once telephoned to a detective at Providence and he arrived here Sunday morning. Five men are now working on the case. I do not suspect the servants."

RUMORS OF OTHER ROBBERIES.

It is believed that the same gang of expert thieves who operated successfully here two years ago are again at work. The secrecy maintained for a time regarding the two known losses has led also to reports of several other robberies, though the reports are vague and unconfirmed.

Some time ago, Mrs. Walter Ives of New York lost a pearl necklace said to be worth $2000, while visiting at the summer home here of Douglas Pearce, Jr., of Providence. The loss was not discovered immediately.

The Hanans are leaders in the summer colony. Shore Acres is regarded as the show place of the pier. Mrs. Hanan controls the casino and is financially interested in one of the leading hotels.

Among the many rumors current today was one that Mrs. Rumsey had lost a second necklace not before mentioned. This was said to be made of 216 pearls and valued at $40,000. The Rumseys declined to confirm or deny the story.

SUE HEINZE FOR MILLION.

Edwin Gould and William Nelson Cromwell Are Heaviest Claimants Against Former Copper King.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Four suits for sums aggregating $1,110,258 were filed in the Supreme Court today against F. Augustus Heinze. Judgment was asked for the amount named with interest from January 8, 1908. Two suits were brought by Edwin Gould, who asked $900,284 in one action and $39,996 in another. William Nelson Cromwell sued for $154,000, and Richard Young asked $15,972. It is understood that the actions are based on aid rendered by the plaintiffs to financial institutions in which Heinze was interested at the time of the panic of 1907.

is mentioned in the affidavits as one of the personal objects of a considerable display of the affection that manifested itself about the Yountville home for a period said to extend over the last two years. Miss Patton also is said to enjoy the distinction of being the dominant factor in the management of the institution.

Nurses, the affidavits intimate, who were not voluntary recipients of kisses, embraces and "hand holding" episodes were either discharged or asked to resign. In one or two instances, the affidavits set forth, that nurses were permitted to resign and offered letters of recommendation after their refusal to undergo the social obligations demanded in the institution.

Miss L. D. Noel, who served as a night nurse at the home for seven months furnishes some of the sensational charges made against those in authority at Yountville. She asserts in her affidavit that she was discharged after she had refused to resign because she told of some of the alleged indiscretions of Miss Patton. She says that Col. Burton promised her a recommendation if she resigned and then after she was discharged held up the letter of recommendation and wrote her saying that he would withhold it until he knew what attitude she would take toward certain officials of the home.

In another affidavit Miss S. L. Banchiero, a nurse who served in ward 2 from November, 1911 to April, 1913, said Dr. Crane came into her office and tried to kiss and fondle her.

She repulsed him forcefully by striking the physician in the abdomen she says, she also tells of Dr. McRae saying, "Yes, I have a kiss for you," when she asked him, "if he had one for her," referring to some pension checks that the physician held out in his hand while passing her door.

STEWARD'S AFFIDAVIT.

Night Steward Howard, who brought the affidavits to the Board of Control yesterday in a lengthy affidavit tells of Dr. Crane chasing a new nurse about the yard of the institution. When the physician finally caught up with the nurse they both fell, Howard says, and rolled in the grass.

Howard also tells of the regular periods that the physicians and the head nurse were absent from the home when their presence was necessary.

In one sensational charge he says Dr. Crane pronounced a patient dead and left him lying in the morgue, although the patient's heart beat was noticeable for more than an hour. When he told Dr. Crane of the patient's heart action, Howard says Dr. Crane replied:

"That's right, his heart is still beating, but he is as dead as he ever will be."

Howard says the patient's heart was still beating at 12:15 a.m., although he was ordered to take the body to the morgue about 10 o'clock and told to get the coroner.

Frequent notes between Miss Patton and Dr. Crane, which were delivered by him, Howard says, were written in order that the two interested parties might be able to tell the same story to Dr. McRae or others, when they went out together and returned too late to take part in operations or other work for which they were needed.

SAYS PATIENT LOST EYES.

Howard also tells of an operation performed on the eyes of Francisco, a patient. Francisco, he says, was unwilling that the operation be performed, but Dr. Crane went ahead. As a result of the inattention the patient's eyes became infected, Howard says, and he was made totally blind.

Howard also quotes Sam Axelrod of Napa, at one time an employee of the hospital, who says he saw a doctor and one of the nurses go into the Atlanta Hotel, Seventh and Mission streets, San Francisco, and afterward saw they had registered as "Sam Turner and wife."

Other evidence of Dr. Crane's alleged intrigues with nurses of the institution are cited by Howard in his affidavit. In many instances he refuses to name the nurses, but says he can supply the names if they are necessary.

Howard also charges that patients were sadly neglected by Drs. McRae and Crane. One instance is cited where Dr. Crane, it is said, went to sleep while giving Howard a medical order for a patient. He had to be awakened to finish the order, it is charged. The two physicians also are charged with slighting their daily round of calls, when patients were previously ill.

Milk served to patients is watered under Dr. McRae's direction, Howard charges, while the nurses are given more cream than they could even consume.

ALLEGES PERSECUTION.

Instances of the persecution of nurses unwilling to enter into the spirit of the life at Yountville are cited by Howard. He also tells of Miss Patton violating the unwritten law which forbids a nurse going to visit a staff physician at his quarters.

Tales of how Dr. McRae appropriated for his own use whisky, which the old-men inmates of the home had smuggled in, are related by both Howard and Miss Noel. Charges that Dr. McRae also gave a patient the key to his drug cabinet while he was away from the home, in order that the patient might supply himself with morphine, also are alleged by Howard.

Miss Noel says: "The conditions so far as the old soldiers are concerned are very poor. Girls cannot, even though they would, be of much service in an old man's home or hospital. They give a few glasses of medicine, keep track of the vacant beds and are obliged to spend most of the rest of their time doing fancy work, in conversation or trying to dodge the advances that are showered upon them by most of the males employed. If male nurses were used as they should be, the service would not only be bettered medicinally, but morally, and the financial saving could be spent to give our old and dying heroes better and quicker attention."

The Board of Control has requested more affidavits detailing other charges which Howard mentioned yesterday.

Howard also was told to file his affidavits with the Yountville board of managers.

STAND OF THE BOARD.

"The board is of the opinion, after reading the affidavits on file and hearing Howard's presentation of the charges, that the question is one which affects the internal affairs of the veterans' home and should first be taken up by the institutional board of managers," said Clyde L. Seavey, a member of the Board of Control, today.

Seavey continued: "If the board of managers is unable to handle the situation the Board of Control may then take some definite action."

Howard returned to Napa today and will file the affidavits and charges with the board of managers tomorrow.

BALK AT WOMEN TO CARRY MAIL.

POSTMASTERS DOUBT THAT THEY CAN LIFT SACKS.

Convention Now in Session in Denver Is Divided as to Whether Suffragists Should Be Allowed Positions in Departments Where Men Are Now Employed Exclusively.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To have, or not to have the woman postal clerk, is the question agitating the postmasters from all over the country now in convention at the Albany Hotel.

The world has instances without number of lady postmistresses and even lady city officials, but will time ever see the lady mail carrier, or the lady clerk in the postal division which requires the lifting of heavy mail sacks?

The male postmasters are divided on the question of woman in office. As to the particular matters, which come under their own supervision—that of the woman employees in the postal office, there is much contention. Many are in favor of limiting her to strictly stenographic work, and some say she has no place in a postoffice at all. The disgruntled ones have fearful visions of a future day when inhabitants of a city will wait patiently for their letters to be handed them, while the suffragette mail carrier sets her mail bag down on the doorstep and extracting a mirror from her reticule adjusts her back-hair, or straightens the bow at her neck.

They picture a time coming when the whole male postoffice shift will have to turn out to escort the lady clerk to her home if she goes off duty after 10 o'clock at night and they ask rather disdainfully if a sensible woman's costume will ever be invented in which the lady employee in the postoffice can lift a dirty mail sack and distribute dirty piles of mail in different compartments without ruining her clothes.

LOWEST IN FOURTEEN YEARS.

Illinois Central Drops Seven Points Because of 2 Per Cent. Cut in Dividends, But Increase Is Promised.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—The directors of the Illinois Central Railroad today declared a semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent. This is a reduction of 2 per cent. in the annual rate, which has been 7 per cent. since 1905. Illinois Central broke three points before the announcement of the dividend and immediately afterward declined four more to $107, the lowest price since 1899, when it sold at $105½.

Reasons for the reduction, according to a statement issued by the directors, were "the unusual conditions of the last two years, not only those affecting general business, but those bearing especially on this company."

The previous semi-annual payment was at the regular 7 per cent. rate so that the total dividend for the year amounts to 6 per cent.

"This has been fully earned," the directors' statement reads, "notwithstanding severe loss of traffic and increase in expenses due to January and April floods. Net earnings for May and June were very satisfactory and estimates for the first three weeks of July show substantial increases. Operating expenses are now reflecting improved conditions due to increased efficiency of new shop organization, and crop conditions throughout the territory served by the company's lines promise "increase in business."

The Illinois Central first began paying dividends in 1887 at the rate of 7 per cent. This was reduced in 1891 to 5 per cent., where it remained until 1900, when 5½ per cent. was paid. The rate was raised the next year to 6 per cent., which was continued until 1905, when the old 7 per cent. rate was restored.

ABDOMEN SKIN ON HIS HAND.

X-Ray Expert Recovering from Operation to Save Member After Fingers Were Amputated.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Wearing the skin of his own abdomen upon his right hand, Dr. Frederick H. Baetjer, one of the best-known X-ray experts of the country, is recovering from a remarkable operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital, performed to save Dr. Baetjer's hand after four fingers had been amputated because they were being eaten away by X-ray infection.

Stubs of amputated fingers were first scraped. Then a flap of skin was raised from the left side of the patient's abdomen and turned back. This skin was cut into the shape of a maimed hand just as a child cuts fingers out of paper. The injured hand was then bound tightly to the wound and the flap of skin fitted carefully over the finger tips. The whole was then bandaged.

The operation was performed three weeks ago and the hand now is being cut from the abdomen. A little will be cut each day until the hand is taken out of the abdomen. The healing process has been rapid and the task will be finished in a few days.

Dr. Baetjer plans to continue his X-ray work, notwithstanding his misfortune. He is one of America's pioneers in the X-ray field.

WILL WED ANGELENO.

Honor Winner at Iowa State University Will Marry D. G. Allen of This City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Announcement of the engagement of their daughter Margaret, an honor winner at the State University of Iowa commencement last June, to be married Monday night to Donald Gillett Allen of Los Angeles was made by Dr. and Mrs. George M. Zeidlitz of No. 5939 Clemens avenue. The marriage will culminate a courtship that begun four years ago when the couple met as freshmen at the State University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Immediately after the ceremony is performed at the Zeidlitz home by the Rev. F. W. Jones of University City, formerly of Clinton, Ia., the couple will depart for California. They will pass their honeymoon at a summer home on Alamitos Bay near Long Beach and after September will be at home with Mr. Allen's mother, Mrs. F. E. Allen of No. 1033 Gramercy Place, Los Angeles.

Allen arrived here today. He will enter the law business in Los Angeles.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, July 30.—All Japan joined today in a memorial service for the late Emperor Mutsuhito, who died a year ago. The young Emperor, Yoshito attended a service in the palace while thousands of citizens went to Aoyama, where a temporary chapel was erected on the open ground. The funeral of the late Emperor was held here last autumn.

The function comprised the offering of "sacred food" by ritualists, while a "shinto" orchestra played plaintive music. After an impressive plause, the chief ritualist, attired in ancient robes, prayed to the spirit of the dead monarch, and the Mayor of Tokio read an address. Theaters and all other forms of entertainment were suspended for the day. The period of national mourning ends tomorrow.

Great Britain Delays an Entire Year Before Informing Ambassador Page That It Will Not Participate in the Panama Celebration at San Francisco.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After delaying an answer for over a year, the British government has informed Walter H. Page, the American Ambassador to the Court of St. James, that Great Britain will not participate in the Panama Canal exposition of 1915. While it does not appear that any definite reason was assigned for this refusal, it is taken as Great Britain's way of intimating that she still resents the course of the United States in regard to tolls through the Panama Canal.

When the refusal was conveyed to Mr. Page, the representatives of foreign powers in London were informed of it, although no effort was made to organize a general boycott against the exposition. It is thought that the British government in thus avoiding the celebration incident to the opening of the canal is more anxious to show its resentment of the failure of the United States to arbitrate the tolls question than to insist upon the original claim for the low tolls.

Since the American commission went abroad to extend invitations to foreign countries to send exhibits to San Francisco in 1915, Great Britain has withheld her answer hoping that the United States would make some concession to her demands. But the failure of the Senate to ratify the convention renewing the general treaty on arbitration with Great Britain and the known fact that reluctance to arbitrate the tolls dispute was at the bottom of the Senate's delay, have discouraged the British government.

In the meantime, the treaty of arbitration has lapsed by limitation and there seems to be no prospect of its early renewal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The mystery of the disappearance nine years ago of William S. West, wealthy stock man of Denver, and Carbon county, Wyoming, in whose quest a fortune has been spent, and who was recently declared legally dead, by a jury in District Judge Perry's court, has been cleared. Prosperous and happy, but with his memory almost blank as to his past life and its events, he was found in Los Angeles last week by his daughter, Rosa A. Todd of Denver, through whose efforts to collect $2500 on his life from the Fraternal Union he was declared dead.

He has been in California three years and is said to have amassed another fortune.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MINNEAPOLIS, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A negro waiter in a hotel cafe here is confined to his bed today, weak from joy over the generosity of Charles G. Gates, son of the late John W. Gates. Gates's dinner check amounted to $100. He paid it from a $1000 bill, and slipping $900 into the negro's palm, said: "Here, boy, take this stuff; you can get more pleasure out of it than I can."

The negro collapsed, but kept a firm clutch on the bills.

LOS ANGELES AND SAN DIEGO ALSO WANT EX-CONVICT.

San Francisco Police Arrest Cleyg Rooming-House Burglar Who Confesses That He Has Cleaned Up Twenty Thousand Dollars in Various Parts of California.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the capture in Oakland today of George E. Francis, who confesses to nineteen burglaries in that city alone, and is wanted in a dozen of the largest cities in California, the police say they have apprehended the cleverest "rooming-house thief" in years.

It is believed that Francis has robbed at least 200 lodging-houses and hotels in various parts of this State since his release from San Quentin penitentiary a year ago.

Francis was arrested at First street and Broadway in Oakland by Inspectors Drew, Quigley and McCarthy as he was about to board a train. The watch of S. J. Logan of No. 6037 Telegraph avenue, his latest victim, was found on his person.

Nineteen lodging-house proprietors of Oakland appeared at police headquarters soon after the arrest. All identified Francis, who coolly admitted that he had robbed them all.

Francis is wanted by the police in San Francisco, San Diego, Vallejo, Stockton, Alameda, Berkeley, Sacramento, Los Angeles, San Jose and San Leandro.

The method used by Francis, a dignified and gentlemanly-appearing character, 55 years old, was to rent a room in some lodging-house where the guests were persons of a fair degree of prosperity. He would spend a week acquainting himself with the lodgers, their rooms and the amount of valuables in their possession.

Some evening the lodgers would come in and find that all their rooms had been rifled and that Francis had disappeared.

The burglar would then take a train to some other city. While pawning his loot there he would work his rooming-house game again, so he would have a fresh quantity of loot to dispose of in the next city.

In this way he was able for a long time to elude the police, but the last two months he settled on Oakland as his sole field of operations.

Francis says that his nineteen jobs in Oakland netted him $2000. He thinks he has cleaned up about $20,000 in various parts of California since his release from San Quentin.

Francis was arrested in Oakland on July 26, 1909, for five rooming-house jobs around the bay. He was sentenced to four years in San Quentin.

Refuse Any Recognition to Miners' Federation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CALUMET (Mich.) Aug. 1.—Gov. Ferris's proposal for a conference at Lansing between copper mine operators and strikers was formally presented to the operators at a meeting in Houghton today.

Gen. P. L. Abbey of the Michigan militia and Sheriff James Cruse of Houghton county, representing the State, and James MacNaughton and Frederick W. Denton, general managers of the Calumet and Hecla and Copper Range Consolidated companies respectively, represented the operators.

As had been predicted, the mine managers explained that under no circumstances would they take any action that even indirectly might be construed as recognition of the Western Federation of Miners; that the companies were willing to confer with their own employees, either individually or through committees, provided the men came to them as employees, and that under the circumstances they could not see the necessity of asking the men to send representatives all the way to the State capital.

DIRECTED FROM BOSTON.

The mine managers said they were acting under orders received from their boards of directors in Boston.

While the conference was in session the strike-bound properties were increasing their efforts to get started, surface and underground work.

A goodly proportion of the employees of the Calumet and Hecla Company returned to their jobs, pumps were started at the Osceola No. 2 Jacket shaft and the work of hoisting the other conglomerate shafts was continued.

These activities as well as similar work at other mines in the district were conducted under heavy guard of State troops.

STRIKERS SHOW TEMPER.

Many of the strikers have begun to show that the operations of the militia are trying their temper. The situation on the south range, where the Copper Range Consolidated interests are paramount, was reported especially threatening. The town of Ferry there have been made the targets of many threats and insults and as a consequence frequent shots were fired at shadows in the early hours of the morning.

Such occurrences were particularly numerous about the Isle Royale border-house, the soldiers taking no chances of allowing any one to get close enough to explode the bombs of dynamite and giant powder stored there.

RECALLS DIVORCE IN LOS ANGELES

ECHO OF AUTHOR'S ESCAPADE IN LONDON COURT.

Third of Series of Matrimonial Tangles Resulting from Ex-Secretary of British Embassy Meeting Woman Who Obtained Decree in California Is Settled.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The third of a series of divorces in the matrimonial tangle resulting from the relations of Mary Ames, the author, and at one time secretary to Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Embassy at Washington, and Mrs. Flora Northcott Wilson, author, lecturer and playwright, was reached today when a decree nisi was granted to Charles H. Wilson.

According to the evidence introduced in the suit, which was not defended, the Wilsons lived together eleven years and had one child. Mrs. Wilson left her husband in 1903. In 1910 she filed a petition for divorce on the ground of desertion and misconduct, which was dismissed. Ames had gone to America, obtained a divorce from his wife in Idaho, and married Mrs. Wilson, who was a Miss Decree in Los Angeles. Mrs. Ames brought suit for divorce in the courts here and she won a decree nisi in February, 1912. She told on the stand that her husband had married Mrs. Wilson and asked for his arrest on a charge of bigamy, on the ground that the divorce obtained by him in California was not valid in England.

Ames and Mrs. Wilson were tried in the High Court and each sentenced to imprisonment for six months in April, 1913, on the bigamy charge. Justice Coleridge remarking that the decrees of divorce obtained by them in California were not worth the paper on which they were written.

Ames and the woman he married, his wife were writers on sociological questions. Flora Northcott Wilson is author of "The Book of Divorce: Its Use and Abuse," and this is dedicated to Ames. Ames's works include "The Position of Woman and the Problem of Sex."

HERE'S RECORD GIANT TURTLE

Weighs Eight Hundred Pounds, Is Eight Hundred Years Old and From California.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One member was added today to the "zoo" family in the Central Park menagerie. The newcomer is a large leatherback turtle, said to be one of the largest in captivity. It weighs 846 pounds, measures five feet six inches from nose to tip of tail and three feet, six inches across the back.

Benjamin Katzenstein presented the turtle to the park department. He says it was caught in the Pacific Ocean off the California coast and is one of the deep sea species.

Katzenstein pointed out on the turtle's back squares on the turtle's back and said that each of the squares represented fifty years of life. This would make the turtle 800 years old.

STRIKERS VENT IRE ON TROOPS.

Soldiers Made Targets of Unionists' Insults.

Refuse Any Recognition to Miners' Federation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CALUMET (Mich.) Aug. 2.—Gov. Ferris's proposal for a conference at Lansing between copper mine operators and strikers was formally presented to the operators at a meeting in Houghton today.

Gen. P. L. Abbey of the Michigan militia and Sheriff James Cruse of Houghton county, represented the State, and James MacNaughton and Frederick W. Denton, general managers of the Calumet and Hecla and Copper Range Consolidated companies, respectively, represented the employers.

As had been predicted, the mine managers explained that under no circumstances would they take any action that even indirectly might be construed as recognition of the Western Federation of Miners; that the companies were willing to confer with their own employees, either individually or through committees, provided the men came to them as employees, and that under the circumstances they could not see the necessity of asking the men to send representatives all the way to the State capital.

DIRECTED FROM BOSTON.

The mine managers said they were acting under orders received from their boards of directors in Boston.

While the conference was in session the strike-bound managements were increasing their efforts to start surface and underground work.

A goodly proportion of the employees of the Calumet and Hecla Company returned to their tasks, pumps were started at the deep Red Jacket shaft and the work of draining the other conglomerate shafts was continued.

These activities as well as similar work at other mines in the district were conducted under heavy guards of State troops.

STRIKERS SHOW TEMPER.

Many of the strikers have begun to show that the operations of the militia are trying their tempers. The situation on the south range, where the Copper Range Consolidated interests are paramount, was reported especially threatening. The troops there have been made the targets of many threats and insults and as a consequence frequent shots were fired at shadows in the early hours today.

Such occurrences were particularly numerous about the Isle Royale powder-house, the soldiers taking no chances of allowing any one to get close enough to explode the tons of dynamite and giant powder stored there.

RECALLS DIVORCE IN LOS ANGELES.

Third of Series of Matrimonial Tangles Resulting from Ex-Secretary of British Embassy Marrying Woman Who Obtained Decree in California Is Settled.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The third of a series of divorces in the matrimonial tangle resulting from the relations of Hugo Ames, the author, and at one time secretary to Sir Julian Pauncefote at the British Embassy at Washington, and Mrs. Flora Northesk Wilson, author, lecturer and playwright, was reached today when a decree nisi was granted to Charles H. Wilson.

According to the evidence introduced in the suit, which was undefended, the Wilsons lived together for eleven years and had one child. Mrs. Wilson left her husband in 1908, and in 1910 she filed a petition for divorce on the ground of desertion and misconduct, which was dismissed. Ames had gone to America, obtained a divorce from his wife in Idaho, and married Mrs. Wilson, who won a decree in Los Angeles. Mrs. Ames brought suit for divorce in the court here and she won a decree nisi in February, 1912. She told on the stand that her husband had married Mrs. Wilson and asked for his arrest on a charge of bigamy, on the ground that the divorce obtained by him in California was not valid in England.

Ames and Mrs. Wilson were tried in the High Court and each sentenced to imprisonment for six months in April, 1912, on the bigamy charge, Justice Coleridge remarking that the decrees of divorce obtained by them in America were not worth the paper on which they were written.

Ames and the woman he regards as his wife were writers on sociological questions. Flora Northesk Wilson is author of "The Book of Divorce: Its Use and Abuse," and this is dedicated to Ames. Ames's works include "The Position of Woman and the Problem of Sex."

HERE'S RECORD GIANT TURTLE.

Weighs Eight Hundred Pounds, Is Eight Hundred Years Old, Comes From California.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One member was added today to the "zoo" family in the Central Park menagerie. The newcomer is a large leatherback turtle, said to be one of the largest in captivity. It weighs 866 pounds, measures five feet six inches from nose to the tip of tail and three feet, six inches across the back.

Benjamin Katzenstein presented the turtle to the park department. He says it was caught in the Pacific Ocean off the California coast, and is one of the deep sea species.

Katzenstein pointed out seven squares on the turtle's back and said that each of the squares represented fifty years of life. This would make the turtle 800 years old.

TO INTIMIDATE BANK OFFICERS.

Lewis Would Uphold Credit of Nation With Club.

At Same Time He Opposes Glass Currency Bill.

Effort to Empower McAdoo to Revoke Charters.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to punish banks engaging in what it calls a conspiracy to depreciate the value of government bonds for the purpose of influencing currency legislation was introduced in the Senate by Senator Lewis of Illinois.

The measure provides that the Secretary may withdraw government deposits from such banks and revoke their charters. The resolution was referred to the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency. Senator Lewis said that his action in this matter did not mean that he favors the currency bill in its present form. He disapproves of many of its provisions and opposes legislation at this session of Congress.

The preamble of the resolution reads in part:

"The Secretary of the Treasury has proclaimed to the public that certain banks, existing by virtue of the laws of the United States, and doing business by favor of the laws of the United States, and exercising privileges by favor of the people of the United States, have bonded themselves together in some form of arrangement and proceed in execution of such arrangement to intimidate Congress and terrorize the citizens of the United States through inciting fear of a panic and in pursuance of the scheme have falsely depressed securities of the United States and peddled the bonds of the United States government and placed them at a sacrifice before the world, all for the purpose of influencing legislation contrary to the popular will and to defy the President of the United States in his labor in behalf of the people, and have legislation along such lines as shall be profitable to the personal ends and purposes of such institutions; and that "such course and conduct, if true as charged, is an offense against patriotism and in violation of the duty of such institutions due to the citizens of America, to the prosperity of its people, and to the honor of the republic."

The resolution then proposes:

"That the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized, in all instances where he has evidence of such conduct on the part of any institution, corporation, association or person, in combination with each other, in conspiracy, or separate, to cite before him the representative of such institution or the agents or authorities of such institution or institutions, and after hearing if the said fact be established to his satisfaction, he shall have the right and the privilege to withdraw the government deposits of such institution, corporation or person, and make an order prohibiting the said institution, corporation, association or person from further receiving any privileges or favors of the Treasury or of the United States or of the public moneys of the people of the United States. Also, in cases and instances in his judgment justified, he shall have the right and privilege to make public order to withdraw the charter of the said institutions, wherever such charters are issued by or under the authority of the department of the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall have authority and privilege to issue any other order and carry the same into effect, depriving the said institutions of any right or privilege thereof or it enjoyed under the United States Treasury or the office of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States."

"Congress ought to adopt this resolution without reference to the views of members on the currency bill," said Senator Lewis. "I myself am not satisfied with the Owen-Glass measure. It is a sectional bill and so drawn that the East would have control of the supply of money. It provides the machinery whereby the East could get money from the West and src the large banks against the small ones. The West would be entirely dependent on the East for the money it need and would have no assurances that it could get sufficient money when it needed."

The Senator thinks Congress should trust the country on the bill and proceed to enact currency legislation at the winter session.

TO RECOGNIZE BANKS.

Administration Currency Bill Will Be Amended Again by Administration Forces.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The currency bill probably will be amended to create an advisory board composed of bankers to work in co-operation with the Federal reserve board.

Chairman Glass of the House Banking Committee so announced today. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States and many bankers have suggested such a means of reconciling the banks.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Appointment of Prof. Royal Meeker of Princeton as third member of the Board of Mediation and Conciliation, created under the Newlands law became a certainty today following a conference between President Wilson and Commissioner Chambers. Mr. Meeker has already been nominated for Commissioner of Labor Statistics.

SILVER PAYS THE BILLS.

Senator Lewis Wants Day Appointed to Honor Man Behind the Crecklight.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Senator Lawrence Lewis has come to the conclusion that the "old man" of the country has not received proper recognition from a grateful country although the nation has honored the individual members of the American family.

As a result he announced today his intention to introduce a bill setting aside July 29 as "fathers' day."

Already there is a "mothers' day" and a children's day."

"Why shouldn't we do something for the 'old man'" demanded the Senator with virtuous indignation. "He pays the bills and on cold winter mornings is forced to get up to light the fire. In summer they make him do the work of a horse in mowing the lawn beneath the blazing sun. His lot, altogether, is not exactly a happy one. He deserves recognition."

Senator Lewis intends to introduce a bill at this session but will not press it for consideration until the regular session in December. If prompt action is not taken on it, then he threatens to make a speech.

HANDS OFF PARCEL POST.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Upon assurance by Postmaster-General Burleson that he would not further change parcel post regulations until present rates can be more thoroughly tested, the Senate Postoffice Committee today indefinitely postponed action on Senator Bryan's resolution to annul the Postmaster-General's power to change rates and sizes of mailable parcel post packages.

The Hancock will be used to develop plans of the marine corps for an advance base station at Philadelphia which will insure her being kept in readiness for almost instant sailing with a full battalion and equipment.

GEN. BIXBY TO RETIRE.

FAVORS COL. RUSSELL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—At his own request Gen. William H. Bixby, chief of engineers of the United States army, will retire August 11 in favor of Col. William T. Russell, the senior colonel of the engineer corps. Gen. Bixby would not leave the active service on account of age until next December, two months after the date upon which Col. Russell must retire. Hence he asked for retirement before that date in order that his brother officer might reach the highest place in the engineer corps.

Washington Representative Asks Daniels to Give Him Full Statement of Losses.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Under a resolution introduced yesterday by Representative Bryan of Washington, Secretary Daniels is asked to furnish the House a detailed statement of the recent attacks on property of Industrial Workers of the World in Seattle by bluejackets of the Pacific fleet with the names of the enlisted men who participated and the record of any proceedings to investigate the affair. The Secretary also is asked to furnish a statement of losses with a view to granting reparation.

Mr. Bryan declared his object was to show that the attacks were not made by citizens of Washington, but men in the government service.

SEES STRANGERS SHADOW HER.

MRS. LILLIAN BECK FEARS SHE WILL BE KIDNAPED.

Woman Who Figures in Fifty Thousand-Dollar Alienation Suit at San Francisco Faints from Fright and Asks for Police Protection.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Lillian Beck, whose husband, Arthur A. Beck, is suing Philip K. Gordon, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad in California, for $50,000 for alleged alienation of his wife's affections, today appealed to the Oakland police for protection from men whom she suspects of trying to kidnap her until the damage suit is settled.

Mrs. Beck lives at No. 644 Fifty-third street, Oakland. She told the police that since last Saturday a cordon of men have shadowed her house, and that she has been afraid to leave the premises until today. She said that yesterday a man rang her doorbell and that when she answered he placed his foot inside the door and gruffly told her that she was wanted in San Francisco and that she would better accompany him without any delay.

She said that when she tried to close the door in his face he became so importunate that she nearly fainted with fright, and that he left only when she threatened to call for help. She says she suspects Gordon, who lives at No. 667 Vernon street, Oakland, of employing the men to kidnap her and keep her in durance until after the suit.

The police assured Mrs. Beck that she would receive protection and that they would endeavor to see that she was subjected to no further annoyance.

HU-KOW FORTS FALL TOO.

HANKOW (China) July 30.—Northern troops captured the Hu-Kow forts on Friday after a fierce bombardment from a gunboat at Oliphant's Island. The troops landed below the forts under cover of the bombardment and rushed the position at nightfall. The northern troops will now advance on Nanchang.

BULGARS DEFEAT GREEKS AND ISOLATE THE SERBS

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

SOFIA, July 30.—A semi-official report issued tonight says the Bulgarians have taken the offensive against the Greeks and made themselves masters of the upper Kregnalnitza River and of the plain of Lechovo, thus separating the Greek and Servian armies.

The report says also that the Bulgarians defeated the Greeks in the Mesta Valley, thereby completely clearing the Razlog plain of Greeks.

REALTY MEN FAVOR CITY FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WINNIPEG (Man.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Judd of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges refused today to allow the convention to openly express its feelings as to Los Angeles as the convention city for 1915.

This followed a stirring address made by the Los Angeles delegate, Phillip D. Wilson, in which he eloquently described advantages offered by his city for the convention and asked for an expression of opinion if not a definite vote, that they might have ample time in which to make preparation for a convention which should eclipse any convention yet held. He read letters and communications from officers of the Pacific Coast expositions for 1915 and indorsements from many real estate boards. He also read letters of invitation from the Mayor and other civic bodies.

President Judd said that it would be a breach of the rules of the organization to allow any expression to be recorded.

Mr. Collier of Seattle followed, protesting against the expression and reminding the convention that Seattle was also in the field. President Willoughby of the Chicago board took the floor and announced that Chicago was behind Los Angeles in its desire for the 1915 convention, and both himself and Wilson were wildly cheered. The feeling of the majority was evidently in favor of Los Angeles.

Phillip Wilson was afterward assured by hundreds present that he would receive their support at the next convention.

The Los Angeles booth today was the most conspicuous place in the convention hall. At the [illegible] moment 1000 bottles of [illegible] fornia wine were distributed, [illegible] pennants bearing the Los Angeles [illegible] come, at the time of Wilson's [illegible] dress were being waved all over the hall.

The commission's report was sent to the Senate today by President Wilson.

Recommendations to the commission were based on the advice of Daniel Chester French, sculptor, and Frederick Law Olmsted, landscape architect, who visited the Isthmus earlier this year as a committee on architectural plans for beautification of the waterway. The committee outlined an elaborate scheme for improving the natural scenic effects along the canal and proposed the erection of a monumental entrance for the Atlantic [illegible]

Missouri Artist Says He Signed Name of Grandfather, Now in Los Angeles to Eight Checks.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speed Atkinson, 22, member of a family well known in Pike county, Missouri, and a graduate of the Chicago Art Institute, confessed at police headquarters today that he forged the name of his grandfather, James J. Carstarphen, United States Surveyor of Customs, now at Los Angeles, to eight checks. The total amount of the checks, he said, he could not estimate, but he had realized $400 from them, while some of the others through whom he cashed them had realized a total, perhaps equally large.

He was arrested at midnight by detectives. He had two more checks in his pocket ready for cashing.

Reversal.

HERD BEATEN BY FREEMAN.

Newell and Rogers Divide the Honors.

Bacon and Young Show Lots of Class.

BY W. M. HENRY.

If the play in the Southern California tennis championships continues to improve each day at the same rate that it has during the past three days, by Saturday the Davis cup matches will be put completely in the shade for classy and exciting tennis.

Three-set matches were the rule rather than the exception and it was often the case that exciting matches were going on at the same time on all three courts and it was a hard job for the spectators to keep their minds on any one game.

Lewis R. Freeman, Pacific States singles champion in 1902, forgot that he is popularly supposed to have one foot in the grave and the other on a banana peel, and deliberately trimmed Cliff Herd, hope of the younger generation, in straight sets.

FREEMAN SAILS IN.

Freeman never stopped to figure that Herd is the best interscholastic player in the country, but sailed right into him and won 6-3, 6-3. Herd's speed was terrific at times and he made many brilliant shots, but Freeman was as steady as the Rock of Gibraltar and took advantage of the slightest misplay on the part of his opponent.

Before the match Herd had been a popular favorite to win with ease, as his great speed was counted on to give him the edge. To the surprise of all, Freeman laid way back against the backstop for Herd's service and the speed of the Exeter boy was of no avail. Today Freeman is to meet Lockwood, Herd's doubles partner, and some speedy tennis is expected.

Kenny Newell, who has been the surprise package of the tournament, and Emory Rogers, former State interscholastic champion, had a little struggle all to themselves, which, while not quite so surprising in result as the Freeman-Herd fracas was superior to it in the class of the tennis shown.

In the morning the two youngsters met in the third round of the open singles and Newell emerged the victor after a terrific match, 6-3, 4-6, 9-7.

THIRD SET THRILLS.

The third set was a thriller from start to finish. Newell got an early lead and soon ran up to 5-2. He then reached point-match and what does Rogers do but drive into the corner for an ace. The truth of the matter is that Newell had point-match on Rogers nine times before he finally ran out. Just to make matters interesting, Rogers had Newell point-match four times and came very near winning.

Along in the afternoon when the big crowd was present, the two young bantams took up their fight again, this time in the handicap singles, but inasmuch as both were playing from scratch it was practically a repetition of the first struggle, the difference lying in the fact that this time Rogers finished on top.

The first set went to Rogers after Newell had won the first four games. Rogers came back and won the next three and then the play see-sawed until Rogers finally won 8-6. Newell, who was not playing in quite the form that he displayed in the morning match, came back strong in the second set and won 7-5.

The last set was the most bitterly fought of the whole six played by the two. Rogers won the first two games, and Newell then evened matters. They were even at three all and four all. Then Rogers took Newell's service and his own and the match.

ROGERS SHOWS UP WELL.

Rogers played by far the best tennis that he has shown in Southern California. The feature of the play was his return of Newell's service. He stood well back of the base line and returned the terrific smashes with the greatest of ease in the second match. His driving was a picture, time after time drawing Newell over into a corner and passing him as he came to the net with a well-placed drive.

The ladies matches provided some very good tennis, but strange to say, the match which looks easiest in the score book was one of the hardest fought of the day. Mrs. Stickrod defeated Miss Helen McCall 6-0, 6-0, but practically all of the games were deuce games and Mrs. Stickrod was forced to extend herself to the limit to win.

In the ladies' handicap matches Miss Jessie Grieve and Miss Gladys Grainger put up a great fight, Miss Grieve finally winning, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3. Miss Grainger had a good-sized handicap and made good use of it and it looked for a while as though Miss Grieve would be eliminated, but she came back strong in the last two sets and finally won.

Mrs. Ellis disposed of Miss Joan McCall in one of the prettiest matches of the day by the score of 6-2, 6-3. Miss McCall put up a big scrap for every point, but Mrs. Ellis was just good enough to finish in front.

THE VETERANS ARE THERE.

Bill Bacon and Gerald Young, the inseparables, demonstrated that they will take considerable beating in the open doubles by the rather easy manner in which they disposed of the championship aspirations of Albers and Riddell of Hollywood. They played together in beautiful form

WHEN STREET CARS STOP SO MUST YOUR MOTOR CAR.

OWNERS and drivers of automobiles please take warning. The new ordinance regarding the stopping of motor cars ten feet from a street car from which passengers are either leaving or boarding goes into effect tomorrow. This ordinance will be strictly enforced outside the congested traffic district.

The attention of all chauffeurs and drivers is called to this ordinance. While the traffic officers are on duty, that is until 6:30 at night, the ordinance will not be invoked inside the congested district. At night, when the traffic squad is off duty the ordinance is in effect everywhere in the city.

This special legislation is drastic, but has been passed on favorably, not only by the automobile dealers, but by owners of machines who have worked with the traffic squad, and also by members of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Lieut. Butler, chief of the traffic squad, is trying to do all in his power to avoid accidents.

Remember to stop ten feet from a standing street car.

BENTON GETS NO SYMPATHY FOR HURT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, July 30.—President Herrmann of the Cincinnati baseball team said today that Rube Benton, who was seriously injured when his motorcycle collided with a street car, would not be allowed one penny of his salary and that the club would not stand any expense while he is at the hospital. Mr. Herrmann said that he repeatedly had requested Benton not to ride his cycle.

"The whole affair is an injustice to the club, Mr. Herrmann said. "The injury of Benton means that we will have to get a pitcher or two and just now good pitchers are hard to get."

FEW CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES.

KICKER CAN STAND ANY DISTANCE FROM RUSH LINE.

Most of the Alterations Are of a Technical Nature and Will Have but Little Effect on Style of Play. Player Can Be Returned to Field at Any Time in Fourth Period.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—The intercollegiate football rules as promulgated by the Football Rules Committee today show few changes in the gridiron code for the season of 1913. The majority of the alterations are technical and will have little effect upon the game.

The most important change is the rule which permits the kicker to stand at any distance from the line of scrimmage when kicking, instead of at least five yards behind the scrimmage line. Under the new regulations it is expected that quick kicking from directly behind the forwards will be a playing feature.

Walter Camp, in outlining the work of the Rules Committee, states:

"One alteration was brought about by the fact that a player could not be returned to the game after he had once been taken out, except at the beginning of a period. It often happened that an unexpected substitution was necessary in the fourth period, and there seemed to be no reason why an exception should not be made in this case, but the rules forbade it, hence they were altered this year to read:

"Player may be returned once at the beginning of any period, or at any time during the fourth or last period.

"The rules relating to a forward pass or a kick made from behind the goal line, together with the rule relating to dropping back linemen, also have been rendered clearer by changes in the wording.

Near Rally in Ninth Causes McCredie Worry.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

McCredie's Norsemen gave the drowning Angels another drink yesterday, and although a soul-stirring rally in the ninth caused the gloom-beset fans to nearly crack their rusty cheering pipes, the final count was 9 to 7. Did you ever see an earthworm try to swallow a whale and then die of acute strangulation? If not and you should wish to see a repetition of this phenomenon, take a ride out to Washington Park and see the Los Angeles baseball skeleton in action.

"Honest, Jen, these guys ain't got a chance with these second-story men from the North," said one lady fan yesterday, and she has the dope all to the mustard.

It is just like this, when the Ducks are not hitting one of Berry's pitchers to the four corners of creation, then one of the hands, supposed to be out there to stop and throw the ball, jumps in with his feet all crossed up and begins to mess the slate.

THE RIOT OF RUNS.

Woe and sudden disaster were doled out in big doses by the enemy, and there is grave doubt as to when Jack Ryan will recover from the operation he was forced to undergo in the second inning. Jack opened the engagement, and immediately put one foot in the grave, and one spasm later jumped in and pulled the edges in after him, although Dillon allowed him to stay and suffer while the Beavers plowed up the field, running riot around the bases. When these crafty baseball managers learn that the sooner they take out a slipping heaver the better it is for the game and the team, we will have better ball and closer scores. Even old Dad, the custodian of the grass, could not bear to watch the slaughter during the earlier periods of the game. "Them lads is sick, or something," is the way Dad put it. The trouble might be attributed to suspended mental respiration or a grinding of head bones, but it is going to prove fatal before long, unless some expert is called in with a drastic remedy.

THE PAINFUL STUFF.

Having delayed recording the painful panic, we must now face the music. Chadbourne opened by hitting to Ernie in the first inning, and that young man promptly butted into the error column. Then Ryan walked Doane and Rodgers, filling the bases. Lindsay lifted a short fly to Maggert and all hands were held on the bases, and the budding Trouble Bug was clipped when Kores hit into a double play. The Angels were smeared easily, then the black pall fell, and like the blight out of Egypt the Beavers descended, leaving ruin in their wake.

Speas picked out one of Ryan's slow ones and cracked a board in the left-field fence for a triple. With the Angel infield and outfield moving up in line for a play at the plate, "Ty" Lober poked one into right center. Wotell tore up a lot of nice sod reaching the spot, only to get crossed up and drop the ball, allowing Speas to score and giving Lober a breath at second base. Claude Berry smote one to Ryan, who tried to head Lober off at third, which was an absurd play, as Lober slid in safe and Berry got a Cincinnati base hit. Erve Higginbotham cracked a single to center, as another feature of his already cruel work in the box. This blow scored "Ty" and put Berry on second. Chadbourne bunted along the third-base boundary and all were safe when Goodwin failed to play the ball in the most approved manner.

DOANE TRIPLES.

Now, with the bases populated like a New York tenement district, along comes this agile six-foot string bean, Walter Doane, with a torrid triple to right center, scoring three more joy-killing runs. At this juncture Ryan hung out the distress signal and "Poll" Perritt was drafted from the wrecking crew.

This saloon-like pitcher was greeted by a triple from the active bat of Bill Rodgers, sending Doane over the rubber with the sixth run of the hand. Lindsay hit to Johnson, who threw Rodgers out at the plate, then Kores doubled up Lindsay at second, and the Seraphs limped off the field to the tune of the tolling bell in the press box.

However, this was not all, as the icing process was continued during the next three innings by the Portland destroyers.

MOORE GETS A CHAMP.

Speas came up first again in the third inning, as in the previous spell of ruin the Ducks had batted around, but was ashamed to hit it again, so fanned out. Lober offered one to Moore, who took the ball, but as he started to throw to Perritt, who was covering first, he must have been taken with a cramp, as the ball went easily ten feet over Poll's head, Lober going to second naturally. Berry flew out to Wotell, but Erve Higginbotham poked one at Ernie, which was thrown one and one-half miles wide of first, scoring Ty, with one run for this inning.

In the fourth Johnson bobbled Rodger's grounder, giving Bill an unearned life at the first corner. Lindsay singled to left, putting Rodgers on second, then Kores repeated the blow to center, scoring Rodgers, but Lindsay was corralled by Johnson, Perritt and Maggert, as he was trying to get too far on his merry way. Speas forced Kores at second.

Lober scored again in the fifth, a

Tom Jones Denies He Ever Drove Coal Wagon.

Jim Jeffries is willing to train Wolgast for his coming match if Ad will place himself entirely in his hands. Jeff said yesterday: "I believe I can get that little Dutchman in as good condition as he ever was in his life if he will do as I want him to do. I would take him to the mountains for a month or so and live out of doors, hunting, fishing and get a couple of good boxing partners for him and then bring him back for a couple of weeks good training, and I think he can win sure."

Ad Wolgast says he will bet that $250 Willie Ritchie will never fight him. Also that Willie is a poor champion, when he makes him wait two months before he will agree to fight at all.

"I fought more times than any lightweight that ever lived when I held that title and barred no one," said Ad. "Willie spent nearly a year on the road after he won from me and is now looking for something soft.

"There might be some lightweights that can beat me, but Ritchie is the one man that I am sure of beating if I can ever get him into the ring again."

Ad Wolgast had some queer ideas of a fighter before he got into the game himself. Yesterday he said, "The first fighter I ever heard of was Joe Gans, and from what I heard and read about him, I thought he had a head so small that it was like a peanut and no one could hit him. I also thought that Battling Nelson had horns growing out of the top of his head. Later when I got into the game I found out that many were human beings and not a bad lot at all. The first fight I ever heard of was between Al Kaufman and Jack O'Brien."

Tom Jones was asked yesterday if he ever drove a coal wagon and he immediately got a peeve on. "No," said Tom, "I never drove a coal wagon in my life, and before I got into the fighting game I was a school teacher for three years in Agusta and Huntsville, Ill. Mrs. Jones, now my wife, was a pupil of mine at that time. You must have got me mixed up with Billy Papke, who drove a coal wagon when I first met him."

Tom McCarey refused to hold the $25,000 side bet that Ad Wolgast and Willie Ritchie want to bet on their coming fight. McCarey says he will not hold the money and will not stage any fight with a side bet.

JOE NIKRENT IS INJURED IN RACE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) July 30.—Joseph Nikrent of Los Angeles, Cal., a contestant in the Galveston beach automobile races, was injured seriously late today when his car plunged through a wire fence and was wrecked. Nikrent's injuries consist of deep cuts inflicted when he came in contact with a wire fence and parts of his demolished car. He raced without a mechanician.

Louis A. Disbrow, driving a Simplex, won the feature event of the meet, a 300-mile sweepstake, run in three heats of 100 miles a day and finished today. His time for the 300 miles was 4:17:23.40.

Jack Lecain in a Stutz, was second and Endicott, driving a Case, was third. Mosely, in a Studebaker, was the only other of fifteen entrants to finish.

SAN DIEGO BEARS BEAT GATE CITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The San Diego and San Bernardino clubs of the water-logged class D league opened a seven-game series here today. San Diego won with ten runs scored on fifteen hits. San Bernardino chased in seven runs on nine hits and was charged with four errors. Both teams are playing on a percentage basis.

Sorensen, the local catcher, has taken the management of the San Diego team and says the seven games will be played if the gate receipts don't amount to carfare.

It was reported that today's gate receipts totaled $17.50, but Manager Householder of the San Bernardino club said after the game that he was sure the games would draw well the rest of the week and the players would make better wages than they did while playing on regular salaries.

HEAVIES WILL BATTLE.

VENICE, July 30.—Henry Cariese and Charles Carroll, heavies, will furnish the spotlight battle in the Friday night swat soiree at the Auditorium, said Harry Gilmore, Jr., the matchmaker, today. Then there will be Jack Clarke against Joe McGurn, two willing millers in the welterweight class, and three good lightweight and featherweight bouts, six or seven in all.

Last Friday night there was standing room only, due, it is thought, to the rumor that boxing was to be barred in Venice in the near future. Although there are petitions out asking the City Trustees to cancel the license of the fight club, Gilmore and Aldridge are not losing any sleep over the attempt to stop the game here, as petitions by friends of the boxing bouts are also going the rounds.

Machinery of Enormous Size or of the smallest dimensions can be purchased at very reasonable prices from the many companies who are represented in the "Machinery and Mechanical Arts" column of The Times "Liner" section.

Day After.

LEACH CROSS DENIES IT WAS A FRAME-UP.

Matty Baldwin,

Who has little or no money to show for his long fight career, now evidently closing.

EXCITEMENT emanated from the persons of Leach Cross and Matty Baldwin yesterday following the criticism of their Tuesday night fight.

"It hurts my feelings," said Leach. "They talk frame-up. Me in a frame-up! It wouldn't be business.

"Look at the facts. Matty Baldwin has fought nearly all the top notch lightweights in the world and he has beaten most of them. No one has ever put him down on the floor to take the count of even one. Young Shugrue got a newspaper decision over me and Matty beat the stuffing out of Shugrue. We fought twice before and both times he got a newspaper decision over me. Yet when I fight him and don't knock him out every one begins to bollar frame-up.

"I will admit it might have been an interesting fight after the seventh round, Baldwin saw that he was through and didn't try to fight. After that he only tried to stick out the twenty rounds.

"Matty is no green boy like Bud Anderson. He is a wise old ring general. When he makes up his mind to stall, I don't see how anybody could knock him out. He covers up and blocks everything. Yet that is when he is dangerous.

"I knew that Matty was saving up one last blow for me and that he would stake everything on that. I didn't want to run into it; so I stayed away and the fight became slower. I am naturally a cautious fighter. That's my fault. If I hadn't been cautious I would have been champion of the world or a preliminary fighter, I don't know which.

"Another thing that made me slow up was a blow I got in the stomach in the fourteenth round. It hurt at the time and it began to have an effect on me about two rounds afterward. That's when you begin to feel that kind of a blow.

"The fight meant a great deal to me and I didn't want to take any chances. I knew I had the fight won and I didn't see where I was going to gain anything by rushing in and taking chances.

Leach was asked if Referee Eyton did not warn him after the fifteenth round.

"Well to tell the truth he did," said Leach. "He came to my corner and said we were fighting like a pair of old washer women and said we must get busy and fight harder."

Leach added that the fight may not have been one to bring the fans to their chairs; but that it was not "fixed."

Matty Baldwin is going home to Boston, a broken hearted boy. After fighting for eleven years, he has nothing to show for all his work but a mortgage on his farm. He realizes that he has about come to the end of his string.

His manager, Eddie Murphy, is a rich coal man of Boston. He says that Matty and Matty's family will never want for anything, whether he wins any more fights or not.

Baldwin says that he couldn't get started against Cross on account of the climate.

and Young's net work was especially noticeable.

Today, as the ranks are being gradually thinned out, it will be possible to get a line on the probable finalists in the different events. The best players are the only ones now left in the running and it is expected that the matches will eclipse the great matches that featured yesterday's play.

LARRY CHENEY STOPS NEW YORK GIANTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 30.—Larry Cheney proved a stumbling block for New York today, when his almost invincible pitching, with gilt-edged support, checked the league leaders in their march toward the pennant. The score was 5 to 0 in favor of Chicago.

Big Jeff Tesreau was on the mound for the visitors and, although he pitched a creditable game, his support was very ragged and shaky in spots. The score:

SACRIFICES AND TWO-BAGGERS BEAT BROWNS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 30. — Two-base hits and sacrifices played a big part in the victory of Philadelphia over St. Louis, 2 to 1, today. Bush and Wellman were very effective and had excellent control.

A two-bagger by Schang, Bush's out and Oldring's single gave Philadelphia a run in the third inning, while Murphy's double, Barry's sacrifice and Schang's fly produced the winning tally in the fifth. Stovall scored in the sixth on his single and Pratt's triple. The score:

FISHER WINS FOR YANKS OVER SOX.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30. — Fisher bested Russell in a pitchers' battle today and New York shut out Chicago, 3 to 0. Russell, after holding the home club to one hit in the first six innings, weakened in the seventh and New York scored two runs. New York scored in the eighth on Midkiff's double, Sweeney's sacrifice and an error by Russell, who muffed an easy toss from Rath. The score:

SOLONS HARPOON VENICE TIGERS.

Velves Jump Into Second Place With Win.

Hap Says It Was All Luck and Bad Breaks.

Senators Are on Their Toes All the Time.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From Hap Hogan's dugout, the Venice Tigers were dead again today because all the breaks in the luck went against them. From Capt. Wolverton's viewpoint, the Sacramento Wolves won the second game of the series and climbed into second place because they were on their toes all the time with perfect batting support for their own pitcher and ready to take advantage of every opening that cropped out from the good support given Speck Harkness by the Tigers. Sacramento won, 3 to 1, and two of the local runs were the direct result of Venice errors.

For seven innings Venice went scoreless despite the fact that in four of the innings the first Tiger batter reached first in safety. Twice in seven innings the seasiders registered three hits to the frame and all went scoreless, fast double plays registered by Kenworthy, Young and Ernest, crushing out their flickering hopes of beating Honolulu Johnny Wilson. If there is luck in clean-cut, sure-death fielding that makes double plays possible in tight places, and if there is luck in having your opponents fall down and boot the ball around when they have the best opportunities to cut off runs by their fielding, then Sacramento won because the luck broke against Hap Hogan.

Just to eliminate Hap Hogan's biased views, it looks more as though the Velves had taken two straight from Venice because Capt. Wolverton's baseball machine is working far more smoothly than that of the southerners. For seven innings Johnny Williams was hit hard and often, but fast and sure support held the Tigers scoreless. In the eighth Johnny was touched hit hard and often and when three runs had chased over and a second batter showed signs of more trouble to come, Rube Kinsella was sent to the rescue and held the game safe.

In the first frame Young walked and was forced at second by Lewis. A sacrifice and singles by Moran and Van Buren sent Jimmy over the rubber with the first score. In the second Tennant singled, and Bliss dumped a bunt down the third-base line. Elliott let the ball roll in the hope of seeing it go foul. When it persisted in staying inside, Elliott snatched it up and threw to the bleachers in his haste to beat Bliss to first. Tennant scored from first for a second score, Bliss rounding to third, only to be thrown out at the plate a few minutes later when Young hit to Hosp.

The Wolves made their first run in the fifth when Lewis singled through Harkness and went to second when Moran singled through short. Van Buren and Kenworthy struck out, but Hallinan drove a hard one to Hosp, the ball taking a high hop just out of his reach. Hosp recovered the ball as Lewis tore around third, sliding over the plate safely when Hosp's throw went wild. The score:

PATHFINDERS COMING SOUTH.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The party of Indiana automobilists who made the cross-country tour from Indianapolis to the Pacific Coast with the purpose of locating the course of the proposed Lincoln National Highway, will leave tomorrow morning for Los Angeles. The pathfinders will stop in Del Monte tomorrow night and will complete the trip south by easy stages. They will return to Indiana by train.

UMPIRE BUSH IS SUSPENDED.

SET DOWN FOR ONE WEEK BY PRESIDENT BAUM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Umpire Garnett Bush has been suspended for one week for failure to obey instructions." Such was the announcement made tonight by President Allan T. Baum, as a result of his investigations of the riot that occurred at Sacramento on Saturday last in the Portland-Sacramento game, as a result of which Bush and Guthrie incurred the displeasure of the fans and had to be escorted from the field by police protection.

When Baum was asked the question pointblank, "What were the instructions that Bush failed to obey?" he responded that he didn't care to go into further explanations, but that it wouldn't be hard to guess them. From hints that have been dropped by the league executive, it is quite evident that he has considered Bush as entirely too aggressive, and that the umpire has been warned in the past not to go around with a chip on his shoulder looking for trouble.

As yet no one has been secured to take Bush's place during his involuntary vacation. And since this isn't his first offense the chances are that he has been warned for the last time.

Oaks Win.

MALARKEY SCORES GREAT VICTORY OVER SEALS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The victory of the Oaks today was as near a personal triumph for the veteran Malarkey as is possible for one man. It was chiefly his own doing that the Seals came no closer to scoring than settling on first base on five different occasions.

The Oaks, it appears, were active in spots and quite sufficiently to score their win. With Leard fanned in the first, Kaylor and Gardner singled in a row, but when Coy flied to center, a beautiful throw by Johnson to third base headed off Kaylor and completed a double out.

Fanning was landed on for the first run in the second inning. With Clemens down, Cook opened up the trouble with his two-sacker toward the clubhouse. Guest popped to Howard, but Mitze drove the ball over second to center and Cook came home. Malarkey likewise singled, but Leard fanned for the second time.

Fanning's wind-up came in the third. Kaylor flied to left field and Gardner hit the center field fence for two bases. Coy, who followed, dropped the ball over the center field fence. It was a home run on any man's lot and as both men trotted around Fanning walked toward the bench. Clemens and Cook were handled in nice shape by Decannler, but the damage had been done.

Two hits were registered off Decannler in the sixth inning, but there were two out at the time and Mitze failed to improve on the situation.

In the seventh, came the final runs. Malarkey was fanned and thrown out at first. Leard bunted toward third and was safe, going along to third when Kaylor banged one to the fence in right. Ness, who had replaced Gardner at first, walked, to fill the bases, and as Coy forced Ness by hitting to Downs, Leard scored. Corhan took the throw at second and tried for a double, but his wing wasn't working well and on the miscue, so Kaylor made the circuit.

Worried.

CHANCE GROWS PERTURBED OVER JOHNSON'S ACTIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Chance is slightly perturbed over the actions of B. B. Johnson in the Chase-Zeider-Borton trade. The leader of the Yankees made this known this afternoon when he corralled the Chicago scribes to give them the real facts in the case.

For one thing, Chance wants it understood that he never made a complaint about being "buncoed" in the deal. He is and always has been perfectly satisfied with the deal and says he would not give back Zeider for Chase for any consideration. What he did raise a kick about was the physical condition of Zeider and he asked Johnson to force the Chicago club to pay the hospital bills and salary of the former Sox player during his off period.

Chance now claims that Johnson never made known the real text of the complaint, but allowed the impression to prevail that he (Chance) had asked that the New York club be recompensed because of alleged misrepresentations. Chance thinks that Zeider will be of greater worth to the Yankees when he is back than Chase would have been had he remained here.

Zeider is now in a hospital in St. Louis, where he was taken two weeks ago to have a decayed bone taken from his foot. Chance thinks he will be able to play within the next ten days.

Los Angeles-Portland.

THINGS "PERK" UP A BIT.

Now we must tell how things began to "perk" up for the crew that draws its' money from Uncle Hank. In the sixth chapter, Chadbourne robbed Wotell of a three-bagger in left-center by a great running catch. Charlie Moore singled to left and Harl Maggert captured his straying goat long enough to wallop out a four-cushion drive to left-center. Howard beat out an infield hit, but there was nothing more in the way of runs.

The seventh was barren. In the eighth Moore again singled to left, but was forced at second by Maggert. Ivan Howard nearly caused an epidemic of fainting spells, by tripling to right scoring Moore.

It was in the ninth that Judge McCredie thanked the lucky star of his horoscope for that lead of nine runs early in the game. Brynes, who had replaced Arbogast in the sixth, was out on a boost to Chadbourne. Krueger was put in to hit for Perritt, and drove one to Kores, who kicked it to death, Ellis batting for Page, drew a walk, then Wotell tripled to center, scoring Ellis and Krueger, amid wild acclaim. At this point McCredie called out the derrick crew as a spur to Hig, who was beginning to get worried.

MAGGERT HOMES AGAIN.

Before Wotell had fairly gained his spent breath, Harl Maggert insulted the right centerfield fence with a terrible blow that was good enough for four bases. This made four runs in all and only two shy with a brace out. Howard gave Kores another chance to make an error, which he did like a good little fellow and there was another wild demonstration, but Johnson sprinkled the parade by grounding out to Speas.

Thus endeth the reading of the second lesson.

COOPER TURNS FASTEST LAP.

Death of Stearns Prevents Pope-Hartford Entry.

Bramlette on Apperson, Looks Like Strong Contender.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

Earl Cooper, on the Stutz, turned the fastest lap in this year's practice on the Santa Monica course yesterday morning, when he sent the flying racer around the eight miles in 6m. 56s. The fight between Cooper and Tetzlaff should be the thriller of the race. The cars are particularly fast and will be sent into the race for a world record.

The course is faster than ever before. This was shown yesterday when the Stutz ripped its way up Nevada avenue. The crowd out to watch the racers was a reminder of former years when the public gathered to watch the tryouts of David Bruce Brown and others.

With Cooper and Tetzlaff as the stars of the meet, the race promises to have enough thrills to make every autoist willing to drive to the beach to watch the cars fight for a purse that is worth having. The Dick Ferris trophy has been offered for the big event and the Chanslor & Lyon and Bullock trophies will also be hung up for the fastest time in the smaller classes.

Teddy Tetzlaff in the Fiat "Seventy" with George Hill, drove the eight and a fraction miles of the course in 6m. 55s. This is world-record time and if maintained for the 445 miles of the race, should make the contest one of the best ever held. At times Tetzlaff struck an eighty-mile-an-hour pace on the Nevada avenue straightaway.

With the fast Stutz under him, Cooper proved one of the thrillers of the early morning practice. He sent the car at terrific speed around the turn at the Soldiers' Home. Cooper is proving one of the fearless drivers of the race and will undoubtedly give Tetzlaff a run for the money when the motors are sent away a week from Saturday.

In spite of the fact that it was rumored that a Kissel Kar would be entered, the death of E. Roger Stearns makes that entry an impossibility. The racer is fast, but it will remain one of the sad reminders of the death of a man who was once one of the best road race pilots known to the industry, but who had given up all motor racing.

Before his death Stearns stated emphatically that he would never enter a road race or speed contest of any kind, and in fact he had signed a statement to that effect. He would possibly have been one of the officials at Santa Monica, but certainly would not have figured in any of the speed events.

Had it not been for the death of this automobile dealer, The Times would this morning have announced the entry of a car that has figured in some of the fastest brushes ever held on the world record course. The name of one of our greatest racing drivers would have been coupled with this car. All plans were completed.

Bert Dingley, on a Pope-Hartford, would have been entered today, but out of sympathy for E. Roger Stearns, a man whom Dingley greatly admired, the Pope-Hartford man will not figure in the race, and will instead honor Stearns, who once was a factor in the desert race to Phoenix when he held the lead to Yuma and was a contender to the finish line.

Bill Bramlette, on the Apperson, is one of the drivers who is counted on to figure for place. Bramlette turned several fast laps yesterday and his car is said to be good for eighty miles an hour. Bramlette has the nerve and the experience. It would be interesting to see an Apperson returned a second time winner of the Santa Monica Road Race.

BIG WRESTLING MATCHES ON TONIGHT AT L. A. A. C.

SIXTEEN of the best amateur wrestlers will grapple tonight in the giant gymnasium of the Los Angeles Athletic Club for the handsome trophies which will be contested for in the eight special matches staged by the wrestling committee of the club, and of which George Retzer is chairman.

Ladies, as well as the rest of the general public, will be admitted, and the advance sale of seats, which has already broken the record set at the recent boxing tourney, indicates that the wrestlers will clinch in front of the largest house which has ever witnessed amateur matches in this city.

Interest centers on the galaxy of San Diego boys who have entered. Investigation has brought to light the fact that they are among the best boys on the coast, and they are coming here in a concentrated effort to carry the cups and glory to the Southland.

Chief among the southerners is Herbert Duncan, who, when has was a member of the Olympic Club in San Francisco, not only took the Coast championship in his own class, but captured the middle and light heavyweight laurels as well.

Duncan has grown since then and will go onto the mat at 145 pounds. Opposed to him will be the L.A.A.C. star whom Dan McLeod is grooming for the next championship meet, E. J. Blanton. This contest is sure to be a corker, for both boys in skill and dependence are of professional caliber to which is added the stimulus which always accompanies amateur competition.

Another splendid match should be that between George Retzer, L.A.A.C. star and Coast champion, and Ray Woodbury of Pasadena A.C. Both lads tip the beam at 130 pounds, are as clever as can be, and quicker than lightning.

J. J. Heumerick, who will be a title contender for L.A.A.C. in the next Coast championship tourney, has been matched against one of the San Diego boys. He is A. Hayes, reputed to be a mat wonder. If he wins tonight at L.A.A.C., then Heumerick's chance at the title is as good as gone. They will meet at 130 and 135 pounds, respectively.

In fact, all the matches should be of championship caliber, for the trophies for each event are tempting and the boys are eager to make a showing which will add to their future rating.

Time for the first match will be called promptly at 8 o'clock and seats will be on sale at L.A.A.C. building, Seventh and Olive streets.

Here is the complete programme:

J. McDonald, I.O.F., 130 pounds, meets Guy Sopp, L.A.A.C., 130 pounds.

Ray Woodbury, Pasadena A.C., 130 pounds, meets George W. Retzer, L. A.A.C., 130 pounds.

F. J. Streifketk, L.A.A.C., 130 pounds, meets R. A. King, Y.M.C.A., 130 pounds.

A. Hayes, San Diego, 135 pounds, meets J. Heumerick, L.A.A.C., 130 pounds.

H. Duncan, San Diego, 145 pounds, meets E. J. Blanton, L.A.A. C., 145 pounds.

C. P. Shaw, San Diego, 158 pounds, meets B. Tagart, Pasadena A.C., 160 pounds.

C. Conners, Pasadena A.C., 172 pounds, meets E. Welch, L.A.A.C., 170 pounds.

WORLD FAMOUS PLAYERS GET ACTION AT PORTOLA.

Harry Vardon, Five Time Open World's Champion, and Edward Ray, Present Holder of the Title. Both Are Pastmasters of the Game.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The two greatest golfers in the world will be the stars of the big golf tournament which is being arranged as one feature of the athletic carnival of the Portola Festival, October 22 to 25 next. The Portola athletic committee today announced that Harry Vardon and Edward Ray would appear on San Francisco links in the fall. Arrangements for securing their participation are practically completed.

Vardon is five times open champion of the world, the acknowledged top-notcher, and the player with the most perfect form. He has written several books which are standards on golf, and he is credited with doing more to improve the game than any other man in the world.

Ray won the world's open championship for the first time last year, and at the recent 1913 tournament at Ridgelake finished second. He is the longest driver in the world, and for many years has been in the championship class.

In 1912, Ray won the English open championship at Muirhead, with 295 for 72 holes, Vardon finishing second with 299. Two months later Ray finished second in the German open championship, with 34 in a 9 hole play-off, after a tie at 279 for 72 holes, the winner being J. H. Taylor, 278. A year ago Vardon finished second in the French open championship at Versailles, with 290 for 72 holes, the winner, Jean Gassiat, making it in 289.

Interest among the San Francisco golfers is centering on a proposed match between these world famous players and two of the best known American professional golfers. It is proposed to pit the Englishmen against McDonald Smith of Del Monte, open champion for the western United States; and John Black of Claremont, celebrated in California professional circles. Smith tied for the national championship three years ago.

The golf programme for the Portola includes three days' play at Ingleside. Besides appearing on the San Francisco Golf and Country Club links, it is planned to have the visitors play one day each on the links of the Claremont, Burlingame and Presidio clubs.

No development in California golfing has aroused such enthusiasm in years as this plan to increase the attractions of California's big fall celebration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific Ocean by Balboa.

BALL PLAYERS TO TAKE UP TY COBB'S CASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—The unsuccessful attempt of Ty Cobb to have a spectator removed from the stands at Philadelphia on Tuesday during the Detroit-Athletics game is to be made the subject of an investigation by the Baseball Players' Fraternity. According to Cobb, the spectator addressed objectionable language to him. Mindful of the trouble he caused in this city a year ago, when he attempted to physically rebuke a like offender, Cobb called upon the umpire to eject the objectionable person. This method was suggested by the National Commission, according to President Fultz of the fraternity. Evidently it did not work satisfactorily in the Philadelphia test, for Fultz stated today, in discussing the affair:

"According to reports from Philadelphia, Cobb attempted to follow out the plan laid down by the National Commission and appealed to the umpire to eject a spectator who had insulted him, but he was jeered out of the game by the crowd.

"The fact that the spectator was allowed to remain in the stand proves that the method adopted by organized baseball for handling this evil is grossly inadequate.

"A player should not be made to stultify himself in this manner. The magnates should make a sincere effort to put an end to this long-standing evil.

"The Players' Fralernity has repeatedly made suggestions which, if adopted, would prove of much benefit, but the National Commission has so far disregarded them."

OLD YANKEES MAY COMPETE.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—Officials of the Amateur Athletic Union have received an invitation from the Stockholm Athletic Club of Sweden to enter an American team of athletes in the "old boys'" games to be held at Stockholm early in September. A minimum age limit has been set on competitors of 35 years, with the exception of football players, who will be allowed to enter if they are 30 years old or older.

The events on the programme include a wide variety of contests and competition is open to all amateur athletes the world over, who are eligible under the age regulations. Officials of the A.A.U., however, think there is little likelihood of America being represented.

Griffin Wins.

crossed his opponent easily. Shelton was at his best in the back court and his backhand drive, his best stroke, was used effectively in the early stages of the match. Shelton's tendency to double fault rendered his service ineffective in the second set.

Griffin won the first set from Shelton 6-2. The Californian's superb all-around game made him an easy winner. The Texas man made a pretty rally with the score 5 to 1 against him and took the seventh game, but lost the last game on a double fault. Shelton took the first two games of the second set by clever back court work, but Griffin took the next set, 6-3, giving him the match.

Griffin's great placing won the second game. Shelton was unable to cover ground enough to play the speedy, accurate shots which the San Francisican sent over the net.

The feature match today was between Byford and "Chick" Benton of Cleveland, which the local man won, 6-2, 0-6, 6-0.

Joseph Armstrong of Minneapolis found no difficulty in defeating Morris Johnston of Onwentsia, 6-1, 6-1, and Walter Hayes of Chicago won a hard fought game from J. J. Forstall of Chicago, 6-1, 7-5. W. C. Burton of Minneapolis previously had defaulted to Forstall with the score standing 6-2, 10-12.

Armstrong will meet Hayes tomorrow and John Adams of Minneapolis will play the winner of the match between J. H. Winston of Chicago and William Blair of Lake Geneva.

Among the women, the favorites, Miss Gwendolin Rees of Minneapolis and Miss Carrie Neely of Chicago, won their matches easily. The former won from Miss Barbara Thompson of Chicago, 6-3, 6-2, and Miss Neeley defeated Miss Mary Prindiville of Chicago, 6-0, 6-2. Paired, Miss Rees and Miss Neeley won in the doubles from Misses Brown and Bruce, Chicago, 6-1, 6-2.

It became known tonight that Miss Mary Browne of Los Angeles, national woman's champion, and Mrs. M. R. Williams of Philadelphia, who was to have been her partner in the woman's doubles, here, had left for the East owing to a misunderstanding about accommodations offered them at the Onwentsia Club, where the tournament is being held. Each was entered in the singles as well as in the doubles, and their matches were accordingly defaulted.

Miss Browne was to have met Miss Julia Forrest in the singles, but did not appear when the match was called, and Mrs. Williams defaulted to Miss Geneva King.

In the first round of the doubles Miss Browne and Mrs. Williams defaulted to Miss Cummings and Miss Carry of Chicago.

Grand Circuit.

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN FOR AVERAGE SPEED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) July 30.—The largest audience that ever assembled at a race course here saw a world's record for average speed broken in today's programme of Grand Circuit racing.

Of the fifteen heats paced or trotted, the slowest was the 2:09¼ by Strathstorm. The speediest was Stetbrino Lad's 2:04¼, in the third heat of the 2:07 pace. The average time for fifteen heats was 2:06 9-15. Every race was featured by split heats and torrid finishes.

The Furniture Manufacturers' $10,000 stake for 2:12 trotters, feature event of the meet, started with Tommy Horn ruling a strong favorite. The Indiana horse showed justification for this confidence only in the first heat, which he won with ease.

In the second heat a rush by Tenara landed the Madden entry a winner and brought the time down to 2:05¾, which constituted a race record for a trotter at Comstock track. This record endured only until the next heat in the 2:08 trot, when the Texas mare, Cheney, clipped the mark, putting it at 2:04¾. This last figure also is the fastest mile trotted by a mare on any track this season.

Tenara, despite her evident lameness, outgamed and outstepped the field in the third and fourth heats, thereby gaining the long end of the heavy purse.

Cheney, favorite in the 2:08 trot, fulfilled expectations after dropping the first heat to Marigold, hard driven by Murphy.

The 2:17 pace offered the unusual spectacle of horses in this slow class stepping the course as speedily as those in the ten second faster division. Mack Thistle in the first heat won handily in 2:05¾. He repeated in the second in a full second faster time. The unexpected happened in the third heat, when Strathstorm nosed out Mack Thistle. Then just at dusk the performance was repeated and the race was declared over until Thursday.

Eulabelle, winner of the Tavern stake at Cleveland a few weeks ago, and who gave Uncle Biff such a battle in the Grapd Rapids railway stake Tuesday, died in her stall this afternoon of indigestion. She was owned by J. J. Mooney of Toledo, O. She was 5 years old.

DARK HORSE IN REDONDO MEET.

YALE SWIMMER ENTERS THE BIG TOURNAMENT.

Many Dark Horses Are Entered in the Various Events and Dolly Mings Is to Have Some Competition in the Ladies' Races—Very Large Entry List.

A new factor has been thrust into the reckoning for the Southern California swimming championships which are to be held at Redondo Beach Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

J. E. McPhee, a member of the Yale team, which won the national intercollegiate swimming championships this year and who is staying at Long Beach for the summer, has sent in his entry blank for the meet.

McPhee has not given out his records for the different events in which he is to compete, but it is certain that he will have to be considered in doping out the possible winners, as the marks made in the eastern intercollegiate championships this year, were exceptionally good.

Lincoln Johnson, the one-legged wonder, who has won the Kinsey challenge cup for the 440-yard dash the last two times and who is to fight it out with Ludy Langer for permanent possession on Friday night, is training hard every day and has hopes of repeating his sensational win of last year.

A dark horse factor upon whom nobody has been figuring is Murray Benton, the youngster who was down here last year and took second in the 220-yard dash to Ernie Smith in very fast time. Benton has improved considerably since his last appearance here and is liable to slip something over on Langer and Johnson while nobody is looking.

Benton swam in the 440 in the big meet at San Francisco last month and created a big sensation by running Langer very close for second place to Duke Kahanamoku and beating Lincoln Johnson, who had been picked as a probable winner.

Since that time Johnson has been to the hills to get his strength back and is said to have recovered his old-time form. Langer is known to be much faster than last year and Benton has improved out of sight. When these three young men get together in the 440 and 880, there is going to be some real live action on tap.

The entire Redondo team of Cliff Bowes, Langer, Sid Williams, Ray Henderson, Dolly Mings, Clyde Kegeris and all the little shrimps, have been training very hard under George Fréeth for the meet and the beach city hopes to get away with the largest number of points.

Bill O'Malley of Ocean Park has come back into the form which made him famous all over the Coast and with Nixon and Smith not in the running there is every chance of his grabbing first in both of the sprint races.

Another feature of the meet which may cause some big surprises is the large number of entries in the ladies' races. Wally Robb has discovered a bunch of dark horses who are anxious to deprive Dolly Mings of her hard-won laurels. Whether or not they will be able to do it is a matter open to question until the races are over.

The entry list is by far the largest that has ever been seen in a local meet. Robb figures that the meet will be the best contested of all the local meets also, owing to the evenly matched bunch of swimmers in each of the different events.

A. L. Dennis, being duly sworn, deposes that he is and has been for twelve years last past Superintendent of Circulation of the Los Angeles Times; that the foregoing statement of circulation for the month of June, 1913, is correct, and shows the number of copies of the Daily and Sunday issues of the Times printed each day of said month.

A. L. DENNIS,
Superintendent of Circulation of the Times.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of June, 1913.

[Seal] T. L. CHAPIN,
Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of permitting agents, newsboys and dealers to return unsold copies of its issues. The Times does it unbranded or predate its circulation to inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to meet its patronage.

The Times' entire circulation is prepaid, and it is more genuine and reliable in every respect to that of any other newspaper in Southern California.

COUNTRY CLUB TO BE BUILT AT MONTROSE

Developers of New Mountain Sub-division Announce Elaborate Plans for Near Future.

The Holmes-Walton Company, owners and developers of Montrose, the mountain residential subdivision that has established such a remarkable building record within the past few months, announce elaborate plans for the near future.

Within a few months Montrose will have a country club, which for uniqueness of architectural detail and furnishings and for general picturesqueness, will be surpassed by nothing of the kind in Southern California. The "Montrose Club" will be possessed of ample garage facilities, tennis courts, croquet courts, children's playground, billiard rooms, library, etc.

The general nature of the Montrose country lends an atmosphere in perfect harmony with the country club spirit. The green chaparral-scented Verdugo hills will form a rugged, picturesque background at the north, while gazing south from the club veranda a 20-mile stretch of winding valley and gray, haze-hung city spreads itself forth in colorful panorama.

Montrose lies at the intersection of the fertile Verdugo, La Crescenta and La Canada Valleys—just above Glendale on the main auto boulevard to Pasadena—1400 feet above sea level. The Montrose district boasts a superabundance of pure mountain water, an even, dry climate and an almost total absence of frost and fog.

Fourteen building projects are now under way and eight beautiful homes are now nearing completion. The natural beauties of this section have proved irresistible to such men as Lieut.-Gov. Wallace, Mr. E. T. Earl and ex-Senator Frank P. Flint, whose palatial estates are located in the Montrose neighborhood.

The Holmes-Walton Co., owners and agents, 507-8-9 Grant Bldg., corner of Broadway and Fourth, are conducting free auto parties to Montrose and return twice daily. Those who go are required to call at the offices of the company for free tickets. Phones Home A3010, Main 4590. This picturesque view-spot can also be reached by way of the recently completed trolley line—affording one of the most picturesque, delightful trips of the kind in Southern California. The Montrose car leaves 15 minutes after the even hour from the corner of Brand and Broadway, Glendale.

There are other things in the public's eye besides Mr. William J. Bryan. Brauer's suit-to-order at $23, for instance. WE would be willing to wager that there are more men in Los Angeles who are familiar with this $23 special, than who ever read any of the Peerless Bill's speeches. Popularity doesn't depend upon getting your name in the papers and making a lot of speeches, by a long shot. You've got to have something "on the ball." We're throwing curves unhittable by competitors.

Mrs. Thrifty—"We're trying to put some money by each week, but it's hard to save it nowadays, when coal and gas cost so much and clothes are always wearing out. But I do the best I can."

Anty Drudge—"How do you try to save coal and gas and what makes your clothes wear out so fast? Do you use Fels-Naptha Soap in cool or lukewarm water to do all your work? It saves clothes and without costing a penny for heating water."

If you use Fels-Naptha Soap for washing, housecleaning and everyday housework, you save the expense of coal or gas, because Fels-Naptha works best in cool or lukewarm water and clothes do not have to be boiled. You save your clothes because they last twice as long if they are not boiled and hard-rubbed to pieces.

Follow the directions on the Red and Green Wrapper. Better buy Fels-Naptha by the box or carton.

STRAY BULLET KILLS MAN.

Imperial Valley Laborer Loses Life When Boys Passing Begin Shooting at Owls.

IMPERIAL, July 30. — Edward Blackford, a laborer on the Wylie ranch, a few miles southwest of Imperial, was shot in the head yesterday morning and died from the effects of the wound about 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day.

Four boys were returning from a hunting and fishing trip to the coast. They were shooting at marks along the road, and seeing an owl two of the party raised their rifles and fired at the same time.

They state that they saw no one working in the field at the time, but one of the shots—no one knows which—took effect in Mr. Blackford's head. All of the boys are mere youths and reside near Holtville. They remained at the scene of the shooting until help arrived and as soon as they reached El Centro they reported at the Sheriff's office. They were allowed to go to their homes after they had been relieved of their guns. Blackford was about 50 years old and came to the valley from Norton, Kan.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mayor to Illinoisans.

Mayor Rose will be the principal speaker before the Illinois Social Club at a meeting which the latter will hold tomorrow evening in Garfield Hall, Mozart Theater building. All former residents of Illinois are invited to be present.

In Critical Condition.

R. A. Seay, 44 years old, who was run down and probably fatally injured by an automobile at Seventh and San Pedro streets, is in a critical condition at the Receiving Hospital with five ribs crushed. C. E. Mees and Mrs. Mees of Taft were in the machine.

Knickerbocker Chinese Night.

The Knickerbocker Club will celebrate with "A Night in Chinatown" this evening. There will be a Chinese orchestra, Alexander's ragtime band from Poppyland; Chinese tobacco, ginger, noodles and lichee nuts. The members are invited ot "come and forget you're Americans."

Reception to Pastor.

A reception will be tendered Dr. G. C. Patterson, wife and daughter, by the ladies of the Wilshire Presbyterian Church, tomorrow evening at the home of V. M. Stark, No. 457 South St. Andrews place. All members of the congregation and friends of the church are invited.

Child Scalded by Coffee.

Fannie Berlinoski, 5 years old, is in a serious condition at the Receiving Hospital as the result of an accident yesterday wherein a pot of hot coffee was overturned on her. The elder sister, Annie, 11 years old, was preparing breakfast when the accident occurred. The child lives with her parents at No. 2132 City View avenue.

In New Quarters.

The Stanton, McCall Groniger Company, with but three months of organized success behind it, yesterday moved into elegant and commodious quarters in the Title Guarantee building, Fifth and Broadway, where it occupies more than one-half of the ninth floor. It does a general advertising business and one of the novelties in the new offices is an elaborate exhibit of artistic newspaper display advertising.

Jewish Services at Beach.

Beginning tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, Rabbi S. Hecht will hold regular Jewish services in Eagle Hall, Ocean Park, during July and August. The address tomorrow evening will be by George N. Black, who will speak on "Judaism," and the vocal music will be by Mrs. Phelps and Miss Weisman, accompanied by Miss Elsa Adler. The regular services at Temple B'nai B'rith will be held Friday evenings at 5:30 and on Saturday mornings at 10 o'clock.

Boy Encounters Burglar.

Arthur Dennis, 15, swooned when the bullet from a robber's pistol passed by his ear as he entered his father's residence at No. 774 Kensington road, early yesterday morning. Young Dennis came home unexpectedly and encountered the burglar riding the house. Without a word the burglar fired at the boy and then jumped from a window, leaving his weapon behind. The police are seeking to find a former owner of the pistol, hoping in this way to establish the identity of the robber.

New Government Camp Site.

By reason of the popularity of the camping sites at Santa Anita and San Antonio Canyons, provided by the government at a nominal cost, Supervisor Charlton of the Angeles Forest yesterday ordered the survey of another location, to be similarly used. It will be located a mile north of Camp Baldy, in San Antonio Canyon, and embrace about twenty acres of land, ideally located for camping purposes. There will be 100 lots, 60x125 feet, much larger in area than the sites at either the Santa Anita or San Antonio Canyon already established. These lots will be ready for lease as soon as the surveys and preliminary work in connection with the opening of the spot for the use of the public is completed.

Baldwin Park to Incorporate.

The residents of Baldwin Park on the Covina line have decided to incorporate the town. At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday plans were discussed and conclusive action will be taken August 5. There was also a discussion of the objections to the hog farm of the V. D. Reduction Company and the proposed incinerating plant. The 200 property owners present agreed that removal of garbage by feeding it to hogs is less objectionable than the methods employed by other reduction companies. The speakers, among whom were T. W. Gale, J. Johnson and W. Edgar, declared that Los Angeles should not deprive Baldwin Park of its own powers in the disposal of garbage by willingness to award a contract for the establishment of a reduction plant.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

MONROVIA, July 30.—As an experiment the Monrovia school system opened a summer school for grade and High School students desiring to do extra work in manual training this summer. The school opened July 7, under the direction of Knight Hester, the manual training instructor, and has proved popular. Forty-eight students registered for the course, and there is a strong demand for other courses besides manual training. The classes are held from 8 to 12 in the manual training shops, and the students are given credit for the work they do in the shops. Every piece of work is carefully inspected by the instructor before being allowed to go out of the shop, and as a result some very excellent pieces of cabinet making art have been turned out by the grade students.

The manual training keeps boys well employed in a work they like to do and gives pupils a chance of making up back credits so as to be able to start on an even basis with their class next year. The Board of School Trustees are considering the establishment of a more ambitious summer course for the ensuing year.

WAR VETERAN DIES.

Dr. Alonson D. Hauverman, 69 years old, No. 344 South Grand avenue, is dead of apoplexy, following an illness of several years. He was a retired physician, having lived in Los Angeles six years, prior to which time he lived for sixteen years at Banning. He was in the medical corps in the Civil War and was also a member of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth New York Heavy Artillery. Besides a widow, Mrs. Catherine Hauverman, he leaves a son, C. D. Hauverman, and a daughter, Miss Laura M. Hauverman. The funeral will be at the W. A. Brown chapel, No. 1047 South Figueroa street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

PERSONALS.

Justice William Young and wife left yesterday for San Francisco. From there they will sail for Honolulu. Justice Forbes, who has gone on a vacation, will return Monday.

Mrs. F. G. Gildersleeve of St. Louis, wife of the assistant general passenger agent for the Baltimore and Ohio system, is here with her son to spend the summer. She will be joined soon by her husband.

Mrs. A. Von Behren, the wife of a London merchant, has taken a cottage at the Lankershim. She will remain several weeks in Southern California.

Miss Katherine Lee de Vos, a well-known artist of Minneapolis, is at the Alexandria for a stay of several days.

H. C. Piculell, Pacific Coast manager for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, is in the city.

Among the arrivals yesterday at the Westminster were W. E. Ingram, a fruit grower of Porterville, and J. W. Apablasa of San Diego. The latter is one of the heirs to valuable property in Chinatown.

Dr. J. E. Littlefield of Santa Marie is at the Hollenbeck. Other guests at the hotel: Theresa L. Stevens, an official of the Santa Fe railroad in Topeka; Verne Powers, a San Francisco importer of chinaware and crockeryware; E. G. Carey, a bank president from Yuma; E. GUN EXPLODES, CAUSING DEATH

SANTA ANA YOUTH KILLED IN PECULIAR WAY.

While Standing Up in Buggy Hand Over the Muzzle of Gun Is Discharged and Injuries Sustained Which Resulted in Death of Youngster.

SANTA ANA, July 30.—Ralph Shearer, aged 14, was killed near here by the discharge and explosion of a shotgun that he was carrying while standing in a buggy while he and his brother, George Hill, aged 11, and Blanche Hill, aged 10, were hunting rabbits. The accident occurred seven miles northeast of Garden Grove. Harry was the son of James Shearer, a rancher, guardian of the Hill children.

Miss Hill and George Hill were driving, sat on the seat of the buggy, while Harry stood up behind them, holding to it with one hand while he held a shotgun with the other. He was watching for rabbits, and the boy probably had his hand over the muzzle of the loaded gun. The jolting of the buggy caught the hammer and discharged the weapon. The boy had his hand over the muzzle caused the gun to explode and break into pieces.

A part of the boy's skull was blown away, and his breast and arm received part of the shot. He died a few hours later at a hospital in Garden Grove.

MOLD EXPLODES.

This morning a mold exploded in Cope's Vulcanizing Works and partially wrecked the building, causing $100 damage. A plate-glass window, blown away, was broken. Pieces of iron were thrown through the roof. It is seldom that the rear room of the shop is not occupied, but no one was near the mold when the explosion occurred, hence no one was injured.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A warrant has been issued for an Italian woman who lives at Fullerton on a charge of selling liquor in violation of the county option law. The witnesses say that the woman had sixty gallons of wine in her possession.

MOVING PICTURE MAN WEDS.

Capitulates to an Actress Married at Redlands—Both Los Angeles Men.

REDLANDS, July 30.—Harry Daniels, of Los Angeles, moving picture man, and Mabel Adams, well known on the stage as Mabel Worth, were married here this afternoon by Justice of the Peace J. McIver. It was the culmination of a romance in some respects as interesting as those which the stage has so often portrayed on or before the photoplay screen.

Beginning as a business relation in the moving picture business, the relations have ended in a matrimonial alliance. Mrs. Daniels has decided to be a silent partner in the business. The Moving Picture Company will hereafter become head of the Daniels household. Her brother will remain in the business.

The couple met two years ago in Los Angeles, when Mrs. Daniels was playing West with Nat Goodwin in a moving picture production of "Nathan Hale." That was the first appearance of Mrs. Daniels before the moving picture actress. She left the photographic end of the business with Daniels soon afterward. Mrs. Daniels has been on the legitimate stage a number of years, appearing in English grand opera companies. Her first appearance in this country was with Nat Goodwin in the part of summer Night's Dream" at the opening of the New Armstrong theater in New York. It is a coincidence that her first and last appearance as an actress was with Nat Goodwin.

Daniels has been in the moving picture business fourteen years, having in Portland opened the first permanent moving picture-house in the West. He came to Redlands to take moving pictures of the Mardi Gras parade and the Mill Creek Canyon irrigation. Last Sunday he visited Arrowhead Springs he took pictures of the eggs in the hot springs and of the steam caves there. Mr. and Mrs. H. Clune, the moving picture men of Los Angeles, in the city, and Daniels has been spending a week at Arrowhead resting. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels are very fond of Redlands, and was for that reason that they decided to come here to be married. They were here this morning, but found that they had to go to San Bernardino for the marriage license, so made the trip back there and returned and found Judge McIver at the Hall. Their honeymoon will be spent at Yosemite Park.

Justice William Young and wife left yesterday for San Francisco. From there they will sail for Honolulu. Justice Forbes, who has been on a vacation, will return Monday.

Mrs. F. G. Gildersleeve of St. Louis, wife of the assistant general passenger agent for the Baltimore and Ohio system, is here with her son to spend the summer. She will be joined later by her husband.

Dr. J. E. Littlefield of Sault Ste. Marie is at the Hollenbeck. Other guests at the hotel: Thomas S. Bivens, an official of the Santa Fe Railroad in Topeka; Verne Prowley, a San Francisco importer of china and crockeryware; E. G. Carruthers, a bank president from Yuma; E. Fuller, a mining operator from Pioche, Nev., and A. H. Allen, a wholesale grocer of Salt Lake City.

Dr. J. T. Kingsbury, president of the University of Utah, at Salt Lake City, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to be at the bedside of his son, W. "WILL PACIFY ENEMIES OF SELF AND MEXICO."

Gen. Diaz, in Los Angeles, Sees End of Turmoil With Election.

Urges Recognition of Huerta Government by the United States—Provisional President May Oppose Candidacy of "Iron Man's" Nephew—Declares Americans and American Interests Are Not Particularly Jeopardized.

GEN. FELIX DIAZ, nephew of the "Iron Man" of Mexico, and imbued with many of the qualities which made Porfirio Diaz a power for so many years, reached Los Angeles from San Diego at 6:30 o'clock last evening and immediately became the center of a demonstration which gave the police considerable uneasiness until their charge was safely turned over to the Alexandria, where quarters had been reserved for the entire party.

Five hundred Mexicans filled La Grande Station platforms and overflowed into the street. Diaz stepped from the train into a maelstrom of fellow-countrymen. There were many "vivas," but there was also a counter cry of less pleasant sounding words which caused the personal escort to crowd more closely about the soldier to whom many look for a restoration of peace and prosperity to the republic; the man who expects to be elected President October 26, and who is now on his way to Japan on a journey of diplomacy, hinted at in some quarters to be more important than the mere exchange of compliment.

The Diaz car stopped a long distance down the platform and the general was forced to walk several hundred feet to his automobile. The crowd pressed very closely, but a cordon of patrolmen had been sent by the Chief of Police in recognition as the service of Diaz as Chief of Police of the City of Mexico, and they cleared the way. The chief himself greeted the general.

Escorted by mounted police the party started up town followed by the cheers of the crowd. At the hotel another group awaited and an impromptu reception preceded a few moments rest from the journey when the general gave audience to newspaper representatives in the presence of his staff, the Consul and his staff and many countrymen prominent locally, who crowded the room and listened to an interview, dealing with conditions in Mexico, the future welfare of the country, his views upon intervention by the United States and a comprehensive summary of the ideals he holds for the country he fights for. No man is closer to the heart of his people than Gen. Diaz; none in a better position to speak with first hand knowledge.

FRANK AND POINTED.

Vital questions answered directly by Gen. Diaz in reply to queries frankly placed before him brought equally frank statements, without evasion, subterfuge or hesitation. The more important of these follow:

"Recognition by the United States of the Huerta government in Mexico would tend greatly to facilitate the relations between the two nations.

"Gen. Porfirio Diaz, my uncle, is absolutely out of politics and in our correspondence we make no reference to politics, either national or international.

"The election in October will bring an end to all disturbances.

"If I am elected, merit and ability alone will characterize my selections for appointments.

"If there are enemies of my government I shall pacify them.

"Americans will be given the same protection that the citizens of every other nation are given, all within the power of the administration. And the administration shall control the country.

HUERTA.

"Huerta cannot be a candidate for President of Mexico unless Congress rescinds the law enacted just before Porfirio Diaz stepped out of office." Gen. Diaz, studying his words, searched the faces of his interviewers with eyes that seemed tired.

Dapper in English tweeds of ultra-mode, a modified Balkan cravat, his clothes moulded to his strong, solid figure by a master tailor, remarkably like in appearance and demeanor to the Diaz of Iron, the nephew of Porfirio sat crowded by interviewers into a corner of a divan in a parlor at the Alexandria.

Behind him rose the figures of several such men as one pictures leading armies, broad of shoulder and stern of jaw, keen-eyed and silent. At his left sat the embassy secretary, Jose Romero, of ready tongue and a quick, analytical brain.

"What would be the result of recognition by the United States of the Huerta government in Mexico?" the general was asked.

"It would facilitate the relations between the two countries," he said.

Then the subject went back to his statement that Huerta cannot be a candidate for President. Here his answers were ready, but not entirely comprehensive until sieved by many interrogations. Then he finally said:

"Congress enacted a law, just before Porfirio Diaz stepped out of office, which prohibits a President from ascending to the Chief Executive seat of the nation a second time. Only by a rescinding act of Congress can this law be nullified. It is not likely that this will occur."

"But Huerta is only provisional President," said the interrogator, "and the law is not specific in reference to such office."

Gen. Diaz did not answer immediately. Finally he said, his voice sharp in the stillness that had settled over the room:

"That is true. But if he were a candidate he would violate the spirit of the law. And whether it be written or not, there is the dictate of conscience, which, after all, is the law."

Intervention by the United States, the possibility of such action, a delicate subject whether it be couched diplomatically or frankly, brought the reply:

"It is entirely unnecessary for the United States to intervene. After the election Mexico will have changed. Revolution will have become a matter of history. Peace and glory will come to us.

"As to the political and military situation now, I can but say that both have improved greatly. The people wish to work and prosper. They want peace, the peace they formerly had for thirty-five years.

"Americans are generally safe in Mexico. We esteem foreigners. We wish to broaden our trade relations. To have foreigners in Mexico we must protect them. And they are protected now, save in a few places along the border. Some press reports have done much to inflame the public mind in the United States, but as a rule these are founded on really trivial occurrences or result from circumstances which the government adjusts as quickly as possible.

"There is no such thing as 'anti-American sentiment' in Mexico. The Mexicans have a warm friendship for the Americans. There never has been necessity to give the American any more protection than we give the citizens of any other nation. And the Americans will continue to receive this same protection. American interests in Mexico are not particularly jeopardized.

"As for the shooting of the American at Juarez, I cannot talk of that, when I know nothing of it. I had left Mexico before the report of the occurance even reached me."

MISSION OF COURTESY.

Denying that his visit to Japan has any political significance or is for any purpose other than to convey the thanks of his government to Japan for its participation in the Mexican centennial celebration three years ago, the general said:

"I am simply on a mission of courtesy. Mexico has extended the same thanks to the other foreign countries which participated in our centenary."

Then questions were put to him as to conditions at Chihuahua, where it has been reported there is danger of famine.

"There are large resources in Chihuahua," he answered. "The people there are not in need."

"Are you acting wisely in leaving the country on what is practically the eve of the election which must mean much to you?"

"Yes, why not?" He smiled, wearily. "My friends are working for me just the same. If I am to be elected it will be because the people want me. And they can decide whether I am at their elbow or across the sea. But I shall have returned to Mexico City before the day of election. It is to be held on October 26. I shall be home a few days before."

IF ELECTED.

"And if you are elected, general, what will be your policy?"

"Merit and ability alone will characterize my selections for office. Work and prosperity—these it will be my duty to give the people, so far as is within my power—work and prosperity and peace."

"And politically you are—?"

"A Liberal!"

"And your enemies?"

"I shall pacify them, if I have any."

"And the enemies of Mexico?"

"We shall pacify them, if we have any."

"Are you a revolutionist, general?"

"If you call it a revolutionist to look for the best interests of my country, then I was a revolutionist. I helped my people the best I could."

"The question was not put in the past tense, general. We mean, are you a revolutionist now?"

Gen. Diaz looked duly amazed and somewhat nettled. His secretary bristled and looked as though he were ready to pass out cards and challenges for pistols and coffee before breakfast. A buzz went around the room. Gen. Diaz, however, answered:

"I am a friend of Huerta's. He is my friend."

Quickly the subject was changed, but the effect still remained during the general's answer to a query as to whether he expected official opposition to his candidacy.

"I do not, but there may be some. They are holding conventions now."

He Sees Peace and Glory for Mexico.

Gen. Felix Diaz and the crowd at La Grande Station.

On his arrival in the city last night. He is on his way to Japan as a special envoy from the republic of Mexico, and will be in Los Angeles a day or two. Gen Diaz urges recognition by the United States of the Huerta government. He declares the election in October will end all disturbances in Mexico. Gen. Diaz is a candidate for President.

NORTON, HE HAS FLOPPED AGAIN.

OPPOSER OF SPECIAL COUNSEL NOW DEMANDS ONE.

"Supervisor" Who Made an Exhibition of Himself Over Ex-Judge Gray After the Darrow Trial Clamors for Chance to Spend the Money He Zealously "Guards."

Supervisor Norton favors employing extensive special counsel in the test suit against Sheriff Hammel to determine the legality of the fee system. In a statement made exclusively in Earl's evening organ let Norton says:

"I am in favor of the county employing special counsel to argue this matter," referring to the projected mandamus proceedings against the Sheriff. This is the same Norton who made so much fuss about paying ex-Judge Gray, who was special counsel in the second Darrow trial.

Norton also admits that he is so prejudiced against the District Attorney that he would not vote to bring the test case simply because the matter was suggested in a communication from Capt. Fredericks to the Board of Supervisors.

Despite the excuses made by Norton to his constituents the fact remains that he is the only member of the Board of Supervisors to reject the plan to test the legality of the fee system. If the county is successful it

HIS COLLAPSE SUDDEN.

Stearns, Victim of Fatal Automobile Wreck, Appears Uninjured Until End Comes.

Until E. Roger Stearns, the automobile man, collapsed at the hotel in Encinitas several hours after his automobile was wrecked, Tuesday, no one knew that he was injured. He had been walking around the scene of the wreck of his machine and helping R. D. Barr, who was with him, and who appeared seriously injured. After Stearns collapsed it was discovered that his skull was fractured.

The strange story of the wreck and the swift succession of events that followed it was told by Barr yesterday at the California Hospital. His right leg is broken and he is otherwise injured. He was grieving over his friend's death. Barr was brought to the city yesterday afternoon on the same train that brought the body of Stearns. Barr was helpless after the wreck and before other autoists appeared at the scene of the smashup on the road near Encinitas, Stearns was ministering to him. Stearns said he was not hurt and felt deeply solicitous for his friend. The two men were taken in an automobile to the hotel and medical aid was rendered Barr.

The funeral services over the remains of Stearns will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Pierce chapel, under Masonic auspices. Arrangements for the funeral were made yesterday by E. A. Featherstone, Byron Graves, David Smith and T. R. Lamb, acting as a committee of Stearns's friends.

The body will be shipped to New York for burial.

GYPSIES HIRE PRIVATE CAR TO GO BACK HOME.

LEO CZAZA, Romany of the blood royal, and twenty-four of his Magyar compatriots, occupied a special car out of Los Angeles yesterday on the Salt Lake Pacific Limited. The destination of the party is a many-syllabled village on the further edge of the old-time kingdom of Hungary, where, some time the coming fall, Roms—gypsies in common parlance—will foregather from the ends of the earth, and the half-trailing, long-sweeping swells of the czarda will be danced to the zither and the lute, the favorite instruments of the gipsy from time immemorial.

This much of the party's intentions was gleaned early yesterday in the gusty interview by which the mendicants secured a private car—the first so far as known ever chartered by a gypsy. One, however, gazing on the witch-like liniaments of the older members, the russet loveliness of the budding girls, the flashing, black-moustache accentuated smile of the young men, could almost feel the texture of the flaunting garments of romance.

Where Czaza and his motley crew came from no one knows; neither does any one know where they left their gaily-bedizened wagons, nor where abides the assortment of horse flesh that the Rom from the time of the Pharaohs on, has trailed back and forth on the lanes of the civilized world. All that is known is that a crew of outlanders, wearing their motley, with a difference, blew into the Salt Lake Station yesterday, accompanied by an assortment of luggage that would have sufficed a three-ring circus, and that thereafter the air resounded to the sibilant hiss of a strange tongue, interspersed here and there with clean-cut English from Czaza. He, as the leader—the king, a follower, denominated him—is a stalwart chap, looking like a cross between the villain in the "Old Homestead" and the orchestra leader of a cabaret show.

He was "there" with the efficiency, however, and it took him but a minute to convince the warders of the Salt Lake Station that he and his ill-assorted crew were present with money in the hand and that they were going East in a private car—it was a chair car, to be precise. He also evidenced true cosmopolitanism by a discreet application of "silver" where it would do the most good, with the result that many hands rushed forward to expedite the passage of Czaza et al., including a varied assortment of Lares and Penates, into

NO MEDEA FOR HIS LABYRINTH.

Grand Jury's After Realty Man's Minotaur.

Surprising Story of Triple Actions for Fraud.

How an Investor Came to Be "Dark Conspirator."

More light upon the intricate real estate operations of John C. Dysart, of Hollywood, was presumably thrown into the grand jury room yesterday when Mrs. Alberta Florence St. Clare of Pasadena unfolded her story of business relations with Dysart. Mrs. St. Clare, in a civil action, charges Dysart with fraud and conspiracy, as does S. F. Owen, of Ocean Park Heights, who will tell his story to the grand jury next week.

Mrs. St. Clare was involved in a three-cornered deal engineered by Dysart that has left a labyrinthian trail through banks, escrow departments, abstract offices, the recorder's office, across residence lots on Hollywood boulevard and up into Alberta, Canada, until the investigators are lost in a maze of conveyancings and intertwining details that dovetail into each separate transaction. In her formal state, which supplements her charges filed in a civil suit against Dysart, Mrs. St. Clare says:

"I met Dysart January 29, 1913, being introduced by Dr. Anna J. Phillips of No. 2215 West Fifteenth street. Dysart had called in answer to the same advertisement I answered. I was interested in physical culture and wanted to co-operate with Mrs. Phillips, but we could not come to terms. Dysart heard me say how much I had to invest and as I was leaving the place he asked me to ride into town in his machine. On the way in he interested me in Hollywood building sites and particularly in a piece of property owned by Robert Schultz on Hollywood boulevard. On February 3, we closed the deal for that property, agreeing to pay $3700 for 100 feet frontage. Later I bought, on Dysart's advice, the adjoining property of 120 feet, paying in all $7200. The deal was put through the escrow department of the Hollywood National Bank and the deed delivered to me March 5. I had instructed Dysart to sell either or both these pieces of property. He suggested that I get a safety deposit box and keep my valuable papers therein, giving him one key so that he could show prospective customers that he had the deeds to the property. I had no sooner done this than the box was attached for a debt owed by Dysart. After I had the attachment released I gave up the box."

GETS POWER OF ATTORNEY.

Here Mrs. St. Clare went into detail to explain how Dysart had procured from her a power of attorney. She says that she did not knowingly sign this power of attorney. However, it later developed that he had a power of attorney and recorded it.

Mrs. St. Clare was fairly secure in the belief that she owned the property on Hollywood boulevard, as she had the deeds, but there was commenced an action in the Superior Court to set aside her deeds and quiet title to the property in the original owners. Then Mrs. St. Clare began to wonder just what sort of a grip she had on the property and was astouneded when she was accused of conspiracy with Dysart to obtain possession unlawfully. Schultz and others who had an interest in the property sued Mrs. St. Clare and Mr. and Mrs. Dysart, as well as others, and then Mrs. St. Clare became aware that Dysart had mixed his name into the transaction, making it three-cornered instead of two, as she at first thought.

The complaint which was an eye-opener for Mrs. St. Clare was filed by Tanner, Taft & Odell, for Schultz. It charged that Dysart and Mrs. St. Clare had agreed to buy the Schultz tract, turning over title to land in Alberta, Canada, and $1500 in cash, as well as to assume a $3000 mortgage on the Schultz property. The Alberta land in question was represented by Dysart, according to the complaint, to be of first quality, whereas it was not; as level land, whereas it was hilly; as worth $20 an acre, whereas it was worth less than $10; unencumbered, whereas an encumbrance of $1000 was on it.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY.

The complaint further charges that Dysart is insolvent and that Mrs. St. Clare conspired with him to get possession of the Schultz tract. When Schultz went to Calgary, Alberta, to look at the Canadian securities, he found that certain representations made to him were untrue and he wired back to stop the deal.

Then Mrs. St. Clare claims she learned that Dysart was trading in a lot of Canadian securities for an interest in property which she says she was led to believe she was purchasing alone.

To come back, Mrs. St. Clare filed three suits, employing Attorney Samuel D. Weil, No. 200 New High street, to ferret out the intricate leads of the three-handed transaction and clear her name of any hint of wrongdoing. The filing of three suits was made necessary because it was learned, it is alleged, that Dysart had disposed of two trust deeds to the property, both to relatives and that he had mortgaged one piece of property in which he had an interest and a power of attorney from Mrs. St. Clare. The interest came to him through the alleged manipulation of his Canadian paper and securities. Mrs. St. Clare says she is out $1300.

Attorney Weil immediately got into touch with other attorneys who have commenced action against Dysart. He found John L. Fleming, in the American Bank building, had brought suit in the name of S. F. Owen, over a piece of property in Ocean Park Heights, where Owen lives; and Tanner, Taft & Odell, who were attacking Dysart from another quarter on the Schultz tract. In every instance Dysart is accused of fraud, and when the civil accusations began to roll up against him, the whole affair was taken before the grand jury.

At Moss Beach.

MAKE HISTORY ON SEA'S EDGE.

Y.W.C.A. Delegates Off for Record Conference.

Music and Pageantry to Fill Memorable Week.

Three States' Associations of Those Represented.

Tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock the Southern California delegates to the Y.W.C.A. summer conference, which opens that day at Moss Beach, near Pacific Grove, will leave for the North in a special coach attached to the regular train over the Southern Pacific. Never but once in the history of the local association has it been so largely represented as this time, the number of delegates from the Los Angeles city association being twenty-six, while the colleges, Normal School and Pasadena, Long Beach, Riverside, Redlands and other Southern California associations are sending large delegations.

For the first time in the history of the summer conference—which has hitherto been a spring conference, held at Capitola—the associations will meet at their own headquarters, which are to be permanently established at Moss Beach. Up to last year, the conferences had been held in the hotel at Capitola, which was leased for the purpose but, with a nest-egg from last year of $2000, coupled with the fact that a generous land company near Pacific Grove presented the associations with a tract of thirty acres, the Y.W.C.A. of the Pacific Coast will meet in annual conference on its own property.

Accommodations are furnished for 320 delegates and the prospects are that every tent will have its quorum, for this Pacific Coast territory comprises not only California but Arizona and Nevada, as well, which means a dozen city associations and nineteen student associations in the various colleges and universities, which include Stanford, Berkeley, the Universities of Southern California, Nevada and Redlands; Mills, Pomona, Occidental, Whittier colleges, and the College of the Pacific at San Jose; the State Normal Schools at Los Angeles, Fresno, San Jose, San Diego and Chico, the Girls' Collegiate School of Los Angeles, Sherman Institute at Riverside and the Indian schools at Carson, Nev., and at Phoenix.

Beside these student delegations, there will be representatives from the city associations of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Redlands, Riverside, Long Beach, Fresno, Oakland, Sacramento, San Francisco, San Diego, Phoenix and Bisbee.

WANTED, A NAME.

An administration building has been built on the new grounds which have been laid out under the direction of a woman architect, Miss Julia Morgan. Other buildings will be erected as fast as funds permit. This year outdoor meetings will be popular. A feature of the conference will be the formal dedication of the grounds, which have been christened "Guardamar," which signifies "Watch by the Sea." This name, however, is not quite satisfactory, and has not met with general favor, so a contest is on for a new name and a bright $5 goldpiece has been offered to the Y.W.C.A. girl who will select an appropriate name, which must be distinctly Californian, preferably Spanish, and must suggest, if possible, both the peculiar natural charm of the spot and the purpose for which it is to be used. This contest has aroused a good deal of interest among the girls and each delegate is entitled to submit a name when she registers at the conference.

One of the spectacular features of the conference will be the pageant, "The Ministering Gift," which is to be given on the afternoon of August 7 and which will immediately precede the service of dedication, when the grounds will be formally christened with the name which has been selected. This pageant has been adapted from that given at Richmond, Va., last spring at the national Y.W.C.A. meeting, and has been worked out by the Los Angeles association under Mrs. A. P. Metcalf, who is chairman of the Pageant Committee. There will be several hundred participants, practically every delegate taking part, and the Presidio band has volunteered to come over from Monterey to furnish the musical accompaniment. A large chorus is being trained at Pacific Grove by an expert and the pageant as a whole will easily outdistance anything of the kind ever attempted by the Pacific Coast associations.

The object is to portray the work of the Y.W.C.A. in all its phases—in college life, in the city, in the country, and in foreign lands. It will open with a prologue and processional with couriers representing the association spirit, student, county, city and foreign associations. College life will be portrayed in a vesper service at a summer student conference, followed by a country festival, five scenes representing the city work, the foreign work in other lands, and concluding with an epilogue and recessional.

MUSIC AND PAJEANTRY.

All these scenes give ample opportunity for picturesque and effective groupings; the Presidio band will play Heidelberg music from "The Prince of Pilsen" in the scene representing college life, and college songs will predominate. The county festival will include the winding of the Maypole, a harvest home scene, a country fair and other appropriate and picturesque views. When the band melts into the stately measures of "Tannhaeuser's" "Pilgrims' Chorus," the representatives of the association in other lands will appear in costumes of Japan, China, India and South America.

Throughout the pageant one figure will be pre-eminent—that of the Association Spirit—and this character will be assumed by Miss Lillie M. Sherman, general secretary of the University of California Association.

Miss Sue Barnwell, Miss Rose F. Smith, Miss Leslie Blanchard and Miss Martha Chickering of Los Angeles will act as couriers. The Mills College girls will present the country festival scenes, and the Redlands, Riverside, Long Beach, Pasadena, Bisbee and Phoenix city association delegates will represent the foreign associations. The Stanford and Berkeley girls will represent the Bible Study sections in the city association scenes; the Los Angeles and San Francisco girls, the educational; the normal school and college girls, the physical; the Oakland, Fresno and Sacramento girls, the industrial features.

The Los Angeles city association delegates who leave tomorrow for the conference include the following members of the Board of Managers: Mrs. W. J. Hole, president; Mmes. S. D. Burks, W. A. Moses, Willard G. Halstead, W. J. Chichester, J. M. C. Marble, L. A. Ross and Z. D. Mathuss, and the following representatives of committees, secretaries and clubs—Miss Amelia C. Johnson, general secretary; Miss Ludema Sayre, extension secretary; Miss Rose Smith, Mrs. Lucille Locke White, Misses Sue D. Barnwell, Nellie Bascom, Lillian Blum, Sigrid Johnson, Mary Kitson, Elizabeth Marble, Katherine Chichester, Alberta Newton, Mabel Nicholaides, Celia Perry, Bessie Pope, Johanna Saenger, May Sherwood, Sylvia Souders and Cora J. Taylor.

ESCAPES IN NIGHTGOWN.

Girl on Probation Gets Away From Uncle's Home at Redondo Beach Through Window.

The sensational escape of Gussie Currie, 16 years old, from a second-story window after having been paroled in custody of her uncle, was reported to the police yesterday by Chris Haag, a grain bag dealer at No. 451 Savoy street. Gussie, whose mother died two months ago at their home, No. 717 Rosemont street, eluded the watchfulness of her relatives early yesterday morning and escaped in her nightgown from the Haag summer residence at No. 125 North Catalina avenue, Redondo Beach. Some man with whom she has communicated evidently assisted her, as it would have been impossible for the girl to have escaped unaided.

The door of the girl's room in her uncle's residence was locked Tuesday night at 11 o'clock, the only means of egress being a window that opens onto a court. Opposite the window and about seven or eight feet distant, is another window which opens into a hallway. The window is about twenty-five feet from the ground and Haag is confident that the girl walked across the space between the windows on a board or swung across on a rope provided by whoever assisted in her escape.

The fact that Miss Currie took no clothing other than her gown with her may lead to her apprehension, as word was received yesterday by the police that a young woman with a light wrapper apparently over a nightgown had been seen on a car coming towards Los Angeles from Playa del Rey. The girl was placed on probation two months ago by Judge Wilbur after testimony had been introduced tending to show that Gussie was fond of associating with girls of questionable habits.

PEEL UPSETS HORSE.

Jerry, Mounted-Police Equine, Slips and Throws Rider — Then Runs Away, Chagrined.

"Jerry," the most surb-footed cayuse in the service of the mounted police, upset the decorum of the mounted escort for Gen. Diaz last night when he slipped on a banana peel. It was the first time in all his remarkable service that "Jerry" ever lost his footing, and he furnished a wild spectacle when he did.

R. A. Hagenbaugh of No. 822 East Thirty-first street, the policeman whom "Jerry" carries, was astride last night. The Diaz escort was slowly marching along when "Jerry" slipped at Fourth and Crocker streets. Then he was so surprised and shocked that he started to run. He ran into a telephone pole, hurled Policeman Hagenbaugh into the pole and knocked him unconscious. Hagenbaugh fell to the curbing and injured his head.

"Jerry" was so chagrined by the accident that he fled. Patrolman Hagenbaugh was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where his injury was found to be slight.

All Together.

SHRINERS TO THE RESCUE.

ALL HANDS AROUND FOR OUR OWN CALIFORNIA.

Humming Tour of State and Country to Stir Up Interest for Great Year—Four Shrine Patrols and Bands, With Famous Vocalists to Sing to Nation's Heart.

"Hands Around the State" is the pilot-slogan of an organized movement by the Shriners of California to have all of California's cities pulling together, not against each other, in 1915. And when the Shriners of California start something they not only keep it going with a zip until time to finish, but they finish it.

At the head of the movement stands the "California 1915 Shrine Committee," composed of the following members: Potentate William H. Hendricks, Islam Temple, San Francisco; Potentate Frank W. Bigler, Aahmes Temple, Oakland; Potentate S. S. McClure, Al Bahr Temple, San Diego; Potentate Leo Youngworth, Al Malaikah Temple, Los Angeles; J. C. Wood, San Francisco, and F. B. Silverwood of Los Angeles as general director of the committee and the work.

In a small brochure that is leaving the printer to go to large eastern national advertisers, one reads the following:

"There was a day when the cities of a State carried leaded clubs behind their backs for each other, played anvil choruses from morn till night and never sat in front of their windows. That time is past and today the cities that are making the most progress, the most success, dance hands clasped about the Maypole of their State and call with smiles to the world to come, play, be happy and garner prosperity from the dormant advantages that lie waiting.

"Here in the giant new-born West, in the favorite gardens the gods fashioned, nervously wait the maids of California—fourteen cities. Wait for their 1915 debut, when the world will turn and for the first time pay homage to them seriously; heed their beckoning fingers to happiness, health, opportunity and success, and even more, marvel at the spirit of cooperation, the unselfish spirit of these lasses with so much to offer, so much to do."

One of the first undertakings, and one well under way, is a grand fall festival of music by a host of Shriners with augmented bands and patrols, from San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and Oakland, assisted by world-noted artists such as Tetrazzini, Schumann Heink and Mary Garden.

The festival of music will constitute a concert tour of fourteen of California's cities and later the entire country. Arrangements are being made for the dates to cover the period between October 21 and November 2.

At each of the cities toured, the influential Shriners will meet and discuss "California 1915" with the people and arouse a spirit of enthusiastic co-operation.

Later, when the four bands and patrols make a circuit of the United States, a strong influence will be brought to bear on the national advertisers, who in turn will think more seriously and earlier of California in 1915 and the future possibilities that will open up in the year when the Panama Canal is opened.

Mr. Silverwood left for Canada and the large cities of the East July 4 and will remain away until the latter part of August, arranging for the contemplated tour of the country.

James D. Dougherty,

Director-general of the Mid-Pacific Carnival at Honolulu, who declared yesterday that the proposed free trade in sugar will destroy Hawaii's hundred-million-dollar industry and bring irreparable loss to the island.

UNCLE SAM'S STOVES.

Rock Fireplaces Built Throughout San Dimas Canyon for the Convenience of Campers—Use Them.

In order to provide as much as possible against the recurrence of forest fires, Supervisor Charlton of the Angeles Forest, yesterday began the construction of stone fireplaces in various places in San Dimas Canyon for the convenience of camping parties. They will be fitted up for cooking purposes, provided with a rock bottom and sides and a pipe to carry away the smoke.

The idea is to induce camping parties to use them instead of starting fires in the open brush where the flames are likely to spread to the surrounding woods.

About twenty-five such cooking places will be set up and, if the experiment is a success, other camping places on the reserve will be similarly equipped. So far this summer the local forest has been unusually free of destructive fires and it is desired to reduce the danger to a minimum.

DARKEST GLOOM OVER HAWAII.

DESTRUCTION THREATENS THE ISLAND'S SUGAR INDUSTRY.

Traveler Declares That Free Trade Means Ruination of a One Hundred Million Dollar Business — Hard Times and Suffering to Follow Readjustment.

Gloom hangs over the fair island of Hawaii. James D. Dougherty, director general of the Mid-Pacific Carnival at Honolulu, declared yesterday at the Alexandria, that the new tariff bill which appears likely of passage will destroy the island's $100,000,000 sugar industry. Dougherty has been traveling several months in "the States" in the interest of the carnival.

"The residents of the island expect the bill to pass and the gloom there is thicker than night," Doughetry said. "It appears certain now that the industry which has been years in the building will be destroyed by a new tariff regulation taking the duty off sugar. The blow comes in the height of prosperity.

"It will be many years before the island recovers from the effect of the destruction of its principal industry. The investment in sugar properties represents $100,000,000. One-eighth of the sugar used in the United States come from Hawaii.

"We have no labor in the island to conduct diversified industries. Everything there depends on sugar. We are raising pineapples to some extent but this industry is relatively unimportant compared with the sugar business. The loss of the sugar trade will require a readjustment of business conditions there and that will result in desperately hard times for years to come. All classes will suffer there with the loss of the sugar industry.

"I was in Washington and had an audience with President Wilson and talked with others there. It appears certain that the tariff bill will pass. But Hawaii has made a noble fight against it. Many of the island's leading citizens went to Washington to protest, but it seems no use."

The ninth Mid-Pacific Carnival will be held February 14-22, 1914. Dougherty has contracted for a number of interesting attractions. He will try to arrange for two of the baseball teams of the Coast League to visit Honolulu at the time of the carnival and play a series of games.

Dougherty said that an interesting feature of the next carnival would be an artificial eruption of the extinct volcano on Punch Bowl Mountain near Honolulu. Thousands of dollars will be spent on the spectacle.

Other features of the carnival will be an illuminated water carnival; floral parade and various athletic games. Dougherty has made arrangements with a number of athletes of international reputations to be present. A large part of the supplies for the carnival will be purchased in Los Angeles.

Better Begin Now to Invest at 6%

It is pretty hard to get together a thousand or even a hundred dollars. Pretty hard to make a 6 per cent investment if you think you need a thousand or a hundred dollars before you can get that rate of interest.

But here is an easy way to earn 6 per cent. on just a few dollars invested every month.

Anyone can take advantage of this plan because you can arrange to invest any convenient number of dollars and earn 6 per cent. compounded twice-a-year.

If you never before thought it possible to invest a few dollars regularly and receive such a liberal rate of interest, you ought to look into this perfectly safe plan of ours. Call or write for information.

The Oil Industry.

OUTPUT STILL FORGES AHEAD.

State's Production to Be Larger Than Ever.

General Conditions Also Show Improvement.

English Journal Predicts an Oil Boom.

Unless there should be a falling off in output the remainder of the year, oil production in California will be greater than ever before. The total gross output for the first six months of the year was approximately 47,000,000 barrels, and based on this showing the aggregate for the year should be about 94,000,000 barrels. The output the past six months has been increasing rapidly, and June's aggregate was the largest in the history of the industry.

This condition might be considered unfavorable for the industry, were it not that consumption is showing an almost corresponding increase, due to the steady improvement in facilities for taking care of the surplus output, by the extension of markets, the building and enlarging of refineries and the great energy displayed in every line leading to the use of a greater amount of petroleum. This makes the future of the business promising, especially in view of the fact that the not far distant opening of the Panama Canal will provide for new and greater outlets for the growing production.

Naturally the output of California, if it attains the 94,000,000-barrel mark, will exceed that of any field for a single year in the history of the world. The total last year of about 80,000,000 barrels gross, rivaled the production of Russia during her greatest year.

Development has been concerned principally with the light oil sections of the State the first part of this year, and from what can be learned, many stocks have been drawn on. Fields like Lost Hills, and lighter oil portions of Midway and Sunset have been the center of operations. Ventura county, which produces nearly all light oil, has also increased considerably in production. Fullerton field activities have gone ahead at a rapid pace. Coalinga has developed a new and important light oil region.

In view of the improvements in the industry, it is not unlikely that when the present depression which hangs over the money market, is relieved, the oil business will be in much more thriving condition than heretofore. Across the Atlantic predictions of a boom in the industry are heard not infrequently. The London Petroleum Review in a recent issue says: "It seems strange to refer to a coming boom in oil enterprise just at a time when stock exchange quotations stand at practically their lowest ebb, but when one studies the various factors which form part of the universal industry of petroleum, it is immediately apparent that in spite of what one may call a lack of public confidence at the moment in oil undertakings, there is an underlying element of activity which threatens almost daily to break out into a boom, the like of which we in this country have possibly never witnessed.

"The inquiry in London for oil-producing concerns for flotation purposes, the demand for promising areas of virgin character the world over combined with the energy which is being displayed in the registration of new oil companies, suggests in itself that an oil boom is in the making and when it does come, it is bound to be of a remarkable nature. In times past, we have seen several oil booms, but at best these have been only limited to certain fields or districts. There was a boom of the Texas fields years ago, there was a mild Roumanian boom, and at a still later date, the Maikop boom.

"The coming oil boom, however, will be distinct from these several predecessors, inasmuch as it will embrace practically the two hemispheres, for we know that today numerous oil stations are ready for public issue whose assets will cover nine-tenths of the oil-producing and oil-promising regions of the world."

Further on, in conclusion, the article says: "The greater the production of crude oil, the more extensive will be the demand, and from what we now see around us, it will be many a long day before production becomes seriously ahead of consumption. Thus there is every justification for new enterprises to commercially enter into the production of crude oil, and every reason to believe, that provided experience and care lies behind their operations, they will be very successful."

WHO TOLD "THE TIMES?"

Independent Civic League, Greatly Perturbed Over Leak, Abandons Its Plans to Club Mayor Rose.

The Independent Civic League almost had nervous prostration yesterday trying to account for the mysterious "leak" from the anti-Rose meeting held the night before in room 309 Stimson building, exclusively reported in yesterday's Times. Practically everyone who was present was called upon during the day for an alibi and scarcely a member escaped suspicion. As a result of the unexpected publicity given the meeting the whole kettle o' fish is in the fire, and the idea of forcing the mayor under threat of recall to make appointments dictated by the league has been temporarily abandoned, although the desirability of naming the Socialist, H. A. Hart to the Police Commission will still be urged. To prevent a further catastrophe such as marked the Independent Civic League meeting of Tuesday evening it is proposed to concentrate the affairs of the organization, and at the general meetings only matters ready for exploitation will be discussed.

ROADS IMPROVED.

PKITTRICK, July 30.—Interest in the good roads movement has been intensified by the excellent work now being done on the road connecting this city, Reward, Olig and the Belridge country. Road Overseer E. H. Hankins and his force have widened the thoroughfare at various points which have long needed attention, and given it a coating of oil and gravel that has made a decided change for the better. The improvement will extend much farther than the distance already covered, operations being temporarily delayed by the non-arrival of machines. In the Belridge and surrounding region the Belridge and Union Oil Companies have at their own expense graded and repaired a dozen or more miles, thus aiding the country to a large extent in providing means of travel that are of vast benefit to the general public.

Will Pacify Enemies.

Discussing the military strength of his country, Gen. Diaz said there are now 72,000 Federal troops and this number can be increased to 80,000 without difficulty.

"There is no disaffection in the army," he added.

"You are not to have any official conference with American officials during this trip?"

"None."

"Have you had, or do you intend to have here, any political conferences with Gen. Trevino?"

"I have not. As I have said, my purpose in leaving Mexico has nothing to do with politics. Gen. Trevino is a good friend of mine and I expect to call upon him while here. But the visit will be purely social."

"Is Gen. Trevino to oppose you in the election, or is he to support you?"

"You must ask Gen. Trevino that."

IN THE PARTY.

In the party are Senora Diaz, the general's wife, Capt. Luis Mendoza, Lieut. Augustin Del Rio, First Secretary Romero of the special Japanese embassy, and several other secretaries and attaches. The party will pass a day or two here sightseeing and proceed leisurely northward, stopping in San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, sailing from Vancouver on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia on August 13. A special car has been assigned to the party for the journey north.

Preceding the general's departure yesterday from San Diego he was taken to the exposition site and later for a drive about the southern city. At noon the distinguished Mexicans were guests of the exposition management at luncheon. The general gave assurance that Mexico will have an exhibit there.

Among those who greeted the warrior at the station here last night were Mexican Consul Pina y Cuevas, Vice-Consul Armando Maass and F. Etchegary, secretary of the consulate; Senor Pardo, collector of the port at Ensenada; Felix Estrada, A. Monreal, H. Gastelum, A. Orfila, a Los Angeles attorney; Dr. J. A. Samanugo of this city, M. Mascarevas, Jr., and Alberto Mascarvas of Nogales, Sonora, Attorney J. T. Lopez del Castillo of Hermosillo, A. J. Rivera of Monterey, Mex., Dr. Francis Armendares of Chihuahua, J. A. Bauchet of Lower California, Attorney Antonio Horcasitas A. Sandoval of this city, Y. McManus of Cananea, Mex., and many others from various boundary States, who, it is expected, will confer with the general during his stay here relative to the conditions at present existing in their respective parts of the country.

REPUTATION IS BAD.

Wyoming Citizens Petition Secretary of State Not to Let Young Ferris Drive an Auto There.

According to press dispatches from Rawlins, Wyo., where Ralph Sterling Ferris lives when not in California breaking its speed laws, the young fellow has a bad reputation there as a reckless driver. Rawlins citizens have petitioned the Secretary of State of Wyoming not to issue a chauffeur's license to Ferris.

However, Ferris may give up racing entirely especially if he is found guilty of manslaughter. He will appear in Justice Reeve's court August 4 for trial on a charge of violating the State speeding law. The manslaughter case has been continued until September.

It is possible, however, that his attorney, Paul Schenck, will secure his release on legal technicalities through the Appellate Court.

Norton Flops Again.

will mean an annual saving of many thousand dollars, for if the mandamus proceedings against the Sheriff prove successful then the other county officers who receive fees would doubtless abide by the court's ruling in the case of the Sheriff's office.

All civil suits brought by the county are now in charge of the County Counsel and not the District Attorney. Unless there is some reason why Norton wishes his private lawyer to aid in the test suit it is difficult to see, say court officials, why he is so anxious for special counsel.

When the resolution to attack the system of fees was passed by the board, Norton alone dissenting, Supervisor Hinshaw made another motion to the effect that outside counsel and others interested in the suit can be joined with the county.

Monday, Norton brought F. R. Baker, said to be his private lawyer, into the Supervisorial chamber in an attempt to prove that bills for detectives in the Lee Rial case should not be paid.

Norton has refused to "O.K." the bills because of his personal animosity for Capt. Fredericks. If the bill of the Thiel Detective Agency is not paid, suit will be brought against the county.

WATER HEARING DEFERRED.

But That of State Railroad Commission on Safety of Passengers Will Be Held Today Without Fail.

Commissioner Edgerton of the State Railroad Commission was unavoidably detained yesterday in the North.

As a result the investigation as to the reasons why the Hermosa Beach Water Company and Dr. Quintin J. Rowley have failed to comply with the commission's order of February 4 directing the betterment of water service to Hermosa Beach, Manhattan Beach and the Redondo Villa tract, which was scheduled for yesterday morning, was postponed until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

As a result of this postponement, the commission's investigation of "safety" problems in their general applicability to the railroads, and particularly to the Pacific Electric, which is scheduled for today, is given preference, which presupposes a rather lengthy hearing. This hearing will begin at 10 o'clock today in the Supreme Court rooms in the Bullard building, before Commissioners Edgerton and Gordon.

PEZET VISITS NEWPORT.

NEWPORT BEACH, July 30.—Minister Pezet of Peru, was the guest of the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce here today, Wednesday, and was entertained with a launch ride around Newport Bay and through the entrance of the bay into the Pacific Ocean, also with a banquet at the Hotel Balboa.

A special car on the Pacific Electric carried the party, which consisted of Minister Fredrico A. Pezet, his son, A. Washington Pezet, attache of the Peruvian legation at Washington; E. J. Louis, head of the Newport Bay Investment Company, and Vice-Consul of Peru, Mr. and Mrs. Ralf P. Dignowity, Miss Grace Leonard, John H. Watts and E. L. Taylor, traveling passenger agent of the Pacific Electric Railroad.

Albert Hermes, president of the Board of Trustees of Newport Beach presided at the banquet at which the Peruvian Minister stated that with the completion of the Panama Canal all of the ports of the Pacific Coast would be crowded and that there would be no need for the development of new harbors. He said that nature had been kind in laying out Newport harbor and doubted not that within a few years the enterprise of Newport Beach citizens would carry to completion not only the present harbor improvements bonds but other as well and that Newport would take its place among the principal harbors of the Pacific Coast.

IMPERIAL NOTES.

IMPERIAL, July 30.—The increase in the valuation in the Southern Pacific lands in the north end of the valley from $1 per acre to $15 and $30 per acre will stand. Attorney Hobbs and Land Commissioner McAllister, of the railroad company, appeared before the Equalization Board and laid before them the claims of the company in the matter. After hearing the claims of the company the board called a number of witnesses to prove that the patented claims of the company were worth more as salable property than lands secured on possessory rights, and therefore the board stood by its former decision in the case. The increase in valuation of these lands is worth about $10,000 to the county annually. At the same time the board raised the Southern Pacific lands it lowered the lands by the Salton Sea by $44,000.

The contract for grading the ten miles of the San Diego and Arizona Railroad running westward from Seeley to Dixieland has been awarded to Robert Sherer & Co., of Los Angeles. This removes all remaining doubt that the construction of this section of the road will be undertaken this year. This ten miles will extend the line westward to a point four miles west of Coyote Wells, about five miles from the San Diego county line.

NEW POSTMASTER.

M'KITTRICK, July 30.—Warren Rodgers has, according to information received from Washington, been appointed postmaster of McKittrick, to succeed O. H. Tetzlaff, resigned. Mr. Tetzlaff, who for the past four years has filled the office most acceptably, sent in his resignation on account of his prospective removal from the city, his intention being to engage in business in the vicinity of Los Angeles. Mr. Rodgers had the active support of the Democratic Central Committee of Kern county. He has long taken a leading part in municipal matters, and since the incorporation of McKittrick has occupied the position of City Clerk. The new official will enter upon the discharge of his duties at an early day.

Most Remarkable Among the Alfalfa and Dairy Districts

The marvelous development accomplished by the watering of this fertile area is one of the wonders of Southern California. You must see it, make your own comparisons, and realize for yourself that fertile land, with water rights, can be bought for $150 per acre, while improved farms adjacent are held as high as $450 per acre.

Alfalfa yields both quality and quantity. Live stock and poultry find natural health-promoting conditions. All the fruits succeed and even oranges and lemons are grown profitably in the surrounding foothills.

Pasadena.

COUPLE ELOPE; PARENTS FORGIVE.

South Pasadena Youngsters Take Reins in Hand.

Bride Daughter of Capitalist of Wilmington, Del.

Tax Rate Fixed at Limit Allowed by Law.

PASADENA, July 31.—After a two-year engagement, but with their parents still insisting that they wait until they are older before marrying, Miss Helen H. Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Taylor of Wilmington, Del., who have a palatial winter home at the corner of Santa Rosa avenue and Calaveras street in Altadena, and Grosvenor A. Morse, son of Dr. and Mrs. Westlake D. Morse of No. 774 South Orange Grove avenue, eloped yesterday morning. They leaped into an automobile, sped swiftly to the County Clerk's office in Los Angeles for a license, then to a minister's, where the knot was tied, and then the bride telephoned sweetly to papa that she was Mrs. Morse.

The news was somewhat of a shock to the capitalist, who had only arrived from the East the night before, but he told the couple to come home and talk things over. An interview followed in which they were forgiven, and after luncheon they started for San Francisco on their honeymoon. The bride is 18 years old and the bridegroom 21. They expect soon to return and make Pasadena their home. Morse is employed at the Security National Bank.

Following the announcement of the engagement, two years ago, the bride took a long European trip. She remained away until about two months ago, when she returned to America and with her mother came on to Pasadena. On arriving here the old romance was fanned into a fresh flame and the young lady insisted that she be permitted to marry right away. Her parents were opposed to this and after she had waited for her father to arrive last Tuesday and found him still obdurate she took to managing things for herself, and no time was wasted.

Mrs. Morse has been one of the most popular members of the younger social set for several winters and her husband is a graduate of the Pasadena High School and one of the best-known young men in the city. His father is a dentist.

TAX RATE TO BE LIMIT.

This year's tax rate will be $1 on each $100 assessed valuation. This is the maximum limit. Last year it was 96 cents.

While the rate has not been officially fixed, the commissioners stated at the close of an all-day session yesterday that there remains no doubt this is what it will be. They will adopt the formal resolution fixing it when they meet again tomorrow.

The idea of calling a bond election for voting on an issue with which to pay the $25,000 that will be Pasadena's share of the cost of the California-street bridge, built jointly with the county, has been abandoned. The $25,000 is included in the budget as it now stands.

In order to trim the budget down to a figure which would admit of even a $1 tax rate, the commissioners sliced $70,000 from it. The park, police, fire and street departments are the heaviest losers. Nine thousand, nine hundred dollars was clipped from the estimate of the fire department. There will still be a sufficient appropriation, however, for the purchase of two new pieces of motor-driven apparatus, one of them an aerial tower. The police department will have to forego most of the ten extra patrolmen, who were to be appointed. There will be but three or four men added to the force.

NEW LINE IN OPERATION.

Residents of the northwest part of the city were made happy yesterday, when at 10:15 o'clock in the morning the first car was run over the new Pacific Electric Lincoln-avenue line, extending from North Fair Oaks avenue to Montana street, distance of about two miles and a half. It took fifteen minutes to complete the run and there was a notable group of passengers on the car. Among them were Paul Shoup, president of the company; D. W. Pontius, traffic manager; J. McMillan, general manager; Edward Clark, assistant superintendent; W. D. Hill, tax agent, all of the Pacific Electric; F. W. Mahl, director of purchasing for the Southern Pacific; William Easterbrook, John McDonald, F. R. Schanck, William H. Tedder, Frank P. Capin, Chaplin B. O. Kendall, Rev. Amos Glockley, William Washburn, Benjamin Yaw, W. K. Fogg, Albert Harswell, F. M. Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. John McCausland, Mrs. C. M. Clarke, Mrs. N. A. Sherwin and David Boice. Charles Rosenfeld was the conductor and Henry Zangraft the motorman. All voted the new road the smoothest in the city.

SCHOOL BOARD TO SCRIMP.

The Board of Education, whose budget troubles are ever greater than those of the City Commission, yesterday issued a statement which follows, in part:

"County Superintendent of Schools Keppel informed the board that the maximum rate he will recommend for Pasadena and Los Angeles this year is 30 cents for every $100 valuation; in fact, he was disposed to recommend only a rate of 25 cents for the high schools of each city, but on a careful consideration of our position he conceded that a 30-cent rate for both cities is necessary.

"With the balance on hand July 1, 1913, of $22,078 from last year in the elementary school fund, a balance of $30,928 is left for janitors' salaries, laborers and supplies, light, water, fuel, upkeep of grounds and apparatus and the general expense of maintenance. With an increase of pupils and an increased demand for rooms and teachers, the Board of Education considers the work of the next school year will fall short of what it ought to be.

"Increased size and extended courses of the High School add largely to the expense in way of supplies, apparatus, equipment and maintenance, but the amount to be received by strict economy may be made to meet the demands. Salaries paid to teachers in the elementary schools for 1912-13 amounted to $234,790, and with the natural increase promised last year to those under the $1100 maximum, the salaries for the year 1913-14, including those of the intermediate school, will amount to $262,450. This includes the salaries of all principals of the elementary department."

CITY BRIEFS.

Superintendent of Parks Albrecht reported yesterday that there are now in Pasadena 26,000 street trees, many of which were raised in the municipal nursery. There are now in the nursery 14,000 trees, all of which he expects to plant next year. They are of twenty different varieties.

As the result of a fight with a fellow-employee at Alpine Tavern on Mt. Lowe, Joseph DeGuen, the pontryman at the hotel, descended the mountain yesterday and went to Dr. A. W. Viney with his jaw broken in three places. Thinking his injury was not serious, he remained at the hotel for three days before seeking medical attention. He was taken to the Pasadena Hospital.

Climate Failed Medicine Effective

Rest, fresh air and well-cooked, nourishing food do help many people suffering with Lung Trouble. But in many cases the disease is only temporarily "arrested," and something more is needed. Eckman's Alterative is a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles and has brought about many complete recoveries—in many cases where the surroundings were not ideal. Judging by the many reports of recoveries received, we believe it should be used in every case of Lung Trouble. A remarkable case follows:

Weldon, Ill.

"My Dear Sir: Through your instrumentality I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia which developed into Consumption. In February, 1905, I went to Fort Worth, Texas, and later to Canon City, Colorado. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

"On July 14, 1905, I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption. Today I weigh 158 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator."

(Affidavit) ARTHUR WEBB.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by the Owl Drug Co. and other leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

Long Beach.

AGED VOLUME IS UTILIZED.

First Hymn Book in Morning Devotional Service.

Long Beach Will Wage a War on Slavers.

Garden Fete for Charity Nets Considerable Cash.

LONG BEACH, July 30.—The session of the Christian assembly this morning was ushered in with a unique devotional service. It was conducted by Rev. J. D. Houston of Corona, who used a copy of the first hymn book published by the Christian Church, entitled "Psalms, Hymns and Spiritual Songs Adopted to the Christian Religion by Alexander Campbell, Bethany, Brooke County, Virginia, 1832."

Dr. Houston "lined" the hymns in old-time fashion and Rev. Lloyd Darsie of Hollywood led without musical accompaniment, also singing one of the hymns as a solo.

"Co-operation" was the theme of the morning session and addresses were made by Revs. Booker Smith, L. G. Thompson, Robert H. Orr, Jesse P. McKnight and F. E. Billington, Mrs. Nettie Poor and S. M. Cooper, the latter a business man of Los Angeles, who spoke on "The Christian Citizen," and gave a rap at political citizenry when he expressed contempt for the man who is indifferent to the obligations of citizenship, and who though an essential part of the basis of government, takes no part in governmental affairs, or participating in government, makes it an instrument for advancing the interests of the few at the expense of the many.

Aside from the annual ball game this afternoon the only business was a conference on benevolent work, conducted by J. H. Mohorter of St. Louis, general secretary of the National Benevolent Association. Tomorrow is "Recognition Day" and will be mainly devoted to church extension, ministerial relief and benevolences.

WHITE SLAVERS.

A committee from the Ministerial Association, Ebell, W.C.T.U., Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A., Parent-Teachers and Associated Charities last night asked the City Council to include in the next budget provision for an increased police force, in selecting which policewomen are to be placed in power subject to the surge and authority of the Chief of the male officers and also for the placing of a searchlight on the roof of the sun parlor and to be maintained not only as an amusement feature, but as a protection against immoral and unbecoming conduct on the beach after night, the searchlight to be of sufficient power to carry up and down the beach to both extremes of the city limits. The request was taken under advisement. A little later Mrs. F. E. Young, acting for the Welfare Union, was granted permission to issue a letter, which will be signed officially by Mayor Hatch, and will be sent to all mothers in Long Beach, warning them to not allow their daughters to travel on the streets unless properly attended. In support of her plea Mrs. Young asserted the existence of a white slave ring in Southern California which proposed to supply girls for immoral purposes to the two expositions in 1915, and that attempts had already been made in Long Beach to secure recruits for the traffic.

WRITES STRANGE LETTER.

Mrs. John Hemenway of this city yesterday received a letter from Carl Cook, Clerk of Lincoln county, Wyoming, notifying her that John Sargent, as her husband is known in Wyoming, had been found dead in his cabin near Moran, and had evidently shot himself. Death had occurred several days before the body was found. He enclosed a letter addressed to Mrs. Hemenway, which reads:

"Dear Wife of Mine.—I win. In spite of Hemenway and A. A. Anderson's millions, my spirit joins Luther's, Morgan's, Buck's and the rest, and I now have the name. Better read 'Fruit of Solitude' as I have and heed Herbert. Our spirits will be together with our mother. Loyally, JACK.

Old Pine Tree, mother's birthday, June, 1913.

Mrs. Hemenway knows of no reason for the suicide and fails to understand the letter. They had a cabin on top of a range in Wyoming, where Sargent or Hemenway loved to stay, and when he and his wife came here several months ago to live, he pined for the wild life and left about the first of June, leaving his wife to spend the summer. Both are eccentric in many things, and this living apart surprised neither themselves nor their friends. Hemenway expected to return here in August. He leaves a considerable estate, to which his wife is heir.

GARDEN FETE.

A municipal bond election and the garden fete at the Virginia Country Club for the benefit of Bethlehem Inn, today contributed to a dullness in city affairs that was noticeable. But of the two attractions the garden fete was the most important and from 10 o'clock all roads led east to the Country Club grounds, transformed into a fantastic fairy-land by the deft hands of the society women, who tonight are resting upon the laurels of a third successful effort for charity, for which all credit is due Mrs. Arthur M. Goodhue and her willing and enthusiastic co-workers. Bethlehem Inn has profited by several hundred dollars, how much will not be known until tomorrow, when all receipts are in, but it will be in excess of any sum heretofore turned over to the women at the head of the charity. Merchants of the city were generous in donations and autos in plenty were proffered to carry visitors from the car line to the club grounds.

A Reception Committee received the visitors and made them feel at home from the start. The parcel post booth, the Japanese garden, the Hawaiian native coffee hut, and the gypsy camp under the trees, all designed with strict attention to detail in decorations and costume of the atendants, were attractive devices to gather coin for charity's sake and while the guests sipped coffee or tea, ate ice cream or bon bons or had the mysteries of the future foretold—all the while and between times there was music—music by the Municipal Band playing in a great rustic arbor covered with green boughs, and music by singers engaged, who appeared out on the porch, on the lawn or anywhere fancy and caprice dictated and sang ditties that were given insistent encores. The singers comprised a local quartette, Mmes. Wiseman and Harriman and Messrs. Isaacs and Parmley, Mrs. Lois Morton in solos; Miss Collier Woodall in contralto solos, accompanied by the band; Earl Bright and Miss Fannel Lorraine in musical numbers. The dancers included a group of professionals from Los Angeles, in addition to Misses Dorothy Smiller and Mary Gwynn of this city, the two last in descriptive dances.

The Aloha or Hawaiian booth was in charge of Mrs. H. S. Callahan, assisted by Mmes. T. D. McFarland, William Wainwright and William Betterly.

In charge of the June roses cluster booth were Mrs. Ellsworth Hatch, Mmes. Frank Damron, William Ramsaur, Richard Short and Misses Mabel Grundy and Gladys Barndollar.

Ice cream booth—Mrs. H. H. Lochridge, assisted by Mmes. Robert Rattray, William Dame, Guy La-Touche, J. Pettijohn, Bert Paul and Misses Freda Lodge and May Valentine.

Japanese tea garden—Mrs. George C. Flint, assisted by Mmes. A. C. Sellery, William J. Gardner and Miss Dorothy Kenyon.

Gypsy camp—Mrs. W. L. Camp and Mmes. H. L. Harrison, G. A. Miller, William Rogers, Carl Stanley Crause and Miss Ada Robinson.

Scientific diversions—Mmes. C. E. Kellogg, F. C. Rogers.

Fountain—Charles Spence, A. J. Strachan and Misses Nellie Cronkite Potter and Alice Rogers.

The Reception Committee was headed by Mrs. Clinton J. Curtis, assisted by Mmes. G. A. Mohrenstecher, J. J. Penny, John Craig, Glenn C. Burbank, Horace Enos and George Knight.

The Cage submarine, which has been on drydock ever since its successful thirty-six-hour submergence test, was placed in the water this evening, after having her steering and diving rudders adjusted and working in entire harmony with the machinery. Now fully equipped speed tests and maneuvering exhibitions will be made during the next few weeks to ascertain the full capabilities of the craft, and Manager Cage stated today that some day next week the submarine will make its first ocean going trip, possibly going to Catalina or around the breakwater.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, July 30.—Charles A. Ballard of Elsinore was arrested Monday on a charge of threatening to kill his wife. The wife made the complaint. Ballard was lodged in the City Jail over night, but finding an unlocked door, went home, returning to town, however, early in the morning and giving himself up. He was bound over to the Superior Court and was taken to Riverside yesterday by Marshal Haworth and Deputy Sheriff Niemann.

It is reported that Ballard had been armed with a variety of shooting irons, besides an ax, and that he made many threats.

FIVE MILLION ACRES FOR MEN FROM SWITZERLAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 30.—After years of delayed development, the great riale concession of 5,000,000 acres between Magdalena Bay and Todos Santos, Lower California, is to be colonized, according to statements made today by Dr. Henri Arnold of Luzerne, Switzerland, who is here as the representative of the Swiss Colonization Company, which already has flourishing colonies in South America.

Dr. Arnold, with a party of about eighteen associates, arrived here this morning on the power boat Virginia from Magdalena Bay, to which place they sailed from San Pedro via this port, July 5.

Speaking of the colonization movement, Dr. Arnold said today:

"Within four weeks the advance guard of 700 Swiss colonists will arrive at Magdalena Bay from Switzerland by way of Panama, and the full 700 will be at the colony during this year. We have secured 1,000,000 acres of the 4,500,000 acres that comprise the Hale concession.

FIVE HIGHWAYS OUT OF CITY.

San Bernardino to Be Hub of the System.

Two Hundred Miles of Boulevard for County.

Pacific Electric Gets Reduction in Damage Suit.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 30.—The County Highway Commission today started out to systematically view the roads of the county and confer with the residents of the various sections as to what roads they feel should be built under the county bond issue.

The first communities visited were the Yucaipa Valley this morning and the three Highlands this afternoon. In both places conferences were held with a view to laying out roads that will be of the greatest service to the greatest number of people.

Friday they will visit Colton and go to the Riverside county line, also make a trip through the Rialto colony. The Mission, Bryn Mawr and Loma Linda districts have already been visited.

This city being the county seat, it is expected that main highways from at least five directions will center here, possibly more. Roads will enter here from Redlands, from Highland, from the Cajon leading to the desert, from Colton and Riverside, and from Rialto, all these beside the State highway, work on the latter to at once commence.

It is expected by the commission that at least 200 miles of highway will be built under the bond issue, the exact amount of which has not as yet been fixed. It will however be at least $1,500,000.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

The sum of $4981 was this afternoon awarded to Mrs. Harriet Longstreet Gray for damages to her land at Red Hill, near Upland, against the Pacific Electric Railroad for right of way purposes. The Red Hill Tile and Brick Company, which also appeared in the case, having the land leased, gets nothing. The two sued the railroad for $187,000 damages, so they get just one-fortieth of the sum they asked for. The case has been on trial here for ten days before Judge Finlayson of Los Angeles. This is the last right of way case to be settled on the new line, now under construction between San Bernardino and Upland and which it is expected will be in operation about the first of the new year.

SHORT NEWS STORIES.

The prospective opening of the Pacific Electric lines from this city to Riverside and also to Upland and Los Angeles, has already caused much activity in land along the lines and adjacent to this city. Several Los Angeles investors have in the last few weeks secured control of a number of pieces of land close to the city, and it daily becomes more sure that the coming winter will see the greatest activity in real estate and building the city has known for many years, and possibly in its history.

The case against Jim Chang, charged with contributing to the delinquency of Flora Pratt, found drinking beer with him, has been dismissed. Evidence indicated the girl is 18 years of age, and her father said he was going to take his family from the city in a few days.

The corner of Ninth and E streets has been purchased by R. F. Garner from the Hudson heirs, and it is believed the buy was made by Garner to be turned over to the First Congregational Church for a new church edifice. The church now occupied has been sold to the government, the ground to be used as a site for a new Federal building, therefore the congregation must look about for a new site and building. Mr. Garner is a member of the board of trustees of the church and the board has favored the Hudson corner for the new building.

ROADS WITH CONCRETE BASES.

San Bernardino County Highway Commissioners Spend Day Figuring Out Boulevard System.

REDLANDS, July 30.—County Highway Commissioners J. J. Prendergast, J. B. Gill and W. A. Freemire spent yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of Loma Linda, studying the best connections that can be made between the good roads of Riverside and San Bernardino counties. They were met at Bryn Mawr by C. A. Puffer, who discussed with them the needs of the Redlands Junction section, and a number of citizens of Redlands.

The commissioners have virtually decided that roads with concrete bases are the best investment, if the cement prices are not too high, and are in favor of eighteen feet of macadam on all principal roads.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Six mothers, all working women, and ten sun-burned but happy children, have just returned from Bay City, where they have been camping as the guests of the local Associated Charities. They had a fine time. Some of the youngsters had never seen the ocean before. One of the mothers said it seemed like a vacation just not to have to get up at 5 o'clock in the morning. It was the first vacation most of them had ever had.

Miss Margaret Mack, secretary of the local Y.M.C.A., Miss Isabel Carpenter and Mrs. Henry Fuller will be the delegates of the local institution to the California-Arizona-Nevada conference of the Y.W.C.A., opening at Pacific Grove August 1. Miss Hazel Wood, Miss Helen Field and Miss Nita Gordon will represent the Y.W.C.A. of the University of Redlands at the conference.

C. B. Flynn, the mining man who recently attained national prominence by winning a mining suit in the United States Supreme Court, getting a verdict of $416,000 from a syndicate of New York millionaires, has been spending the last week in Redlands visiting his sisters, Mrs. S. T. Reed and Mrs. C. M. Sweeney. The property that was the subject of the suit is located in Canada.

Judge P. G. McIver will start in a few weeks for a trip through the East, during the course of which he will go to Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, to visit his mother, whom he has not seen in 29 years. He has lived in Redlands twenty-six years.

WORK AMONG INVALIDS.

Methodist Official Tells of Duties Among the Victims of Tuberculosis in Arizona.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 30.—E. Guy Talbot, secretary of social service for the Methodist church in this conference, addressed the class in Home Missions at the Epworth League Institute here this morning. He described his first work among the consumptives of Arizona, of whom he himself was at that time one, as being very difficult because the man who is constantly facing death is in danger of becoming a fatalist. He believes, however, that this work has great possibilities of good for humanity. When Mr. Talbot had recovered his health he was sent to the northern part of this State, where he was the only Christian worker in a territory more than 100 miles square, situated in Monterey and adjacent counties.

A great student volunteer rally was held at Circle Park this evening at 6:30 o'clock. All who were considering the possibility of religious work as a life calling were invited to attend and listen to the addresses from various missionaries and field workers. Most of the audience brought their lunches and enjoyed a social hour together before the meeting.

At 4:30 this afternoon Mrs. Robert T. Hall of Fresno, who is in charge of the young people's work in her district, gave a demonstration of the activities of the "Standard Bearers," the young people's foreign missionary organization of the Methodist church.

"A Survey of Your Field" was the title of Dr. Dan B. Brummit's lecture before his class in Epworth League methods this morning.

The second of the series of athletic contests between the clergy and the laity present on the camp ground took place this afternoon at 4:30.

Rev. E. R. Willis, superintendent of the Deaconess Training School at San Francisco, accompanied by his wife, arrived this afternoon, to be present at the reception and demonstration to be given at the Deaconess Home here tomorrow.

BODY OF ANGELENO FOUND.

Remains of C. W. Richards Discovered Floating Upright in San Pedro Harbor—Inquest Thursday.

SAN PEDRO, July 30.—The body of a man about 50 years of age, was found floating in the inner harbor this morning at the foot of Fifth street. From papers found in the coat pockets the body is believed to be that of C. W. Richards, formerly residing at No. 816 Wall street, Los Angeles.

The man wore a dark suit of clothes, black shoes, had sandy mustache and hair and was about five feet eight inches in heighth. The man was a cripple, the right leg being about two inches shorter than the left. A briar pipe, silver mounted match box and a gold watch chain with a signet charm bearing the initials "C.W.R." were found upon the body.

The watch chain was broken and no money was found, which incline local police officers to the theory that the man was robbed and murdered and then thrown into the bay. The body when found was floating in an upright position. It was removed to Booth and Goodrich morgue to await a Coroner's inquest tomorrow.

SQUATTERS OFFER A DOLLAR.

Residents of East San Pedro Have an Alleged Lease Which Los Angeles Repudiates.

SAN PEDRO, July 30.—East San Pedro squatters who were granted fifty-year leases by the San Pedro trustees just before consolidation to the claims along the jetty made their annual pilgrimage to Los Angeles yesterday to tender their dollar each to the city clerk.

Although the courts have given the Salt Lake Railroad title to the land through the prior lease granted by the city of Long Beach while East San Pedro was under the jurisdiction of that city, many of the squatters still hope that some day their claims may be upheld.

The leases the San Pedro trustees granted a short time before the consolidation election, fixed the annual rental on each claim at $1. The city officials of Los Angeles have never recognized the leases in any way and have never accepted the dollar payments.

ORANGE.

ORANGE, July 30.—Today Dist.-Atty. L. A. West filed suit in the Superior Court against the city of Orange, asking an injunction to prevent the city from maintaining its septic tank and sewer farm as it is now run. The complaint alleges that the city's method of sewage disposal constitutes a public nuisance to the seventy-five residents of West Orange. It is asserted that foul and offensive odors arise from the septic tank and also from the sewage-irrigated lands, and that some of the walnut and fruit growers of the section have difficulty in getting their work in the fields and orchards done because employees leave them.

ATTACK JUDGE IN AFFIDAVIT.

Pacific Electric Ready to Build Extension.

RIVERSIDE, July 30.—The integrity of Superior Judge F. E. Dennison was questioned in allegations made today by Attorney Walter W. Rheinschfield of Los Angeles when the case of Stacy C. Lamb versus M. A. Curtis, the actor whose fame rests on his creation of the character of Samuel O'Posen, and Mrs. M. A. Curtis.

The case concerns the sale of a moving-picture house at Oxnard to Lamb, Curtis being charged with misrepresentation. The affidavit of the plaintiff, Lamb, who was represented by Attorney Rheinschfield, averred that he could not get a fair and impartial trial in Judge Dennison's court, in that the plaintiff had been advised by the defendant, Mrs. Curtis, that the judge was a life-long friend of Curtis, and that when action was started to set aside the deed and title to the land in question, the plaintiff's case would be thrown out of court and a verdict be given for the defendants.

It was alleged further that the court had advised Mrs. Curtis to have her husband declared a ward of the court, and that he would see that Curtis' rights were not interfered with; that Mrs. Curtis had received legal advice from the court and that the guardian appointed to care for the property involved are the judge's personal friends.

Controlling his evident anger over the allegations made, Judge Dennison ordered the case to proceed. The plaintiff declaring that he had no evidence to offer, the defendant moved that the case be dismissed, which motion was granted.

Both the defendants and the judge filed counter affidavits denying the allegations in their entirety.

The Riverside Polo Club has just completed the installation of what is regarded as the most extensive surface irrigation system in the State. This is designed to care for the turf which it is hoped to have in condition for the next polo tournament, and as early as October, when the county fair will be held on the grounds.

Seven thousand pipe of various sizes has been installed over the eleven acres, sprinklers being so placed that every square inch of surface can be irrigated by a simple twist of a hydrant. The turf consists of Bermuda grass mixed with Australian rye, a combination said to be ideal for polo purposes. It is hoped to cut the grass twice before October.

The Pacific Electric Railway Company is desirous of beginning construction work at once on its proposed line over the Magnolia-avenue extension, a two-mile stretch of roadway which brings the famed avenue right to the city's doors.

Before placing its order for castings, the company's construction engineer desires definite information from the City Council as to its attitude in the proposal to abandon a triangular section of roadway which the proposed new road would cut at two points. A public hearing will be held next Tuesday in order to ascertain the temper of the residents of the section of the city concerned.

INTERNATIONAL INCIDENT.

Japanese Nurseryman Charges That He Was Threatened With Death Unless He Left Porterville.

PORTERVILLE, July 30.—The international complications which threatened tonight when K. Takahira, who has the distinction of being the only Japanese allowed to remain in Porterville for more than a few hours, appealed to Chief of Police Ishum for protection. Takahira was in a complete state of panic, when he appeared to the officers that he had been approached while standing in front of a southside lodging-house and told to leave this city forthwith, under pain of being made the object of target practice with huge revolvers.

Isham made an investigation, but was unable to locate the men who are said to have threatened Takahira with violence unless he left town.

However, late this evening it is said that the Japanese, who is a nursery stock dealer of Fresno, found that his business interests would allow his immediate departure. Before leaving Takahira said he would communicate the facts to the Japanese Consul at San Francisco.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Winchester Deering, aged 31, who is said to have come here recently from Los Angeles, is being sought by the police on a charge of stealing a horse and buggy from a local livery stable. Deering is said to have rented a turnout Sunday and failed to return it. He was employed in the dairy district near here for some weeks, but little is known of him locally.

For the benefit of those of our patrons who may be interested in selling direct to the consumer, butter, eggs, dressed and undressed poultry, pigeons, rabbits and hares, home-made sausages, fruits and preserves, vegetables, needlework, handicraft and other articles that could be delivered by Parcel Post, The Times has made in its "Liner" section a special classification entitled.

"MARKET FOR MARKETERS"

Reducing the High Cost of Living by Bringing Producer and Consumer Into Direct Communication."

This new advertising feature of The Times will enable many of our patrons to materially increase their income by selling the products of farm, dairy and orchard, and home-made articles, direct to consumers, making delivery through the inexpensive Parcel Post.

The Times thoroughly and completely covers Los Angeles, Southern California, the San Joaquin Valley, Arizona and New Mexico, and through its "Liner" section, a money-making mail order or local business can readily be established.

The regular rates of 1 cent a word per insertion week days, and 1½ cents a word per insertion Sundays, will apply to advertising under the "Market for Marketers" heading.

ATTACK JUDGE IN AFFIDAVIT.

Pacific Electric Ready to Build Extension.

RIVERSIDE, July 30.—The integ- ity of Superior Judge F. E. Densmore was questioned in allegations made oday by Attorney Walter W. Rheinschfield of Los Angeles when the ase of Stacy C. Lamb versus M. B. urtis, the actor whose fame rests on is creation of the character of Samuel O'Posen, and Mrs. M. A. urtis.

The case concerns the sale of a oving-picture house at Oxnard to amb, Curtis being charged with mis- epresentation. The affidavit of the laintiff, Lamb, who was represented y Attorney Rheinschfield, averred hat he could not get a fair and im- artial trial in Judge Densmore's ourt, in that the plaintiff had been dvised by the defendant, Mrs. Curtis, hat the judge was a life-long friend f Curtis, and that when action was tarted to set aside the deed and title o the land in question, the plaintiff's ase would be thrown out of court nd a verdict be given for the de- endants.

It was alleged further that the court ad advised Mrs. Curtis to have her usband declared a ward of the court, nd that he would see that Curtis's ights were not interfered with; that rs. Curtis had received legal advice rom the court and that the guards ppointed to care for the property in- olved are the judge's personal riends.

Controlling his evident anger over he allegations made, Judge Densmore rdered the case to proceed. The laintiff declaring that he had no evi- ence to offer, the defendant moved hat the case be dismissed, which mo- ion was granted.

Both the defendants and the judge iled counter affidavits denying the al- egations in their entirety.

os Angeles musical circles were shocked yesterday to hear of the sud- n death in Boston of Miss Mar- erite Curtis, a talented young vio- inist born and educated in this city, ho died very suddenly of pneumonia ontracted during a concert in the Massachusetts city last Friday. Miss Curtis was the daughter of Mrs. Marguerite Curtis, who for many years lived at the old Abbey Hotel, on Hill street. Her father, a veteran of the Civil War, died some years ago at the Soldiers' Home. Both her parents were musically inclined and from early girlhood, Rita, as she was known to her many friends, had been an able and enthusiastic student of the violin. She played for the first time in public in Chicago twelve years ago, at which time she was but 14 years old.

She contracted a heavy cold at her Boston concert and, though she went immediately to a hospital for treat- ment, developed pneumonia and with- in thirty-six hours was dead. Her body was sent to the home of her mother, No. 251 West Thirty-fourth street, New York City, and is now on its way to California for burial.

MOROSCO'S BURBANK THEATER—Matinees Today, Saturday & Sunday.

THE SALE OF SEATS FOR THE Third Week Opens This Morning

"Madame Sherry," the stupendous musical hit at the Burbank Theater will be continued for another week—A third—beginning Sunday afternoon.

For two solid weeks there has been a long line of ticket buyers constantly in front of the box office from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m.

At any of the fourteen performances of this great musical success there has not been ONE single vacant seat in the big Burbank, while thousands of people have been unable to secure seats.

Seats for "Madame Sherry" are simply at a premium and that's the very good reason the Burbank management again urges all those who want to see the biggest hit in the history of the local stage to join that line of ticket buyers

RIGHT NOW—TODAY

Everybody can't see this sparkling musical success, for all good things must come to an end. Those who take the "hunch" and get their seats today for the third week of "Madame Sherry" are the only ones who can be absolutely sure of securing seats.

Over 20,000 theater goers are already walking advertisements for "Madame Sherry" and this number is increasing every day. That's the best reason for the overwhelming demand for seats.

NEW FEDERAD ATTORNEY WILL TAKE HOLD TOMORROW.

Must Find Voucher as to Good Character and Eligibility to Practice in All Courts of State Because He's Never Been Admitted to the Bar Here.

Albert Schoonover, the new United States District Attorney of San Diego, will tomorrow succeed A. I. McCormick, who has performed the duties for the past four years.

Dist.-Atty. McCormick received yesterday a message from his successor, that Schoonover had received a telegram from Atty.-Gen. McReynolds to the effect that his nomination had been confirmed by the Senate, that his commission had been forwarded, and that he would present himself Friday to begin work.

As the new District Attorney has never been admitted to practice in the United States Court here, it will be necessary for him to apply for such admission through some friend willing to vouch for his good character. A further condition is that he be eligible to practice in all of the courts of the State.

Dist.-Atty. McCormick will introduce the new head of the department to his subordinates and other Federal officials.

George Maurer winner of the second prize!

No one could guess how it was coming out! All day yesterday Times scholarship contestants were coming and going at headquarters, eager, questioning, filled with hope either for themselves or for their friends. "I hope this one will win!" "Oh, I hope that one will take first prize! But how about second?" "I can't win it, I'm not in the class to win it; but I hope so-and-so will!" "Has Polly scored?" 'How many did Little bring in?" "Do you believe Jerome has them?" "Some one's been saving up!" This was the kind of talk which kept buzzing all day at scholarship headquarters.

When five o'clock came and the scores were in, the poor score-keeper had a time to gain sufficient quiet to do the counting, which is no small task. To go back and be certain just who were below the 5000 mark on the morning the wayside prize contest was announced; just who were below 3000, and who in each of these classes had gone up farthest during the interval. At the top—among that wonderful Upper Ten—it was easy. It there resolved itself into the simple question of who brought in the most points yesterday, and so moved upward or marked the biggest steps where he stood.

Everyone was on the very tiptoe of excitement; and when it was shown

CHASE GLOOM AT CLUB JINKS.

JOY BUBBLES AT MIDSUMMER FEST OF FELLOWSHIP.

Los Angeles Athletic Club Serves Rare Entertainment and Well-done Food Mixed With Spicy Events on Vaudeville Order, Reflecting Great Credit on the Committee.

Good fellowship fairly spilled over at the midsummer dinner and jinks at the Los Angeles Athletic Club last week. It was a 100 per cent. pure as a bottled-in-bond merrymaking event. It was fifty-fifty all the way from the cold pig's knuckles to the mustard pattie a la rancid. Everybody got a toehold on a good time at the entrance to the cheery arena and from then on it was nothing but spiral dips and volplanes into Merryville.

It was one of the largest and best appointed of the summer affairs of the club and the committee in charge came in for many loud huzzahs. Youthful dancers, singers and readers and rotund orators introduced their peculiar side lines for the edification of the coatless bunch. "On with the uplift," was the ringing slogan of the gloom destroyers.

Harry Haideman, chairman of the Good Fellowship outfit of the club, presided and performed in truly big league fashion. He jumped the celery-picking nine last night and went over to the big boys with a bing.

The following pupils from the Egan school helped make the occasion a most happy one: Miss Agnes Woodward, Alice M. Smith, Arthur Brick, Otis Mercer, Miss Una Fleming and Thomas Taylor Drill. The L.A.A.C. and Ad Club quartettes sang several songs. Herman the Great showed 'em he could "come back;" Mildred Burns danced a la Russianesque; Frances Hood, six years old, danced on her toes; Carroll Dempster, Mildred Heinze and Zillah Withrow also danced. They were loudly applauded. Mrs. Charles Smead was accompanist. John Wray and Lou Guernsey delivered political speeches.

"MOVIE" ACTRESS PLAYS SAPPHO.

FLORENCE ROBERTS PRODUCING PLAY FOR FILMS.

Cannot Get Used to Habits of Motion Picture World—Production Will Be Wonderful—Majestic Films Expect to Make Great Success of This Play.

"Imagine making up one's fool face at eight-thirty in the morning and going to work with the shop girls and business men," moaned Miss Florence Roberts, who is under special contract with the Majestic Motion Picture Company for a film production of her famous play, "Sappho," looking about her appealingly. "I just can't get used to it."

"Can you just see me acting in a four-foot space?" continued Miss Roberts. "Why, I'm continually spilling out of the scenes. I can't get used to confining my wealth of action," and she laughed infectiously.

"At first I couldn't take acting before the camera seriously," said Miss Roberts. "It was all so amusing. Just when I was sure I was getting along swimmingly the director, who, by the way, is a dear, would shout, 'get closer,' or 'watch the side lines,' or something equally irrelevant to me, and of course I would turn his way, only to have him shout, 'Don't look at me,' and so it would go on. I'll never know, I guess, how many feet of film I spoiled. Then, too, one has to remember the clothes worn in scenes taken sometimes weeks before, and so I was continually getting in the right scene with the wrong clothes on, for the greater part of the first two weeks. But it's exciting and so I am glad the pictures are being taken. I can only say it's a wonderful experience."

The big ballroom scene where Sappho, the adventuress, meets Jean, the youth from the country, was taken yesterday at the Boyle Heights studio of the Majestic Company. This is one of the very colorful scenes of the production. It is a costume ball in honor of Sappho, whose lovers are many and whose arrival at the ball is the signal for the beginning of the festivities.

Down the great stairway with its huge vases of trailing wistaria comes this fascinating adventuress, her bared arms tossing back her clinging draperies, while from the balconies and the ballroom floor she is greeted by the mad, merry throng. Sappho, the beautiful wanton, is the center of admiration. For her the ball is given. For her the dancers from the orient whirl in mad abandon. Then she sees Jean. The rest of the play is too familiar to all to need mentioning, but it is refreshing to know that the play, as Miss Roberts renders it, will lose none of its flavor, its seduction, in the pictured acting of Miss Roberts, who has so strongly entrenched herself in the hearts of her audience that almost all of us are a bit jealous of even loaning her for a short time to the moving pictures.

Shelley Hull, who was leading man with Billy Burke last season, plays Jean. His characterization of the young man from the country who falls a victim to the wiles of Sappho is very satisfying. Hull is a good-looking chap and photographs even better looking than he appears on the stage, and that's going some.

Frederic Vroom, who plays the sculptor, one of Sappho's lovers, appeared at the ball in a viking costume. This costume was designed by Vroom more than thirty years ago, when he appeared with Edwin Booth in Booth's production of Macbeth. Both Lucius Henderson, who is directing "Sappho," and Vroom were associated with Booth in many Shakesperian plays.

OFFICER SHOOTS HOLD-UP.

Old-Fashioned Gun Play at Plaza in Which Mexican Affair Is Interrupted.

Antonio St. George, a special policeman, interrupted a Mexican hold-up at the Plaza last night, and shot one of the bandits. The wounded man, giving his name as Manuel Sanchez, was taken to the Receiving Hospital, with the bullet still at large in his body.

Ascencion Martinez, the victim, had come into the city from Monrovia to lend his voice in the Diaz affair. He carried some money. Sanchez and a fellow-worker scented it last night, and when Martinez started to catch his car the two followed him, and held him up in a dark spot.

Proceedings were progressing finely when St. George, No. 1527 Bridge street, appeared, ordered a halt, and Sanchez and his companion fled. St. George fired at Sanchez, shooting him through the right shoulder.

SURPRISING DOCUMENT FILED IN BAD CHECK CASE.

"I Money Loan Ten Dollar," Says the "Complain," "and He Give Me Check Which Hon. Bank It Pronounce Indiscreet to Cash on Account of Funds Being Absent."

One of the most remarkable legal documents that ever came into the hands of Los Angeles county officials was filed yesterday with Deputy District Attorney Veitch by a Japanese who actually believed the document would insure the arrest of his countryman and also serve in a civil action to recover money loaned.

The Japanese, O. Motokichi, is a student of law at Bakersfield. He called on Veitch, bowing deeply.

"Is the Honorable, the District Attorney in?" inquired he, with great politeness.

"He has left for the day," replied Veitch, "but I am one of his deputies. What can I do for you?"

"I complain against Nakamizu," said the visitor diffidently. "I money loan $10 and he give me check which honorable bank it pronounce indiscreet to cash on account of funds being absent."

Thereupon he produced the following document:

COMPLAIN

Officer 25th July 1913

No. 124 3th'd street Los Angeles, Calif.

The plaintiff complains and alleges

That the defendant registered name as the Nakamizu in this Tomio's boarding house, occupied 21 room next to my room 23, he told me his name as Nagamichi but; Tomio says his true name probable Nakanishi.

He was received as guest by Tomio-at the day 7th June 1913 and he has stopped until the Day of 22n'd July, 1913 and did not come back, seems paid up all board.

On the day of june defendant asks me to lend money cash $80.00; but I did not lend, Later, on the day of july, he asks me to lend money, $5.00, I lend him against my motto and deposited me with bank check, that seemed false, but I did not investigated about it, the defendant returned with the moneys undue time and give me 50 cents extra.

The defendant asks me to lend money, $10.00 dollors in specil carry to make up for other people sake and give me a check-Merchants Bank and Trust Company, $100.00 dollers as this being orinal issue name with M. Tanaka this check seemed false and when I investigated with this is indeed false check.

The defendant did same things from the house stable man white man from the neighboring house one block distance from my place where people going to report, I hear Tomio just lend moneys $10.00, I hear but did not receive any check.

6 (In red ink.—[Ed.)

Defendant is short about 5 feets 1 inch; and japanese. He is alike a great deal with Hon. former secretary of state now senator ROOT. easy to find out.

Defendants says he has been married with white woman and raise a son or daughter, 11 years old now, his wife being deid and he keeped his child "to the place of his wife's perrent who lives No. 53 35th street near vernon ave. Los Angeles, I hear defendant married somewhere Rode Island with her and came over Los Angeles lived up 5 years.

Demand for Judgement.

Deputy District Attorney Veitch read the document without a smile. He at once saw under the stated facts that the alleged fictitious check was merely given as security for the loan and therefore no criminal action can be brought.

"I leave you this complaint," said the Japanese. "Perhaps some notice from the Honorable District Attorney will make Nakamizu afraid for his safety. He did not do rightly by me."

Veitch assured Motokichi that if there is any chance of obtaining the $10 he will inform him. He said a civil action can be brought in the Justice Court. This may be done.

Veitch has the original document. He will preserve it as a genuine attempt on the part of a Japanese to cope with the intricacies of our language and with the legal diction required in all actions whether civil or criminal.

NEXT MONDAY'S PAY DAY.

County Employees to Get Their Salaries Under New Ordinance, Referendum Attempts Notwithstanding.

As far as the county officials are concerned, no new move has been made regarding the referendum against the salary ordinance. The county employees will be paid next Monday, and those entitled to raises will get the increases noted in the ordinance.

It is believed that the lawyers who framed some sort of a petition to the Supreme Court do not expect any judicial action, inasmuch as the Appellate Court has refused to grant a writ.

However, if the Supreme Court indicates a desire to hear arguments, the county will send some member of the District Attorney's staff to present the arguments that prevailed in the hearing before the Appellate Court.

About twenty witnesses were examined before the grand jury yesterday in regard to the validity of their signatures on the referendum petition which has been knocked out not only by its own apparent corruption, but also by the recent ruling of the Appellate Court that additional names to bolster up the fallen instrument are not to be checked up.

The grand jury is evidently desirous of getting fairly complete returns on a number of the petitions in which forgery and perjury seemed most apparent. Investigation will be resumed tomorrow.

DESERTS SLEEPING OFFICER.

Pete Apodoca, Charged With Two Murders, Releases Himself From Shackles in the Hills.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, July 30.—Pete Apodoca, whom the police say is a self-confessed double murderer, is sought tonight by a large posse in the mountains near Tehachepi. The Mexican escaped last night by freeing himself from shackles which bound him to Constable Charmicle while the officer slept, securing Charmicle's pistol and arriving safely in the foothills.

Apodoca had confessed, the officials said, to the murder of S. Madora and A. Columbo. Just before his escape he had been brought to Tehachapi, where he had agreed to point out the place where Columbo's body had been hidden in a well. He appeared to be unable to locate the well, and when darkness fell the Constable fastened the man's arm to his. Then the officer fell asleep.

ANGELENO HURT.

REDONDO BEACH, July 30.—George Barker of Los Angeles was struck by a Playa Del Rey car last night at midnight at El Segundo and had one of his legs broken in two places and badly crushed. Barker and a companion were going clam digging and blinded by the headlight of a car northbound, he stepped from one track directly in front of the Redondo bound car on the other track. He was thrown by the fender and so escaped more serious injury. He was brought to the Redondo Hospital and today removed to the Forester's Hospital, being a member of that order.

Farewell Engagement.

YIDDISH ACTORS AT AUDITORIUM.

INTENSELY REALISTIC TRAGEDY OF GORDIN.

Modern Yiddish Tragedy Admirably Interpretated by Jacob P. Adler and His Eminent Company of Actors—Young Stella Adler and Samuel Tobias Special Features.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

As a farewell engagement of the longest and most successful season of Yiddish drama here, Jacob P. Adler and his company presented last night at the Auditorium "The True Power."

Next Friday evening the second great tragedy of Gordin, "The Tree of Knowledge," will be given, and will terminate the engagement of these talented artists on the Coast.

Seven dramas have been given, each one different and illustrating a phase of the evolution through which the Yiddish drama is passing.

Beginning with the morality plays, the historical tragedy like "Da Costa," the realistic drama, thoroughly modern, has been reached in these last two performances.

Jacob Gordin, the eminent playwright, author of "The True Power" and of a number of tragedies, is essentially modern, intensely realistic.

This great writer represented until his recent death, the secessionist movement in the Yiddish drama. His viewpoint was entirely the opposite of another distinguished authority, Moses Horowitz, whose conservatism desired to retain the ancient forms and to bring back the Yiddish stage to the interpretation of religious or historical plays without following the modernist tendencies of the Slav element in Yiddish literature.

Like all the tragedies of Jacob Gordin, "The True Power" is complex, burdened with several side actions which at times obscure the main and essential theme, which is, however, of poignant realism and tragic.

Dr. Goldenweisser, a typical East Side Jewish physician, had long been a widower; he had a daughter of 12 and lived in great and evident comfort with his old mother.

He felt the lonesomeness of his life, filled only with his duties to his patients and his studies. Like great minds which have long reached maturity, youth, specially in woman, proved a potent attraction.

Dr. Goldenweisser, the middle-aged scientist fell in love with the buxom daughter of the Cantor Reb Zarches, who neither mentally nor socially was his equal.

She is young, simple, foolish and more or less innocent which seemed to be the desiratum.

Like a dutiful son should, the doctor asked his old mother her permission and Tania Zarches found herself installed in the house, as the mistress of the household under difficult conditions; frequent and long absences of her husband, the lukewarm attentions of a middle-aged man, the mother-in-law—the little daughter.

These combined difficulties aggravated by the presence of Mark, the doctor's brother, young, lazy, passionate, conspired to accomplish the easy downfall of a girl of primitive instincts and low mentality.

When the doctor discovered the truth, he allowed Tania to remain in his house as a stranger.

Then the little Olla sickened and died and the great scientist, broken in spirits, alone, found in his sorrow the true power of forgiveness, and took back his truant wife.

The play is entirely in Yiddish without any English interpolations, and is strikingly frank in many instances.

With his accustomed finish Jacob P. Adler impersonated the sympathetic Dr. Goldenweisser; Tania Zarches, the young wife was given by Mrs. Sarah Adler with extraordinary fidelity. Madame Goldenweisser, the mother, was the role of Mrs. Epstein who acquitted herself with much credit. Olla the daughter was impersonated by Stella Adler, the youngest daughter of Mr. Adler, who has already much talent. Hinten, the teacher and friend was most acceptably done by Mr. Schoengold.

One of the best roles was that of Reb Zarches, the asthmatic cantor, one of the best parts which does credit to Samuel Tobias.

Ontario Votes With Practical Unanimity to Turn Over Public Utility Regulation to Commission.

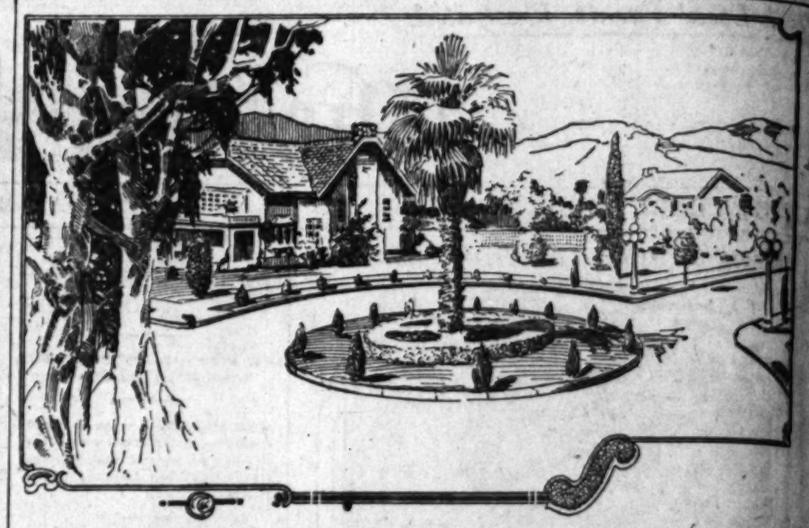
ONTARIO, July 30.—Councilman J. V. Caldwell, who for more than a year has persistently championed a fight for cheaper gas in this city, is today patting himself on the back for having won what he declares is the first round in the struggle.

The present rate here is $1.50 per 1000 and after a number of vain efforts to have the Council lower the rate to $1, Caldwell decided that the most satisfactory way to handle the matter would be to give the voters a chance to turn the control of gas corporations within the city of Ontario over to the State Railroad Commission, with the probable result that it would be lowered and this is what they did yesterday, the ordinance calling the election being drawn up on Caldwell's motion.

In voting on the proposition, it was necessary to vote on a number of others, the only one having any effect on the city government being that in regard to the control of railroad corporations, which the people also turned over to the State commission. The election was perhaps the most quiet in the city's history and was for the most part lacking in enthusiasm. But 162 votes were cast. It is now up to the Railroad Commission to decide whether or not Ontario people get cheaper gas.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Max Espinoza of this city is charged by his wife with failure to provide for herself and their small children, who have left the husband and father and taken up their residence at Bryn Mawr. Espinoza's preliminary hearing is set for August 5. He is represented by Attorney Archie D. Mitchell of this city. Espinoza claims that his trouble is the result of too much mother-in-law, who has influenced his wife, he declares, against him.



PARK ENTRANCE UNIQUE FEATURE

Kensington Green Will Be Ideal Spot.

The artist's sketch above shows the proposed park scheme at the entrance to beautiful "Kensington Green," the new Washington Boulevard subdivision. The site of this little park is located at the most graceful turn in the boulevard. This turn lends itself splendidly to an entrance-park of this character. The park is really a gateway to "Kensington Way," the main thoroughfare of the pretty walnut-tree-covered subdivision.

Contracts have just been let for the erection of several beautiful rambling bungalows. Four are to be built at once, and six more are to follow. The immediate building of these attractive homes will tend to strongly enhance values in Kensington Green.

In no section of Los Angeles or suburban to it are residence property values increasing so rapidly and steadily as in the vicinity of Kensington Green. Acreage along the higher portions of Washington Boulevard is increasing in value at the rate of $100 per acre per month. The establishing of "Culver City" midway between Los Angeles and Venice as announced recently in all the papers, a project involving the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars, will also boost property values in Kensington Green.

Beautiful homesites can be secured in Kensington Green for as little as $740, and on the easiest of terms. No property of this type in the boulevard district can be purchased at such absurdly low prices. Washington Boulevard is a thoroughfare of unceasing activity. It is the most popular automobile artery leading east of Los Angeles. It has been estimated that from 25,000 to 75,000 people traverse this boulevard in automobiles every Sunday.

For the purpose of advertising Kensington Green, the Pratt Sales Service (709-10 Title Insurance Bldg., 5th and Spring Sts.,) will give away a New York Auto-Show "Buick," valued at $2,000.00. It is only necessary to call at the office and register your name. There is no other obligation attached.

It was Pasadena Polly—Po[illegible] for first prize. He was the w[illegible] the first $5 gold piece and wi[illegible] the first prize offered in this co[illegible] there is anything in luck Pol[illegible] be envied not alone because [illegible] gold, but because this should [illegible] emblem of good fortune. Such [illegible] or that boy is! He brought [illegible] points yesterday, and to secur[illegible] he had visited thirty-six [illegible] places, and those who have [illegible] in a contest know that in all p[illegible] by he went to most of them [illegible] many times. I wonder why it [illegible] people have such a propensit[illegible] making those who ask from [illegible] come back again and again. I[illegible] is me that they could see far [illegible] ahead to tell them the right [illegible] come, or else not to come at a[illegible] save I would do that way. Bu[illegible] how, that is the way it goes [illegible] again. I haven't time to look [illegible] pocketbook just now to see w[illegible] I have the money!" And the [illegible] ding next time. But not every [illegible] like that—far from it. There [illegible] the long run, more pleasa[illegible] agreeable people than unsympa[illegible] ones—or at least that is what t[illegible] tants say.

The second prize, $5 in gol[illegible] by George Maurer. George [illegible] in the campaign, and in fa[illegible] not come in until the twelft[illegible] after the contest had started, a[illegible] he has since the day of the w[illegible] who offer, gone from seven[illegible] place to tenth, having gained [illegible] less than a week—from. Thu[illegible] morning until Wednesday after[illegible] 1715 points. George plans his [illegible] reign definitely and carefully [illegible] usually gets exactly what he [illegible] after. He is going after the [illegible] scholarship in this contest; so [illegible] notice, all you who are th[illegible] about anything of that kind [illegible] course, George would take first [illegible] if first choice happened to f[illegible] him; but he says he isn't count[illegible] that.

Cora M. Norton of Santa [illegible] who won the third prize, the [illegible] round box of candy, made a w[illegible] ful stride in the wayside prize [illegible] gain, going from twenty-sixt[illegible] fifth place. Cora was below [illegible] the wayside prizes were [illegible] bestowed, otherwise she would [illegible] won the second prize as she [illegible] fund of George Maurer; but [illegible] place on Thursday last, governed [illegible] by putting her into the "below [illegible] class. Cora brought in an im[illegible] score during the week—11,775 [illegible] going to ninth place. A girl [illegible] to do such work as this is a fo[illegible] able adversary for any of the [illegible] ers.

BOYS WRITE THEIR VIEWS REGARDING "TIMES" CAMP.

AVALON, July 30. — The Times Camp this year is more than fulfilling the promise of the past two years, if one is to judge by the letters that are being received at the camp from boys who have been guests during the present term. Waldo Ong of Pasadena writes:

"Good old Times Camp!

"When I first entered The Times Camp, about two weeks ago, I looked around and said to myself, 'Gee whiz! This is a dry old place. Me for Pasadena on the next boat.' But when I had gotten acquainted with you fellows, Pasadena never looked good to me. Every little bit I look back and think of the good times we had at the camp. Give my best regards to all the camp, including 'Germany.'"

Carl Hankey, better known to the camp as "Hank," writes from Santa Ana, the home of good butter, as follows:

"Dear friend: How is The Times Camp progressing? All right, I hope. Believe me, I certainly had a good time while I was there. Has anybody captured a goat yet? I wouldn't mind having that cup Gen. Otis gave for catching the first goat, but I was too slow. I didn't come inside of a mile of one. I sent three pictures to Mr. Gillett yesterday, on that Howland & Dewey camera prize. I wonder if he has received them yet. Remember me to all the boys and especially to the 'EATS,' as I haven't had a square meal since I was over at the camp.

"Sincerely your friend,

[Signed] "CARL HANKEY."

Hankey holds the camp record of twenty-four pancakes consumed on top of a full meal.

Roy Culey of San Bernardino says: "I sure had one good time at the camp and I'm writing to tell you to save a place for me about August 10, as I'll surely be over again at that time."

These are only a sample of the many letters that are being received daily at the camp, and that do much to encourage the camp management to do as Archie Brown of Los Angeles writes, "Keep up the good work."

The baseball game this morning was too much "bush" to ever write up. The "Dyas-Clines" turned the tables on the fast-climbing "Reaches" by a score of 21 to 15. Oh you sand lot days!

The King's Highway

No king, crowned or uncrowned, ever rode over more magnificent highways than does his majesty, the American citizen, who journeys night and morning between his Beverly Hills home and the City of the Angels.

These highways, oiled and rolled until they are as smooth as a sheet of glass, have surfaces yielding enough to form a cushion which takes away the bumps and jars of the ordinary road—a hard, dusty, granite-like affair having no resiliency — and "bump-the-bumps" a-plenty.

A favorite ride is along Sunset Boulevard, which skirts the towering mountains and winds through canyons until it reaches beautiful Hollywood, a suburb of fine homes, set amid orange groves and flowering gardens, continuing on down to the center of the city—a veritable "King's Highway."

There are other "highways" leading to Beverly Hills, and the ride along any of them is one that is a never-ending source of delight to the motorist as he goes daily to and from his Beverly Hills home amid the foothills of the grand old Sierras between the city and the sea.

Beautiful Beverly Hills offers a sightly, romantic setting for a home lying within a short distance of the center of the city, and is the ultimate homesite for the man who enjoys a vista of mountain, valley and sea.

Our Mr. Rowe is at our Beverly Hills offices every day and will show visitors over the property in an auto.

Minister Frederico Alphonso Pezet of Peru, Senora Pezet and their son, George Washington Pezet, who were entertained by Gen. Harrison Gray Otis and Mrs. Harry Chandler last night at "The Bivouac."

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

A handsome affair of yesterday, and one which delighted those who have not yet left town for the beaches or mountains, was the tea given by Mrs. James Rae Cowan at her home, No. 142 Ardmore avenue. The hostess' sister, Mrs. Forest Arnold, formerly Miss Mabel Wiles of this city, and Mrs. Neil Parker, both of San Francisco, were special guests. The home was a bower of lovely blossoms, the living-room having been decked with white wistaria, while thousands of Shasta daisies were banked in the dining-room. Mrs. Cowan, attired in nile green and lavender charmeuse ornamented with silver, and Mmes. Arnold and Parker in black spangled net and lace, and white charmeuse adorned with pearls and chantilly, respectively, received the guests. Assisting in the tearoom were Mrs. Gail Hamilton and Mrs. Harry Halfhill.

Peruvian Minister at "The Bivouac."

The Bivouac was the scene last evening of a notable social affair. The Peruvian Minister to the United States, Hon. Frederico Alphonso Pezet; his wife, Mme. Pezet, and their son, Senor George Washington Pezet, were entertained at dinner by Gen. Harrison Gray Otis and his daughter, Mrs. Harry Chandler, who presided at the head of the charming flower-dressed table. The other guests were: Mrs. Charles Wellington Rand, Miss Frances Chandler, Miss Lilian Rand, Miss Marian Otis-McPherron and Mr. Harry Chandler. Mrs. Rand and daughter entertained with vocal and instrumental music. An animated conversation marked a delightful social event. Much informing talk about Peru and California, respectively, was a feature of an agreeable evening.

Mrs. Hugh Miller Bole,

A bride of last evening.

Church Wedding.

St. John's Episcopal Church was beautifully decorated last evening with pink lilies, hydrangeas, huge bows of tulle and garlands of asparagus, plumosus, the occasion being the wedding of Miss Alyce Marian Cullyford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cullyford, No. 729 Harvard boulevard, to Hugh Miller Bole, a young attorney of this city. The bridal gown was a dainty affair of white satin draped in rose point lace. With this a long tulle veil was worn, caught up with a filet of orange blossoms, and the bride carried a bridal shower of roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Katherine Niles of Beverly Hills, maid of honor, was attired in a beautiful creation of pink chiffon over pink satin, and she carried pink rosebuds. Miss Marjorie George of San Diego and Miss Mary McCandless of this city, assisted as bridesmaids, each wearing white batiste dresses with pink sashes and lace hats, and carrying baskets of pink sweet peas. M. Robert Bole was the best man, and the ushers were W. W. McCandless and M. J. C. Hubbard. The officiating minister was Rev. George Davidson. As the bridal party entered, Will Garroway, organist of the church, played the popular wedding marches, and before the ceremony, Mrs. Minnie Hance sang several selections charmingly. A reception followed at the bride's home.

The bride with her parents has lived in this city about three years, coming here from Detroit. She has made many charming friends in musical circles. She is a graduate of the Detroit Musical College, and enhanced her musical education by two years study in Germany.

The groom is a graduate of the University of Michigan, law class, 1908, and is the son of John Bole of Pittsburgh, who has been in business there many years. Bole has been practicing law in Los Angeles for about three years.

Prior to the wedding a house party has been entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Cullyford including H. W. Cullyford of Seattle, Miss Marjorie and Henry George of San Diego.

Lovely Outing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy have leased their Redondo Beach home from August 1 for the remainder of the summer, and will take a motor trip North, stopping at Santa Barbara, Del Monte and San Francisco, spending the month of September in San Francisco in Mr. McCarthy's apartments at No. 2177 Pacific avenue.

Miss Aileen McCarthy and Avery, Jr., and James and Howard McCarthy, will accompany their parents.

At Tallac.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ivins, Dr. and Mrs. S. I. Darrin, I. O. Levy, Mrs. I. O. Levy, Philip E. Hubel, Leo Wescott, S. C. Bowman, Floyd Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hinch, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Musselman of this city are at Tallac and registered at the Tallac Hotel.

White-Ashby Wedding.

Of interest to her many young friends in Los Angeles, as she attended school in the Page Seminary of this city, is the news of the wedding in Salt Lake City of Miss Veta Ashby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ashby, to Alfred White, son of Mrs. E. J. White. The wedding occurred at high noon, with Rev. P. A. Simpkin performing the ring ceremony. The bride looked charming in a handsome gown of white crepe meteor trimmed with old lace and pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Mary Hertjes, maid of honor, wore a pink crepe de chine creation and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The house decorations were elaborately carried out with American Beauty roses and smilax, with here and there a cupid suspended among the flowers. Pink and white roses adorned the dining-room, with touches of smilax. A wedding breakfast was served immediately following the ceremony, at a long oval table, which had an artistic centerpiece of roses arranged in a crystal bowl. Cupids designated covers. A large reception followed in the evening at the home of the bride's parents, 100 guests attending.

A Year's Travel.

Miss Mary E. Gamble, well known in Los Angeles and San Francisco circles, who has been the head of the Gamble School in Santa Barbara ever since its formation in 1902, is to have a year or two in travel in this country and abroad. Miss E. Antoinette Ely of Cincinnati will have charge of the Gamble School.

Bertrand-Collins Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Marie Collins of Highland Park to George E. Bertrand, a traveling salesman of Long Beach, occurred Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. B. H. Wilson, No 5337 Abbot place, pastor of the Highland Park Methodist Church. Miss Irene Collins, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The impressive ring ceremony was used. The young couple have gone on a honeymoon trip, and upon their return will make their home in Long Beach.

Prominent Young People Wed.

At noon yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. S. Whipple of No. 1766 West Adams street, an interesting wedding was solemnized when Miss Pauline Whipple and Charles Fletcher Priddy were married. The news will be read with pleasure by friends in this city and in Leadville, Colo., where both young people were born. The bride's father is ex-Secretary of the State of Colorado, and the young woman was socially prominent. The groom attended the Colorado School of Mines and was graduated from the Bliss Electrical School of Washington, D. C. He is now engaged in business in Long Beach, where he will take his bride to live.

HOLD LONG CONFERENCES.

Gillette, Indicted Cleveland Oil Company Man, Calls on Federal Attorneys With His Counsel.

Grant G. Gillette, who with William J. Batchelder, Dr. W. A. France, Edson France, Thomas M. Montgomery and John Montgomery, Jr., were indicted by the Federal grand jury, last January, charged with using the mails to defraud in connection with the operations of the Cleveland Oil Company, that several years ago had offices in the H. W. Hellman building, called on United States District Attorney McCormick, and his assistant, Edward A. Regan, who has had charge of the case, yesterday.

In fact, Gillette made two calls. In the morning he was told that his troubles would not be discussed except in the presence of his attorneys, and in the afternoon he returned with J. O. Whittemore and S. E. Vermilyea, retained in his behalf.

The conference continued most of the afternoon, and at the close there was no information to be had as to its outcome. It is more than probable that the calls yesterday are but preliminary to others that may produce something tangible, as it is the first time Gillette has discussed his case with the officials since the return of the indictment.

One of the defendants, William J. Batchelder, pleaded guilty to the indictment on May 2, last, and was fined $5000 by Judge Bean of the United States Court of the Northern District of Oregon, who was sitting in the local court at the time. Before that plea was accepted, Batchelder made a statement in regard to his connection with the case that will be used in the trial of the other defendants, provided they ever come to trial, which is not at all certain. The hearing is now fixed for November 18.

Midweek.

HENRY KOLKER AT MOROSCO.

Noted Actor Makes Local Debut in "Our Wives."

Marjorie Rambeau Is Stellar Attraction at Orpheum.

Novelty Bill at Pantages Also Looks Attractive.

Although in its second week the lively romantic comedy, "Hawthorne, U.S.A.," continues to attract capacity audiences to the Morosco Theater, the management has announced that this will positively be the final week of this popular play, which leaves but five more performances, closing a highly successful two weeks' run on next Saturday night.

On Sunday afternoon the Morosco Theater will make one of the most interesting and important of its current season's offerings, when Henry Kolker, one of the foremost young actors on the American stage, will begin his special engagement with the Morosco players in the new comedy, scusscss, "Our Wives."

Mr. Kolker starred all last season in New York and Chicago in the splendid three-act comedy, "Our Wives," having closed his long season in Chicago in this play only three months ago.

The piece is entirely new to local playgoers and Mr. Kolker's first appearance in his original role in which he won such a distinct personal hit makes the event of double interest.

"Our Wives" is a comedy of gossip—the kind of feminine gossip that keeps everything in a state of turmoil from the first curtain to the last, affording three hours of the richest and most ludicrous sort of fun.

Mr. Kolker appears in the role of Frank Bowers, a librettist, and he will be excellently supported by Thomas Meigham as Sylvan Martin a stock broker, Howard Scott as Harry Lyon, Charles Ruggles as Melville Tatum, a dentist; Frank Ring as Wilson, Helene Sullivan as Emily Martin, Grace Valentine as Elizabeth Tatum, Beatrice Nichols as Margaret Lyon and James K. Applebee as Otto.

This will be Miss Sullivan's first appearance on a local stage since she retired from the Belasco stage nearly two years ago and she has been especially engaged for the role of Emily Martin in this lively comedy.

Burbank.

The "sold out" sign continues to be prominently displayed at every performance of "Madame Sherry" at the Burbank Theater, where this melodious musical farce has been given for fifteen performances without one single vacant seat in the spacious Main-street playhouse.

The first week of "Madame Sherry" broke all previous attendance records in the fourteen years successful career of the Burbank and the box-office reports that this—the second—week, will be a bit larger in the matter of receipts than the first ten performances.

The piece is now running as smooth as velvet and the cast remains the same with Selma Paley in the chief role of Yvonne Sherry, Percy Bronson as Edward Sherry, James Darling as Theophilus Sherry, Lillian Tucker as Lulu, Grace Travers as Catherine, Winnie Baldwin as Pepita, Morgan Wallace as Phillippe and Donald Bowles as Leonardo.

No other musical play that has ever been seen here can compare with "Madame Sherry" in musical delight, for it contains twenty-six of the most delightful and haunting tunes that have been written in the last ten years, while in the matter of costumes worn by both principals and chorus, it is a veritable fashion show.

While no official announcement has been made of the third week, the tremendous demand for seats gives indications that "Madame Sherry" is very likely to occupy the Burbank stage for several weeks to come.

Orpheum.

Marjorie Rambeau, than whom no stock player was so popular in Los Angeles, is the new headliner for the Orpheum bill opening next Monday matinee—a bill that in itself is unusual in that six acts make their bow then for the first time.

Miss Rambeau has so many friends here that the census is the only way to count them; she has beauty of face and figure, talent of a high order and a personality that never fails to win. She, with Willard Mack and their selected company, will appear in a sketch by Mr. Mack, "Kick In." It is a story of hotel thieves, with a punch and a surprise in almost every line and it is perfectly given.

Theodore Bendix, America's first musician, with three selected players, will furnish the music; they are the best quartette in chamber music interpretation extant today, and their securing for vaudeville was a master stroke. They play classic and the better popular numbers, and will have the backing of the Orpheum's own symphony orchestra—a feature in itself.

Ida O'Day, long a popular dramatic player in Orpheum ranks, returns as a "single" with songs and patter—a field in which she is thoroughly at home. McIntyre & Earty, "the surgeplum garlic and the marshmallow boy" are a contrast in size, but a delightful couple in skill in patter, song and the dance.

"Three in One" is the odd title Elsie Janis has given to her act, which will be interpreted by Harris, Boland and Holtz. Miss Janis wrote and produced the act in its entirety. Moran and Wiser will entertain with some new stunts in hat juggling and throwing.

The only holdovers are Clark and Bergman in "The Trained Nurses" and the Four LeGrohs.

Pantages.

Pantages runs opposition to Tom McCarey next week with an ex-champion, a champion, and an ex-champion's wife on the list of attractions. Arthur Pelkey, Tommy Burns and Mrs. Bob Fitzsimmons are the stellar trio. All three are favorites here, and the fans will be dead in earnest to see them.

Pelkey does a monologue, spars a few rounds with Tommy Burns and another sparring partner, and Mrs. Bob brings Charles Dano and a musical comedy company of fourteen people in "A Bulgarian Romance," which is said to be a tabloid version of "The Bulgarian Princess."

Joe Bernard and Hazel Harrington return in "The Newly Married Man," Sylvester and Vance, in singing and dancing novelties; the Mars Duo of acrobats, and Billy Dodge, the dress suit monologist, are also listed.

Empress.

Real, simon-pure, unalloyed fun will be the predominating feature of the new Sullivan and Considine bill to be seen at the Empress Theater next week, beginning with the matinee performance on Monday.

The two big features of the new bill will be the famous Exposition Four and White's world-renowned animal circus, both of which bear a reputation throughout the variety World as being headliners of their respective kinds.

The Exposition Four is a quartette which has won fully as much fame for genuine funmaking as for their singing. This quartette was recently one of the big features of the Great American Minstrels and their engagement in vaudeville is exclusively with the Sullivan and Considine circuits.

White's animal circus needs little introduction to the local vaudeville going public. White is the man who brought out the unridable mule, while his act also contains a highly educated mule and a troupe of trained dogs who perform almost impossible feats and show a rare amount of intelligence.

Third among the newcomers for next week will be Lightner and Jordan, two clever young women who sing, dance and play the piano in a manner that makes them great favorites wherever they appear, while fourth will be Marcou, the shadowgraph expert, who offers a novel and thoroughly amusing exhibition of skill with his hands.

Other new acts will be Raymond Teal in blackface fun; the one-act play "The Trainer," a little drama of absorbing interest, and the new comedy motion pictures.

The current bill headed by Porter J. White and company in "Scandal"; Emma Francis and her Arabian Whirlwinds and Pisano and Bingham is proving one of the best and most popular that has ever occupied the Empress stage.

Lyceum.

The Lyceum Theater offered a complete new change of picture features yesterday and these will be continued until Sunday morning when the programme will again be changed. Principal among the new features are the Lubin's newest two-reel film "A Dash for Liberty," a big melodrama full of the most exciting incidents, principal among which is a race between an express train and an automobile.

Another feature of unusual interest is the Pathe film, "A Great American Newspaper," in which is shown the making of a big metropolitan daily from the time the news enters the office until it leaves the press ready for its thousands of readers.

Clune's.

Two attractive film dramas are announced as headliners for the Clune houses next week. At Fifth and Main streets the two-reel Pathe, "The Springtime of Youth," will be shown. It tells of the struggles of a young grand opera singer and is tinged with the romance of her love for the man who has made her career possible. At Clune's Broadway Theater, "The Intruder," a thrilling and romantic two-reel Vitagraph in which the stellar performers of that company take part, will be shown as the special attraction for the first three days of next week.

Century.

"The College Boy" at the Century is packing the house to the doors every night and such business has never been known in the history of the house for the summer season. It is by far the funniest show ever staged in the house and all the principals are seen to their best advantage.

Jules Mendel is going bigger than ever and he is keeping the audience screaming every moment he is on the stage. The musical numbers are above the standard and are staged effectively and neatly. "The College Boy" is a real treat and Managers Loewen are to congratulate on the continued improvement of their attractions.

Friday night will be the big boxing and wrestling night and as usual at the Saturday matinee each lady holding a reserved seat coupon will receive a handsome souvenir pennant.

APPRECIATES PERKINS.

Chamber of Commerce Sends Greetings to Senator at Expiration of Twenty Years of Service.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday adopted resolutions congratulating Senator George C. Perkins upon the completion of twenty years of service in the United States Senate, and felicitating him upon the particular service he has rendered the Chamber of Commerce. The twenty years of service were completd July 26.

During the two decades the chamber has called upon Senator Perkins hundreds of times in matters pertaining to the welfare of Los Angeles and Southern California, and the resolutions set forth the fact that he never failed to respond cordially and effectively. The resolutions, which are to be engrossed and sent to the Senator, are by way of letting Senator Perkins know that his assistance and co-operation have not been forgotten.

In return for an engrossed copy of the resolutions Senator Perkins is requested to furnish a large photograph of himself to be hung in the directors' room.

TO PROTECT SHIPPING.

Chamber of Commerce Calls Meeting of All Interested in Safeguarding Navigation Along Coast.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, through its board of directors, has entered into an active campaign to secure better protection to shipping along the coast of Southern California. The opening of the Panama Canal, with its resultant greatly-increased ocean traffic, calls for more lighthouses, fog stations and other safeguards to navigation along our coast.

To obtain all the things desired require much time and effort. The chamber believes, and it is now early to take vigorous action to see that the Pacific Coast is made as safe as that of the Atlantic.

In view of the campaign for protection a conference has been called for Monday, August 4, at 2 o'clock p.m., at the directors' room of the Chamber of Commerce to which all shipowners, steamship company representatives, yacht club officials, harbor commissioners and all others interested are invited to attend. The meeting and to present any suggestions they may care to make that are pertinent to the matter under consideration.

HERMOSA BEACH.

HERMOSA BEACH, July 30.—A number of important street improvements will be commenced here, the cost of which will be $55,000. Work on the paving of cross streets between Hermosa avenue and the Strand from the Tenth has been begun. This will be about $8000, the streets to be graded and parked.

Palm drive, the first street west of Hermosa avenue will be paved at a cost of $35,000 and a concrete Shakespeare addition will be made and 4000 feet of sewers laid. The improvement will amount to about $12,500.

REQUEST TRIAL AT SACRAMENTO.

Caminetti and Diggs Enter a Plea of Not Guilty.

Motion for Change of Venue Denied by the Judge.

Case Against Harris Also Set for Next Tuesday.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maury I. Diggs and F. Drew Caminetti pleaded not guilty of white slavery this morning in the United States District Court. Next Tuesday, it is expected, the two young men, one a son of the Commissioner-General of Immigration, and the other a son of a former New York Senator, will hear the first of the witnesses against them in connection with the alleged violation of the Mann Act in taking the Sacramento girls, Marcia Warrington and Lola Norris, from that town to Reno. It developed during the court session preliminary to the actual trials, that the defendants in the cause celebre have changed their minds in regard to the place where they wish to be tried. Their attorneys asked for a transfer of the hearings to Sacramento, whence the crime charged is said to have taken place, and which is the home of both the defendants and the girls asserted to have been wronged.

The motion for a change to the capital city came as a big surprise. Judge Van Fleet declared the request came rather late as all preparations had been made for the trials to be held in this city. With the denial of the request, the counsel for the young men intimated they would make the same motion before Judge Dooling, the new Federal appointee, who is expected to be the trial judge. Diggs and Caminetti were represented by Attorneys Nat C. Coghlan, Randall Woodworth and S. Luke Lowe, while Theodore Roche, special prosecutor, acted for the government.

The usual motion in such cases to quash on technical grounds was denied after a short discussion, a demurrer that had been submitted was overruled.

Attorney Roche stated that no date had been set for the trials on the indictments charging violation of the Mann Act, although those for conspiring to violate the act had been set for Tuesday. On that showing the same date was named.

Diggs and Attorney Charles E. Wells of Sacramento, accused of subornation of perjury in connection with the case, pleaded not guilty to that charge and the same day was set for the trial.

DOOLING TO PRESIDE.

Judge Van Fleet said from the bench that he did not expect to preside at the trials. It is presumed that the commission for Judge Dooling, whose appointment was confirmed by the Senate on Tuesday, will arrive from Washington in time for him to act.

Attorney Diggs, throughout the proceedings in court and afterward, maintained a somewhat defiant attitude, while Caminetti displayed nervousness. Harris was self-possessed in his manner at all times, to a degree that suggested the exercise of will power to that end.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN QUENTIN, July 30.—George Webb, a guard in the State penitentiary here today was fatally injured here today by an invention of his own devising.

Through the little "hanging garden" from which Webb watched over the prison mill, there passes a pulley shaft for the transmission of power to the mill. It was hot at Webb's post and he rigged up a sheet iron fan that turned when the shaft turned.

Today he, carelessly stood too near the revolving blades. One of them caught in his clothing and lifting him from his feet, battered him against the ceiling and walls. His left arm was fractured, both his legs, one arm and several of his ribs were broken.

Webb was formerly a bailiff in the San Francisco courts. His family lives in Oakland.

KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF.

Clerk in Oregon Town Causes Double Tragedy When Woman Declines to Drop Divorce.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALEM (Or.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Crazed because his wife declined to dismiss her suit for divorce and return to him, Fred Ingle, a clerk of Corvallis, late this afternoon shot and killed her in the library of the law offices of Carson & Brown, and then sent a bullet through his own head. He died without having regained consciousness in a hospital half an hour later.

The double tragedy was enacted while Miss Renska Swart, a girlhood chum of the slain woman, stood stunned not more than three feet from her.

Succeeding events bear out the opinion that Ingle came to this city this afternoon with the purpose of killing his wife if his suggestion for a reconciliation failed. He brought the pistol with him and it was evident that he was suffering from a severe mental strain. A conference between principals and attorneys for both sides had been arranged and was in progress. Ingle's attorney had suggested a reconciliation. Mrs. Ingle had refused.

While a discussion was in progress over property rights the attorneys stepped into an adjoining room, leaving Ingle, Mrs. Ingle and Miss Swart. Then Ingle whipped out his revolver and began shooting. Miss Swart is verging on nervous prostration.

San Jose Convention Adopts Report to Abolish Supreme Council and Elects Officers for the Pacific Coast—Angelenos Chosen Grand Marshal and Trustee.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Cramming two days' work into one, the Pacific Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute finished its convention here today with the election of officers.

United States District Attorney Benjamin L. McKinley of San Francisco was finally elected to the office of grand first vice-president, defeating D. J. Lucey of Port Costa.

Charles J. Collins of Sonoma was victorious in a four-cornered race for grand inside sentinel, defeating Frank Merrill of San Francisco, Bernard H. McManus of Vallejo and Charles O'Connell of San Rafael.

Other officers were elected as follows: Honary grand chaplain, Most Rev. P. W. Riordan, Archbishop of San Francisco; grand chaplain, the Rev. M. D. Slattery, San Francisco; grand president, James A. Bacigalupi, San Francisco; grand first vice-president, Benjamin L. McKinley, San Francisco; grand second vice-president, Charles R. Hancock, San Francisco; grand secretary, George A. Stanley, San Francisco; grand treasurer, George I. Cavanaugh, Vallejo; grand marshal, Fred C. Walsh, Los Angeles; grand inside sentinel, Charles J. Collins, Sonoma; grand outside sentinel, George Lacey, San Francisco; grand directors, Richard V. Bressani, San Jose; Frank Jenal, Los Angeles; E. C. Curtis, San Francisco; T. P. O'Brien, San Francisco; George J. Oliva, San Francisco; Frank Flynn, Oakland; D. J. O'Hara, San Francisco; J. P. Moloney, Sacramento.

The report of the committee on supreme council relations was adopted. The abolition of the supreme council of the Young Men's Institute and the organization of the country in two jurisdictions, Pacific and Atlantic, will result if the other division follows suit. The scheme which was adopted with the approval of Supreme President Burke of Louisville, Ky., provides for a national conference committee selected by the two jurisdictions to take the place of the supreme council in considering matters affecting both.

Oriental Hotel Proprietor's Troubles Culminate When Witness Against Him Fails to Appear.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The troubles of Joe Hashibaro, Japanese proprietor of a hotel, culminated today when a witness failed to appear in Police Court to testify against him.

Hashibaro was arrested Thursday on a warrant charging him with beating Cora Kline, a white chambermaid, at his hotel. When the case was called Cora Kline was not present. A bench warrant for her arrest was issued.

When detectives went to the hotel they found the girl locked up in a closet with her wrists bleeding and her body bruised. The girl told the officers, they reported, that the Japanese had beaten her again after her first complaint and had threatened her life if she appeared in court against him.

She was arrested and placed in the City Jail on a $50 bond to appear as a witness. Then the Japanese was returned to jail and his bond raised from $25 to $150 on a charge of assault and battery.

"SUICIDE" MAY BE A MURDER.

Stockton District Attorney Suspects Foul Play in Case of Farmer Found Dead.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Notwithstanding a Coroner's jury last night rendered a verdict that Henry F. Mayer, a farmer who was found dead yesterday on the Mariposa road with a gunshot wound under the heart, committed suicide, the officers suspect foul play and today the District Attorney ordered a rigid investigation.

The District Attorney himself spent a long time on the lonely scene of the murder. None of the officers will talk. It has been learned that the testimony at the inquest was not satisfactory. The officers have had a hard time probing into the domestic troubles which are supposed to have been at the bottom of the shooting. Members of the family seemed reluctant to discuss them even with the Coroner. The physical facts surrounding the case indicate suicide.

Secretary of War Inspects San Francisco Presidio.

Refuses to Discuss Result of His Observations.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Saluted by nineteen guns at the Presidio and received with all military pomp, Lindley M. Garrison, Secretary of War, arrived at the reservation this morning to make a thorough inspection of the troops, equipment and condition of the officers and soldiers quartered in San Francisco.

Escorted by Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff; Maj.-Gen. Murray and Maj.-Gen. Aleshire, chief quartermaster, the Secretary spent the entire morning going over the Presidio. At noon he was the guest of Gen. Murray at luncheon. He then resumed the inspection, which occupied his attention until late in the afternoon.

"I am going to do this thing thoroughly," the Secretary said before starting from the hotel.

"I shall give out no information until after I have returned to Washington and have seated myself at the Secretary's desk," Garrison said.

"It is ridiculous to presume that I can tell what I am going to do about the Presidio, Ft. Point, Alcatraz or any of the other Coast military properties until after I have inspected them. When I speak it will be to tell the exact results of my observations of the entire trip.

"I am not going to say one thing about one place and another thing about some other place. I shall speak about all or none. And I can't say anything about any until I have seen all."

Garrison will be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon at the Fairmont Hotel tomorrow.

He will also inspect Ft. Baker, Ft. Point, the military prison at Alcatraz and the other army properties in the vicinity of San Francisco.

DENIES WAR RUMOR.

The Secretary explained that his recent order to forward all khaki uniforms from the various posts in the western division to San Francisco was made because a number of these uniforms are "off color" and he desired them all worn at one post, which probably would be in the Hawaiian Islands or the Philippines.

"There is absolutely no war significance to the order," he emphatically asserted.

Keeper Installed Over Business of San Jose Shoe Man Who Had Meteoric Career.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Creditors of Charles A. Price of the Price-Garcia Shoe House of this city today had a keeper put in charge of the business when they filed attachments against the stock of the business. Charles A. Price, the debtor, is now working as a clerk in a San Francisco store after a meteoric business career here. His wife has gone East and it is said that marital differences directly traceable to his business failure caused the separation.

Jacob Price of San Diego, a capitalist, has had charge of the store several weeks to protect a loan of $5000 he made his son and he ascribes the failure to "extravagant habits" of his son.

There are $12,000 in debts against the business besides the $5000 loan of the elder Price. Henry Garcia, one of the members of the firm, retired soon after the business was organized. It is said that an average of nearly $500 a month is charged on the books to Price's "personal expenses."

San Jose Police Captain Ousted Six Years ago Reinstated in Old Job by Courts.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John N. Black, the captain of police who made a six year fight in the courts for his position after having been ousted at the beginning of the first Davision administration for "doing politics," took office again at 6 o'clock tonight. The police commission decided last night to put Black in office if he demanded the place. Tonight he appeared and was reinstated.

Black still has a salary suit pending and the action will be filed in the Supreme Court of the State this week.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 30.—The Telegraph's Shanghai correspondent reports a critical situation at Chapel. The police, he says, refused to permit the foreign guards to remain there. Late in the afternoon the foreign volunteers who had returned to Shanghai marched back to Chapel and were met by armed native police. Several shots were exchanged between the volunteers and the militia, but the foreigners were uninjured and after disarming a small number of natives, the expedition returned to Shanghai.

Further foreign warship parties have been landed and are guarding the consulates.

Will Start Four Weeks' Theatrical Engagement in New York With Her Dancing Partner—Leaves Three-Year-Old Son in England; Their First Separation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Men and women notable in society, the business world and the theater returned from England and the continent today aboard the steamship Olympic. Chief among those prominent in society were Mrs. John Astor and her daughter, Miss Muriel Astor. Mrs. Astor is going to Newport. She wore a blue dress, cut low at the neck, which was covered with a lace net. Her hat was blue, small and with small feathers.

Among theatrical folk aboard the Olympic were Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Dillingham, Miss Dorothy Donnelly, Miss Fannie Ward, Richard Bennett and Julian L'Estrange. Dillingham went abroad in May on his honeymoon.

"I'm bringing back the biggest success I ever brought from Europe—my wife," he said today. "We went over there just for a vacation, and I did not bother with plays or the theater."

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and her dancing partner, Jack Clifford, were other passengers. Mrs. Thaw is here for a four weeks' engagement at Hammerstein's. She was booked as "Evelyn Nesbit" and declared that she did not intend to use the name of Thaw in her theatrical work. She said she had not brought her son Russell, now almost 3 years old, because she feared the effect of the New York heat. As she handed around photographs of the boy she said it was the first time she had been separated from him.

Fast Pennsylvania Express Crashes Into Rear of Passenger Train at Tyrone—Engineer Is Killed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALTOONA (Pa.) July 30.—One man was killed and 146 passengers injured, only one dangerously, today, when a fast express crashed into the rear end of a passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad at Tyrone, fifteen miles east of this city. All of the injured, excepting eleven, who are being cared for in the Altoona Hospital, were able to continue their journey.

George K. Funk, engineer, of Harrisburg, Pa., was the only person killed.

Westbound passenger train No. 15, known as the Pittsburgh express, which arrived at Tyrone four minutes late, already had started out of the station when No. 13, a fast express from Philadelphia for the west, travelling about thirty miles an hour, came around a curve and plunged into the parlor car on the rear of No. 15.

The locomotive and three cars of No. 13 and the front mail car of the Pittsburgh express were derailed. Most of the injured passengers were in the last two cars of train No. 15.

Railroad officials said they were convinced the accident was due to Funk's disregard of automatic signals.

How to Get Rid of Eczema

If you bruise your hand, you will notice that a scab forms, and when it falls off, new skin has formed. Did salve do it? No! Skin is the same as muscle, bone, sinew, ligament. All are made from the blood, from the materials that your stomach and intestines convert from food into what we call blood. And this blood circulates in the myriad of tiny blood vessels in the skin. Start from your stomach, where blood materials begin, and it won't be long before you are free of eczema. Use S. S. S. for a short time, and not only will eczema disappear, but the entire blood will be renewed.

There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy, judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming eczema, rash, pimples, and all skin afflictions.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and you will not only feel bright and energetic, but you will be the picture of new life. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 143 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Beware of any attempt to sell you something "just as good."

FIVE INJURED AT LONG BEACH.

Automobile Owned by Fullerton Man Struck by Pacific Electric Car on Grade Crossing.

LONG BEACH, July 30.—Five persons were injured tonight when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a northbound Pacific Electric car at Cedar way.

The automobile, owned by C. C. Chapman of Fullerton and driven by Theodore Rucker of this city, had left the concert which is being given nightly by the Christian Assembly and in the car as passengers Rucker had his wife and daughter Daisy, besides Princess Long and Mrs. E. F. Leach of Ontario. All were more or less injured.

The automobile had ascended the steep grade at Cedar way and was crossing the railroad tracks when struck. Rucker received severe bruises, Mrs. Long a fractured hip and Miss Daisy a fractured skull.

GOING UP.

Price of hops may reach 25 cents a pound this year. Seems to ascend with a hop, skip and a jump.

PLAY BALL.

We trust that the location of the Southern Pacific depot will be settled in time to give us an adequate station for the 1915 business. The present apology is the worst thorn in the flesh of our beautiful city.

THE LATEST WIGGLE.

America has had the honor of originating the tango, the bunny hug and the turkey trot, but England comes back at us with the walk of the fishes, a bit of love and the grape-juice wallow. We presume this last is a sort of an English cousin of the Bryan grape-juice swallow. A state compliment is not always stately.

A NEW DANGER.

A furniture man in his haste to board a Los Angeles street car collided with a St. Louis girl. The girl was here and not in St. Louis. She will stay here, for she is now the queen of his home. They had never seen each other until that accident. Surely this is a warning to men against haste in catching cars and things.

A DIGNIFIED STEP.

The town of Watts has ordered new sidewalks and streets which will cost $30,000. Here is where the automobilists get the worth of their fines. Also about the time that Watts becomes the center of population of an unbroken city line between Main street and the sea the public may quit smiling at the name of an enterprising little neighbor.

THE RIGHT WORD.

It was the theory of Daudet that only one adjective can rightly be used to describe any one object, and that always there is a single fit word to express or qualify an idea. Daudet was right, and any man who writes a story or a book like that is not only a great artist, but a master builder. The whole world seeks the right word. Somewhere back of it is the divine idea. The most lavish and beautiful speech contains the strictest economy. The word which invokes vision and compels realization is the language of power.

RATHER LATE.

Senator Works is now sorry that he told on the man who offered to pay him if he would secure him the postmastership in a small California city. He has asked President Wilson to overlook the offense. We are afraid Senator Works knows as little about politics as the ignorant contractor who tried to buy a job. What hurts us worse is that the Senator seems to have had no sense of humor. A sharp rebuke by letter and a hearty laugh would have met the emergency and have sufficiently vindicated the new statesman's honor.

CHILD CULTURE.

If you are from Dixie you were "raised." If you came from the North or East you were "brought up." No matter where you got your start, you know that the companionship of your parents and their unspoken example meant more to you than any burst of temper or any session in the woodshed. It is sometimes hard for parents to be reasonable. Those who are not reasonable produce nine-tenths of the runaways. They supply a good part of the men who are tramps and nearly all of the indifferent women whose pursuits charity forbids us to enumerate.

WHY HE LOST.

The King of Siam was once in love with Mabelle Gilman. He wrote her poetry then and still writes verses to her memory. It is unfair to the lady to think that the jingle of the Corey dollars was more musical to her ears than the melodies of the royal Siamese, but she is not to be blamed if this happens to be true. It really shows that even a King would lose his sweetheart if he undertook to embalm her in poetry. This is fitting. A King should be compelled to play the part of a man. We may have men who are not kingly, but we must have no Kings who are not manly.

THE BIG IDEA.

A rich German land owner died last week, leaving nearly $6,000,000 to his Emperor for the building of ships and the improvement of the navy. We do not know whether this man loved his country less or hated England more, and we do not care. It seems to us that he has done a great and original service to his nation. He has given it a period of independence without a tax upon the people. It may be argued that any man who accumulates a vast fortune does so at the expense of other persons, but the fact is that his foresight only gets the money which others have missed. Giving money away has always been a difficult proposition. This man has given his wealth to all of his people in a way that protects and does not burden. It places Germany in a better position to maintain its reputation as a nation and to preserve the peace of the world. Some of our own millionaires and billionaires who are so anxious to die poor might well follow his example. If they do not care to build warships, they might at least establish a strong merchant marine. America needs this much more than libraries or colleges for its present development, and the good of it would go to the whole people and not to a few localities. We think Herr Knorr of Berlin has proved himself a wise Saxon.

FOREIGN IMMIGRANTS.

Either foreign immigration to this country must be restricted for a period of years or permanently, or more adequate preparation must be made for the distribution and location of immigrants as they arrive.

The immigrants are mostly unskilled laborers. They have been workers in the fields of Italy, Austria-Hungary and Poland. They congest in the cities, partly from choice and partly from necessity, and are easily deceived, manipulated and beguiled into becoming anarchists, rioters and tramps. The Department of Labor is attempting to place these immigrants on the farms of the East and Middle West, but it is hampered in this work for lack of an adequate Congressional appropriation to carry it on.

The problem of assimilating these foreigners has not vexed us on this coast so far, for very few have had the means and the enterprise to come here. But with the completion of the Panama Canal these conditions will be changed. It will then be as easy and almost as cheap to come to California via the Panama Canal as it now is to make the journey to New York.

The time fixed by Col. Goethals for dynamiting the Gamboa dike is October 10 next. The destruction of the dike will allow Gatun Lake to flood the cut, thereby connecting the Atlantic and Pacific. It will not be long after when ships will be moving through the canal.

The government will doubtless establish an emigrant station at San Pedro Harbor, but the efforts of its officers will be directed more toward the exclusion of undesirable immigrants than the placing at work of those who will be entitled to remain.

The task of placing the immigrant at work in the fields and orchards of Southern California so that his work will be agreeable and advantageous both to him and his employer cannot be left entirely to United States officials. These should be aided by a local committee which could receive applications from ranchers, and orchardists, and railroad and irrigating companies, and fill them with newly-arrived immigrants.

It will be noted by travelers that the men engaged in grading and track repairing in this section of the State are mostly Mexicans. Americans can usually find better paid employment.

Congress would do a wise and necessary thing if it would amend the immigration laws so that only laborers who can read and speak the English language shall be admitted to our shores.

HATES COURTS.

Oh, how the proprietor of our steamed, Progressive, one-scent contemporaries hates courts, especially when courts disagree with him—as they generally do—in the construing of constitutions and laws.

His anger is divided just now between the Supreme Court of Missouri, which has declared unconstitutional a law establishing a commission form of government there for cities of the third class, and the California Court of Appeals, which has refused his application for a writ of mandate to compel the Clerk of this county to issue a supplementary referendum petition to bolster the forged and fraudulent one he was engineering, in order to deprive county officials of their pay.

A writ of mandate is not, as Tooplous erroneously supposes, a writ to compel the County Clerk to do anything that the one-scent newspaper man wants done. It is a writ to compel an inferior officer, board or tribunal to do something which the law requires to be done and which the officer refuses to do. Injunction is a writ to restrain a person from doing something which he has no right to do. Mandamus is a writ to compel an official to do something which he ought to do. Official usurpation is remedied by injunction. Official inaction is remedied by mandamus.

It is an all-sufficient answer for the defendant in mandamus to reply that the law does not require him to do the thing that the plaintiff demands he shall do. In passing upon an application for mandamus the court will not inquire whether the inferior officer ought not morally to do what he is asked to do. It will determine simply whether the law requires him to do it. A Sheriff would not be mandamused to issue a writ of attachment. A clerk of the court would not be mandamused to serve one. A county physician would not be mandamused to perform a marriage ceremony. A county recorder would not be mandamused to kiss the bride.

The idea of Tooplous seems to be that where, through inadvertence or design, the Legislature has failed to require an officer to do a certain thing, and that thing is something that Tooplous wants done, then a court ought to order the officer to do that thing, law or no law, just because Tooplous requires it. And a court that will not agree with the construction that Tooplous places on the Constitution is a court that "usurps the power of government" and "exercises power over government greater than that exercised by the whole body of the people," and that such a court ought to be recalled and retrogressed.

You can't do anything with Tooplous. As Lord Dundreary said, "He is such an ass, doncherknow."

RAGE OF THE REBATER.

Tooplous is precipitating himself into a ferment over the possibility of Republicans and Progressives getting together, and he can find no phrases of denunciation bitter enough with which to condemn any such coalition. He speaks of the nomination of Mr. Taft as "a stolen victory based on dishonor and outrage," and designates the three million voters who cast their ballots for him as "political hacks" who remained in the "scuttled old party" to celebrate a "crooked-convention victory." The three million voters were, he alleges, "controlled and dominated in the interest of special privilege" and ready to "defraud and exploit the people in the services of powerful and unscrupulous masters." He declares that "any effort to rehabilitate the Republican wreck must fail to interest true Progressives." He remarks that "Progressives are not free traders." Some of them, however, at last advices, seem willing to accept free trade by conniving at continued Democratic supremacy, rather than restore protection by assisting at a joint Republican and Progressive victory.

Tooplous has evidently "got 'em again,"

Strenuous Days for Woodrow.

He is drunk with himself, by himself, for himself. He is afflicted with the rebater's jim-jams. His pen froths at the mouth. He dips it in oil of vitriol when he begins to write of the Republican party.

It was not probably to be expected that he would refrain from hating those whom he helped to betray. He has classical precedent for his low opinion of his former political associates. Judas Iscariot hated the eleven loyal apostles and hung himself rather than rejoin them—an example which is commended to the attention of the rebater. Benedict Arnold was foul-mouthed in his abuse of George Washington.

There may or there may not be a reunion of those who voted for Taft with those who voted for Roosevelt, but nothing that Tooplous can do or say will have the slightest effect to prevent such reunion.

There was once a little bob-tailed, spindle-shanked, flea-bitten puppy who mounted a stone wall and bayed at the moon. And the moon kept on shining; just the same.

CHARITY FEDERATION.

Cleveland has adopted a new plan with reference to gifts to the needy. Fifty-three charitable organizations have formed a federation. The object of it is to have all money contributed for charity go to a central point and there be distributed to the respective organizations that are united, in the proportion that they have their means.

It has been said that the plan tends to make persons' gifts larger, going in one lump, than the aggregate of contributions when the giver was besieged by over fifty representatives of charity. Business houses find it convenient to give one check for their annual contribution to the fund, instead of having to go to the trouble of making out thirty checks, sending out thirty letters, or forty or fifty, as the case might be.

Not only that, but commissions of from 15 to 50 per cent were previously paid canvassers for such funds. Under the new rule in Cleveland the commission cost is but a fourth and from that down to an eighth as much as the cost under the old system.

One of the chief advantages of the federation is that duplications of aid are avoided. There are in most cities those who simply live (and not very "simply," either) on the different charity organizations, and thrive as long as one organization does not know about the help from another.

The plan has been tried in New York State, notably in Elmira, for a number of years, where there is a charity federation building. It works so well there that the city would probably never think of going back to the old plan. Cleveland is, perhaps, the first of the larger cities of the country to adopt the federation plan.

A FINE STUDY.

Mitchell Kennerley has been printing some fine things lately. Perhaps no American publisher is doing more to produce books worth while. His press for the last three years has been offering us stuff of quality. One of his latest ranks high among the best. It is called "Voices of Tomorrow" and in it Edwin Bjorkman has done the American public a peculiar service in acquainting us with some of those prophets and dreamers whose vision carries us afar into the future. Among those writers upon whom he has turned the searchlight of his keen analysis are: August Strindberg, Bjornstjerne Bjornson, Selma Lagerlof, Francis Grierson, Edith Wharton, Maurice Maeterlinck, Henri Bergson, George Gissing, Joseph Conrad and Robert Herrick.

Without a digest of the work this may appeal to some as a curious conjoining of craftsmen, but the book justifies the assumption and acquaints one in intimate and beautiful dignity with the rare workmen it considers. Furthermore, the pages swell with the impulse of a noble intellect which has roamed like a flower lover in a garden of rare blossoms to cull only the loveliest examples of the most beautiful types. Of course, Bjorkman has given America its largest and best English translations of Strindberg, and it is not out of place that he has devoted at least a good third of his new book to a strong argument in favor of this great and little-understood dramatist. We think well of the Bjorkman production and, above all, we commend the good faith in which it is done and the sincerity with which each of its subjects has been treated.

THE NICARAGUAN TREATY.

The treaty with Nicaragua which was negotiated by President Taft toward the close of his administration provides for the payment by the United States to Nicaragua of three millions of dollars in exchange for a naval base on the Gulf of Fonseca, several unimportant Nicaraguan islands on the Atlantic Coast and the exclusive right to construct a ship canal across Nicaragua.

As amended by Secretary Bryan the treaty would empower the United States to supervise Nicaragua's dealings with foreign nations to the extent that Nicaragua would bind herself not to assume or contract any public debt in the discharge of which the ordinary revenues of the nation, after defraying expenses of the government, shall be inadequate. "Under this guarantee," says the Washington press dispatches, "it is believed Nicaragua would find it possible speedily to revise her fiscal system and secure foreign aid for necessary public development."

The further amendments to the proposed Nicaragua treaty will read as follows:

"Article I. That the government of Nicaragua shall never enter into any treaty or other compact with any foreign power or powers which will impair or tend to impair the independence of Nicaragua, nor in any manner authorize or permit any foreign power or powers to obtain by colonization or for military or naval purposes or otherwise lodgment in or control over any portion of said country.

"Article III. That the government of Nicaragua consents that the United States may exercise the right to intervene for the preservation of Nicaraguan independence, the maintenance of a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty."

PARCEL POST.

The proposed reduction in parcel post rates is but another illustration of robbing Peter to pay Paul. Fiscal experts declare that the rates cannot be reduced without a loss to the government Postoffice Department and that loss of course will have to be met out of the pockets of the people.

The postoffice is run primarily in the interests of the public, also as a business that shall at least pay expenses. No government, any more than a private corporation, can afford to run its business at a loss to please one portion of its patrons. The proposed reduction in rates simply means that those who are not using the parcel post will have to help pay the expenses of those who do. Such a proceeding hardly helps to prove the economy of government ownership.

ENGLISH VIEW OF MR. BRYAN.

[Sydney Brooks, in July North American Review:] Among all classes and all parties there has grown up a feeling toward Mr. Bryan which, in its kindliness and its desire to be just, amounts, for those who remember the passion and dementia of 1896, to a veritable revolution. His bitterest opponents today would not deny that he believes all he says, though they might add that the more wrong-headed it is the more ardently he believes it. There is a pretty well universal acknowledgment that he is no self-seeker, that his politics spring from his convictions, and that he fights for them with unimpeachable dignity and fairness.

Mr. Bryan has proved himself, and for that I honor him, an effective voice of protest against social and economic inequalities and injustices. But has he proved himself anything more? He can at times diagnose general conditions with a rough and ready accuracy that is due to the keenness of his sympathies and not to the keenness of his perception. He has stirred up many questions, but he has never yet found the right, or anything approaching the right, answer to any of them. He has sensitiveness, a generous heart, a great fund of idealism, and a creed that looks kindly on the under dog. But balance, knowledge, perceptive, a sense of the feasibility, a distrust of empiricism—in all these qualities which are the very stuff of statesmanship flattery itself would have to admit his deficiency.

He belongs to the type of men whom nature in her perversity has framed to ruin countries from the best of motives and with the highest of intentions. He is a stimulating and even now and then a captivating orator, and the sheer sincerity of the man always holds his audience.

All the Englishmen whom he encountered during his visits abroad were as one in pronouncing him a shallow and vapid thinker, incapable of seeing deeply into anything. What determined their estimation of him was the discovery that he lacked almost all the gifts and qualities that go to form the political instinct.

THE PEMININE GARMENTURE.

Things That Women Wear and Are.

I suppose nothing more emphatically marks the general intellectual inferiority of man to woman than the masculine hysteria concerning woman's dress. It is a topic upon which he is ready to "throw fits" at any minute's notice—sometimes misfits.

It is nothing new in masculine foolishness, this habit of swallowing the ground in fierceness and rage every time woman changes the style of her garmenture, which is annually, quarterly or daily, just as the whim seizes her. She has a passion for variety. This may account for a great many divorces.

An Ancient Gatling Gun.

Nearly three thousand years ago the Prophet Isaiah put on his dress-reform war paint and went off the reservation in a whirlwind of denunciation of about everything a woman could put on, naming the article in such detail as could not have been surpassed by any modiste of his time. Just where and how a preacher learned so accurately the mysteries of female adornment is of itself a thing surprising. He was better posted than the preachers of the present day, who are cautiously apt to generalize in their specializations concerning the fripperies of femininity. Isaiah pitched into the women like a house-afire, calling things by name, and thundering the divine wrath at the "bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet, their cauls, their round tires like the moon, chains, bracelets and mufflers, bonnets and ornaments of the legs"—they must have worn the slit skirt in those dressy old days, else how could the prophet know? What?—"headbands, tablets and earrings, rings and nose jewels, changeable suits of apparel, the mantles, the wimples and the crisping pins, the glasses and the fine linen, the hoods and the veils, girdles and stomachers."

A Knowing Old Prophet.

Why, about all we know of the sartorial vanities of the mothers in Israel we learn, not from the dressmakers of those days of bravery in apparel, but from a mighty and eloquent prophet of the Lord, who could and did speak of things of everlasting import with such matchless eloquence and poetry that we wonder he ever wasted his genius on such commonplace things as woman's dress.

I confess I like him better when in a loftier, holier ecstacy he breaks out with his exhortation, "Put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem!" when he pictures the robe of righteousness "as when a bride adorneth herself with jewels." It seems that the prophet really appreciated and admired fine raiment, but being a man, he just had to turn himself loose in wrathful ridicule of the women and their dress at least once in a lifetime.

The Envious Man.

Part of this insane raving concerning the apparel of our sisters arises from masculine jealousy. Man has never been able to excite the admiration, scarcely to attract the attention of womankind by his extravagance or richness in dress. Time was when, like the birds, the female of the species was dressier than the male. Man wore the rich laces, the silks and the velvets, the gold chains and flashing jewels. Much the woman cared. If she could do nothing better she stuck a hideous nose ring in her snout, and holding her head high in the air, sailed along the street, beheld of all beholders, and arousing the wrath of men far more tastefully dressed. When he dressed at his best, as now he dresses most comfortably and sensibly, he was compelled in plain speech to call attention to his new coat, as he now asks her to admire his new suit, else did she never notice it. Much she cared what he wore. All the mind she had for dress was absolutely in the contemplation and admiration of her own. What was man that she should consider his clothes?

She didn't even care—even as she doesn't care unto this day, for his admiration or condemnation of her garments. She doesn't wear them for her, unless it may be to aggravate him and make him roar. It is a good thing that she is thus constituted.

The Implacable Animal.

For she has never been able to please him with her raiment. Never. He has always made fun of her "bunnits;" he has exploded with wrath at her gowns; he has been appalled at the deformity of her shoes. And the other things she wears have driven many a smoothly voluble man to stuttering—the kind of stutter that always begins with a sputter. For thanks to the illustrated advertisements of respectable merchants in our family newspaper, any boy of 11 knows every article of woman's sacredly-public apparel, as well as he will when he has been married ten years. As for woman's modesty in apparel, what she doesn't hang on the clothes line or exhibit through the slit let in her skirt for that purpose she advertises in illustrated description in the coarse daily papers and the refined magazines of exclusive culture—a little more in detail of style and finish in the magazines.

In the Near-Altogether.

A local minister a few Sundays since said he would rather see women go in the nude, which is Trilby for "the altogethers," than to see her wear the suggestive garments of the present fashion. Oh, well, of course there isn't much difference. Because the minute a man glances at her he knows just what she has on, how much, or rather, how little; how it hooks and laces and buttons and what it looks like before the gauze glory is thrown over it. Lovely woman, tantalising, teasing, tormenting, may, and frequently does, keep the men "guessing" about a great many things. But not about her clothes—never. She takes him into the confidence of her dressing maid. It's one of the easiest assignments of the society reporter to get photographs of the bride's trousseau. Photographs of everything but her blushes. That's one thing many women have quit wearing. Maybe the men didn't make enough fun of it to be worth the putting on.

Therefore, so long as she doesn't care a whoop about what the men think or say concerning her apparel, why should we say anything? Why scold her about her eccentricities of dress? The fulminations of Isaiah had no more effect upon the fashions of Israel than an editorial in the Nation has upon the style of a Catalina bathing suit, which is simply a few marks upon the body to show where the bathing suit would come if it were worn.

Let her dress, then, as she will, please or discontent herself, without the annoyance of masculine comment. The less we notice her eccentricities the shorter-lived the new style will be. We will abuse her and make fun of her, anyhow. Whether she dress like a suffragette, a militant suffragette, or a "sweet home-keeping body," who arrays herself in the dear old styles of "Godey's Lady's Magazine" we will caricature and ridicule her. Slit her halter and turn her loose, and let's see what she'll do with herself when nobody turns around to look at her. You know we always have a curiosity to know how anybody acts when nobody is looking. But it's mighty hard to get a peep at the actor when he isn't acting.

What's the Matter with the Men?

Or, just for a change, we might turn and abuse the men for a while. No one is more abjectly the slave of the fashion than is her brother man. He changes his hat, not on account of the weather, but because of a date in the calendar. The business suits of men are made fashionable, like the parts of a watch. The evening suits of all white men and all white waiters in the world are made alike. They put us into the stove-pipe hat, the rolled cuff and the sheet-iron collar. We want to burn language about unnecessary absurdities in dress.

Trees for National Highway.

BALDWIN PARK (Cal.) July 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Anent the planting of trees along the National Highway: This matter should not be lost sight of and the arrangements should be well in hand so that as soon as the season is open for planting, after the roadway is in order, these trees may appear along the line in every State from coast to coast. Along the trees too close together must be guarded against and if possible it would be attractive to have the same trees throughout the course. This being practically impossible, as the maple in the Eastern and Central States is by far the best border tree, with the pepper or some evergreen where is the typical tree here, it might be as well for each State to select its own trees, and where one variety left off and another began it would work in as a landmark and be a feature of its own.

Just consider how beautiful would be a well-kept row of trees clear across the continent! Tea gardens would spring up along the way, groves could be brought into attractive use and this would become an endless driveway.

The sight now is none too soon to form societies and a national society decide on the kind of trees, where they may be obtained and all about it. MRS. EVANGELINE C. RONEY.

BOYS CONFESS MANY THEFTS.

HAVE MUCH MONEY AND GUNS WHEN ARRESTED IN ROOM.

Three Youngsters Admit Systematic Pilfering of Shacks in City's Outskirts—Not Thought to Be Implicated in Auto Hold-up and Shooting of Hackert.

Three young men, the eldest 18 years, were arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Moody and Anderson on suspicion of being concerned in the hold-up and robbery of F. E. Hackert and Miss Emma Nicholson late Tuesday night, by a party of autoists.

They gave the names of Isaac Reichler, Vincent Marcelein and Gus Favais. They were found in a lodging-house at San Pedro and Second streets. At first they denied they had committed any crimes, but later admitted they had stolen valuables and money from a number of Japanese, the officers said.

The three were placed in Detention Home on the first floor of the Courthouse, the law not permitting officers to incarcerate juvenile offenders in the County Jail. Inasmuch as inmates of the Detention Home have escaped on several occasions, if the lads are desperate, they will cause the juvenile officers considerable anxiety.

They are not believed to be the ones who held up Hackert and Miss Nicholson. While giving an apparently free confession of previous crimes all three denied Tuesday night's affair. None of them can drive an automobile. They declared they were in bed at the time of the robbery. But the young fellows had nearly $200 in their possession. They also carried revolvers.

"These three young fellows confessed to six burglaries or robberies," said Deputy Sheriff Manning yesterday afternoon. "They said they watched their chance to enter shacks occupied by Japanese on the outskirts of the city and ransacked the places. So far we have not been able to find out just what the prisoners have been guilty of, in addition to the crimes they admitted.

"The coolness and daring displayed in the robbery at Greening seems to have been the work of more experienced men than the youths we have in custody. However, we will continue the investigation. In the meantime the deputies are co-operating with the police in searching for other clews to the bandits who shot Hackert."

HE TURNS UP ALIVE.

Escondido Man Who Disappeared Not Slain, and Lawyer Against Whom Suspicion Pointed Is Back.

H. M. McCord, formerly of San Diego county, who two years ago was thought to have been murdered, is apparently very much alive. McCord disappeared suddenly from his ranch near Escondido and a nation-wide search was made for him. It was discovered that clews pointed to a murder. While the body was never found, suspicion pointed to A. B. Edler, an attorney, who had a ranch near Escondido and who was at that time under arrest for forging signatures to a deed to property in Salt Lake City.

A web of circumstantial evidence was woven about Edler, but the officers refrained from filing a direct charge of murder against him because the body of McCord could not be found. It was probably lucky for the officers that the charge was never filed, for there wasn't the slightest evidence against Edler, and after he had served six months for his connection with the forgery, which was committed in San Diego county, the McCord matter was dropped.

Now comes the story of Mary A. Dean in Iola, Kan., showing McCord to be still alive. Mrs. Dean left her husband, Harvey Dean, at Iola, last week when they were on their honeymoon trip. She said she was stolen by H. M. McCord and half a dozen confederates who actually kidnaped her. The story which Mrs. Dean told the officers at Iola was that she was forced by McCord to say that she left her husband because he attacked her with a knife and that she went with McCord because he had saved her from her husband's abuse.

One night in jail at Iola when she was returned to her husband made Mrs. Dean forget the story and a reconciliation followed when she admitted it was false. McCord disappeared.

TUTTLE GETS BACK.

Tunnel Engineer, Recently Dismissed, Reinstated by the Action of the Civil Service Commission.

E. A. Tuttle is reinstated as tunnel engineer in the City Engineer's department, by the action of the Civil Service Commission, but whether he will be suspended for thirty days without pay as a punishment for his actions that led to his dismissal by the Board of Public Works, will not be determined until this board meets today.

Yesterday Commissioner Johnson was absent, and Commissioner Handley declared that as long as the Civil Service Commission had reinstated Tuttle against the protest of the Public Works Board, he would not vote to suspend Tuttle, but would insist that he go to work at once. President Hubbard declared that the matter would be postponed until a full board was present.

The findings of the Civil Service Commission are:

Whereas, E. A. Tuttle was dismissed from the position of engineer by the Board of Public Works and has applied to this commission for reinstatement, and

Whereas, it is conceded that said Tuttle has faithfully, honestly and efficiently served the city as an engineer for a period of twelve years and was the designer of the Hill-street tunnel and responsible for its proper construction, and

Whereas, it is conceded that the city suffered no loss by the change in the tunnel specified in his dismissal, and the Board of Public Works would undoubtedly have approved of the same had it been reported to them, and

Whereas, it is also conceded that said Tuttle did not, with any wrongful intent withhold information regarding such change from his superiors, and

Whereas, the charges of insubordination in regard to the waterproofing were not proven, and

Whereas, such action of said Tuttle in failing to report said change to his superiors was exceedingly reprehensible and is deserving of severe reprimand, but

Whereas, the dismissal from the service of the city is, in the opinion of the commission, too severe a punishment, now therefore

Be it resolved, that said Tuttle is hereby reinstated, with the recommendation that he be suspended for thirty days without pay.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

Weakness which has been felt in the market on wheat, has been revealed definitely in a decline of 15 cents per hundred, reported by one of the leading milling houses. Flour is also easy, but still unchanged. It is expected that, by August 15, when new wheat will be rolling, lower prices may develop in the flour market. A feeling of easiness is apparent now, especially since the falling off in wheat. Corn products are firm. Other lines of grain remain about steady.

A large shipment of red bellebuans was received from the North, and offerings were at 85 cents a lug. Gravensteins still continue the leading feature of the market. Prices on this variety were somewhat easier. Cantaloupes continue easy, owing to the large local supply. Tomatoes are out of the market. Bartlett pears were easier. The supply has been increasing rapidly.

Potatoes continue very firm, and advances are predicted. Onions are rather dull. Local yellow Danvers and brown onions are received occasionally, for which demand is unchanged. Asparagus arrives with easier tendencies in Lady Washingtons and small whites. Pinks are weak. The supply of green beans is improving. String beans and peas are scarce. Egg plant is becoming more plentiful.

Eggs and butter remained steady. Cheese was about unchanged. Further advances in all three products soon are not unlikely, owing to the lessening supply of fresh stock, because of warm weather.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 260 cases; butter, 42,847 pounds; cheese, 800 pounds; potatoes, 2726 sacks.

Prices Current.

EGGS—Fresh ranch, case count, 30; Petaluma, Santa Rosa extras, 25@26; northern extras, 24@25; Utah, Kansas extras, 17¼@19; Mountain-Dakota, 21@22½; pullets, 19@20. Prices to the trade for candied stock are about 2 or 4 cents higher than these quotations.

BUTTER — Creamery extras, 31 per lb.; firsts, 29@30; seconds, 27¾@28¼; dairy extras, 24½@25; firsts, 24@25½. Prices to the trade about 3 cents higher than these quotations.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Steel Favorably Influenced by Report—Illinois Central Dividend Only Bearish Feature.

NEW YORK, July 30.—With the exception of Steel, which was favorably influenced by the annual yesterday concerning the corporation's earnings for the past quarter, the list closed generally lower. The reduction in the Illinois Central dividend from a 7 to a 5-point yearly basis was considered in Union Pacific and served to unsettle the market.

The list recovered the last hour on professional short covering and closed rather steady, but the tendency which characterized trading last week is by no means in great part lacking. Mexican news was not of any more favorable but Europe's attitude is such that some anxiety still exists relative to the Balkan situation.

Copper Industry.

London copper opened firm with cost and insurance basis at £60, up 5s. Tin opened weak with spot at £182 15s, off £2 15s, and futures at £182 15s, off £2 5s. Lead opened at £22 5s, off 2s. Copper closed with spot at £60 and futures at £60, unchanged. The market was steady. Tin was: Spot, 150 tons; futures, 2100 tons. Lead was: Spot, 2750 tons; futures, 2250 tons. Spanish pig lead was at £21 5s; and spelter at £20 10s, off 2s 6d.

In New York copper was nominally unchanged. Tin was off 1¼. Spelter was unchanged. Lead was: Spot, to September, was at 4.10@4.15. Iron was: Spot, to September, was at 14@14¼. Spelter was at 5.50@5.60.

Dow Jones & Co. published the following today: "Regarding the Copper Producers' Association for August an even break between output and deliveries is looked for, while allowing for increase in stocks ranging from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 pounds is predicted. Some point to equality of output and probable larger production in August, with June's small output, while others believe larger domestic deliveries will offset this, not wholly, make up for these two lines of change."

All diamond drillings has been stopped at the Indiana, as the information desired by the test of oil has been obtained. The long-sought fields was found by the horizontal hole driven southeast from the shaft at 1400 feet, being encountered at a point four beds between eighty and 200 feet. The hole was driven vertically from the bottom of the shaft and was stopped at 100 feet. It was in true oil sand all the way. Development work is now to be resumed. A cross-cut will be started in a few days from the 1400-foot level to cut the oil sand and definite bank and drifting will be prosecuted until the 1150 and 1300 levels are reached. Much plus sinking and stubbing will be done to establish the ore. General Manager Edwards is well satisfied with the situation at the property. The recent decline at 600 feet has been exceptionally severe.

Franklin is shipping about 650 tons a day and until labor conditions improve there is no prospect of raising the tonnage materially. The ore now coming from the twenty-third level is the best in the mine. The highest importance is attached to the cross-cut to the thirty-second level into the footwall. This will soon reach the conglomerate vein formation, which has been penetrated for years by the Franklin, Jr., but will strike it for the first time in the latter's lowest workings. The cross-cut will develop the whole series with the exception of the Hancock lodes. The Ontario, Governor and Kearsarge will be cut and each will be thoroughly explored by drifting. This is the ground for the Franklin. The shaft is sinking in the thirty-sixth level, which soon will be reached. Cross-cutting for the vein is in progress on the thirty-fifth. The thirty-third level continues to show the best rock in the mine.

At South Lake the cross-cut to the northeast 900 feet has just entered the third of the footwall veins. The third vein is the shaft, and is showing good stamp copper. It will be pushed through Nos. 2 and No. 1. Drifting on No. 3 will commence at once. The three lodes will be opened rapidly and the rock sent to one of the ore mills. The openings of the Evergreen lodes will also be undertaken with the main programme to the development of the South Lake series of lodes. Work is sinking steadily, having reached 600 of 815 feet. At 600 feet the cross-cut for the Mammoth Lake lodes will be begun.

Work at Algomah is confined to shaft sinking, another of the most expedient methods of development. The shaft is sinkter on the lode. Material of a character similar to that met near surface conditions is being encountered.

North Lake's 300-foot level cross-cut drift to the Evergreen's lodes is in 100 feet and has not yet been driven further to enable reaching the first of formations. The development will be similar to that at South Lake.

Boston Copper Market.

BOSTON, July 30.—The market showed considerable profit-taking and the reaction extended as much as three points in spite of heavy London buying, the reduction in the Illinois Central dividend was considered by some as the first step to be taken in the local market to reduce values. Coppers were dull and sagged on scattered selling in spite of the strength of copper metal. Some of the smaller issues were about copper stocks and they sell on small profits. There is no change in the strike situation at Lake Superior and is one of a long-drawn-out struggle.

MIX-UP OVER POLES.

With the filing of a complaint with the State Railroad Commission by the Southwestern Home Telephone Company that the Southern Sierra Power Company has erected its service poles in San Jacinto, Hemet and Perris in undue proximity to the poles of the former company, the Commission is called upon to unravel a knotty situation that hinges on the specific interpretation of the Public Utilities act. In other words, the question is, Has or has not the Commission jurisdiction over the placing of poles within cities? The Southwestern company has its headquarters at Redlands.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, July 30.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer reading was 30.07; at 5 p.m., 29.90. Thermometer for corresponding hours showed 70 deg. and 71 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 80 per cent.; 5 p.m., 39 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 1 mile; 5 p.m., northwest, velocity 8 miles. Highest temperature, 71 deg.; lowest, 58 deg. Barometer reduced to sea level.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.—The presence of the unusually high barometric pressure over the States east of the Missouri River caused a general rise in temperature throughout that region. A score of stations reported temperatures exceeding 90 deg., as follows: 100 deg., Des Moines, Kansas City; 96 deg., Oklahoma, St. Louis; 94 deg., Abilene, Phoenix, Shreveport; 94 deg., Dodge City, Moorhead, Rapid City, Toledo; 92 deg., North Platte, St. Paul, Tampa, Washington, Williston. Light rain is reported in the southern States and in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, and heavy rain occurred at Raleigh (1.30 inches) and Yellowstone (1.20 inches.) Elsewhere fair weather prevails. The northwestern area has drifted eastward, and in conjunction with southwestern depression will give Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair and somewhat cooler today; fair tomorrow; gentle variable winds, becoming westerly.

LOCAL FORECAST.

South of the Tehachapi: Fair today and tomorrow; gentle variable winds, becoming westerly.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Forecast:

Upper Sacramento Valley: Fair Thursday; continued warm; light west winds.

New York Curb Stocks.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Today's curb market was dull with price changes in the mining list. Nipissing, Mines and North Star sold off. At the close oil stocks are very strong, as reports of California crushing an unusual quantity of asphaltum on the report of the bringing in of a large gusher in the Santa Maria district created a shade of activity, but after following the trend of New York declined fractionally. Butte & Superior fluctuations were all in the afternoon. The copper list was very irregular. The strike at the Lake mines is existing down. During the day prices showed a tendency to advance.

LEADING STOCKS AGAIN FALL OFF.

SPECULATIVE FAVORITES ONCE MORE DEPRESSED.

Movement Is Unsettled Throughout the Day and Such Improvement as Is Shown at the Opening Derives Its Influence from Encouraging Steel Company Statement.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—The moderate setback recorded by yesterday's stock market became more pronounced today when some of the speculative favorites sold 2 to 4 points under their recent high level. The movement was unsettled throughout and such improvement as was shown at the opening derived its impulse almost entirely from the favorable quarter statement issued by the United States Steel Corporation. Steel rose 1¾ points in London, the market following the movement here with purchases estimated at 25,000 shares. In the local market steel failed to equal London's high price. The weakness of Illinois Central was explained when it became known that the dividend had been cut from 7 per cent. to a 5 per cent basis. The stock speedily declined to 106¼, its lowest price since 1905. In the final hour the market resumed its recent midsummer dullness. The general bond list was affected by the heaviness in stocks. Sales of government 2's were made in round amounts at 99½, the 4's at current low prices. Government 3's and Panama 3's were ½ per cent lower on the bid. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,600,000.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Budget Commitee today will report to the City Council that it has appropriated $13,000 for the purpose of establishing an efficiency bureau, by which public business will be facilitated and all city employees will be properly graded and classified.

The State Engineer appeared before the City Council yesterday to discuss the situation regarding issuance of building permits for the new State Normal School building. Amendments may have to be made in the building ordinance so that there may be no conflict of authority between the city and State over details of these buildings.

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday investigated rates charged by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies for delivery of messages outside the free zone, and urged the Postal representatives to voluntarily rearrange its delivery rates. If this is not done the board will undertake to regulate the rates that can be charged.

The Board of Public Utilities announced yesterday that the artificial gas rate will be applied to natural gas for the present, and that the rate for natural gas will not be fixed until an appreciable number of consumers are secured, as rates fixed on the present basis of consumption would be prohibitive.

At the City Hall.

CITY BUREAU FOR EFFICIENCY.

BUDGET MAKES PROVISION FOR THIS INNOVATION.

Will Properly Grade and Classify All Municipal Employees and Initiate New Systems That Will Save More Than Cost of Department's Maintenance, It Is Said.

The new city budget will contain an item of $15,000 for the purpose of giving the municipality its first Efficiency Bureau. This has been definitely decided upon by the Budget Committee, after an investigation of the work being done by similar efficiency bureaus in other cities. The statement is made that the bureau will save to the city more than the cost of its own maintenance, besides creating many betterments in the methods of handling the city's work and securing greater efficiency and economy in the transaction of public business.

The Budget Committee will report to the Council today as follows:

We have investigated the need for an efficiency and economy committee to recommend plans for reorganization of city departments, in order to promote efficiency and economy in service, welfare of employees and convenience of the public. We believe that such a committee, if properly conducted, would result in a large annual saving to the city. We transmit a statement from the Efficiency Committee of the Municipal League which will illustrate the need that exists for such a committee. A proper grading and classifying of employees in the various departments will not only save the city several times the amount of money expended by such committee, but will establish just and fair standards among employees of all departments, and will offer an incentive for diligent and competent employees to advance by a system of promotions based on merit.

We, therefore, recommend that a committee to be known as the "Efficiency and Economy Committee" be created and that said committee consist of the president of the Civil Service Commission, the City Auditor, and the Council Committeeman on Efficiency. We recommend that said committee be given full authority and power to make an efficiency and economy investigation along the lines indicated in said resolution, copy of which is attached hereto, and along any other lines which the committee may deem proper.

We beg to advise that we have set aside in the budget allowance $15,000 for said Efficiency and Economy Committee, and we recommend that said committee be authorized to draw on such fund for the employment of expert, clerical and other help, and for necessary expenses incident to the work of said committee, provided said committee does not spend an amount in excess of the money provided in this fund. We further recommend that all of the city departments be instructed, under charter amendment No. 6, to assist said committee by supplying all information and data desired by said committee.

MAY CHANGE LAW.

WOULD ACCOMMODATE STATE.

State Engineer W. F. McClure and Building Inspector Backus appeared before the City Council yesterday to discuss the situation in regard to issuance of building permits for the new State Normal School buildings.

The State proposes to make an outlay of a half-million dollars in erecting a group of ten buildings on the new site, and McClure stated that as these buildings will be segregated on twenty acres of land, the plans call for parapets so that the roofs of the low buildings may be utilized. This is contrary to the provisions of the city's building ordinances, but it was urged that these provisions are for the purpose of safeguarding buildings in the downtown districts, and would not be of practicable use in the Normal School situation.

McClure stated that while the State maintains that it is not bound to secure building permits from the city for the new structures, he has no desire to embarrass the city's building department, and wishes to work in harmony with it as much as possible.

Building Inspector Backus stated that this was a matter of policy more than of real objection to the plans proposed, but that he wanted the permits for these buildings issued so that the city would get the benefit of their addition to the building records.

Several of the Councilmen were anxious to take action at once that would allow the issuance of the permits, with exceptions to be made that would allow of the changes from the provisions of the city's building ordinances, but City Attorney Stephens advised that this should be accomplished by amending the ordinances to suit this case. The subject was finally referred to him for a report at this morning's session of the Council.

LIQUOR PERMITS.

BOARD GRANTS TRANSFERS.

The No. 2 restaurant liquor permit held by Harry A. Goodin for No. 117 East First street was transferred to Harry R. Milbourne.

A similar permit was granted to Mora & Christes for No. 136 West Fifth street.

The wholesale liquor permit of Albert Rougny for No. 423 East Fifth street was transferred to Casimer Mazet.

The commission granted a No. 2 restaurant liquor permit to Barto Gardetto, No. 651 San Fernando street.

The wholesale liquor permit held by Andrae Ciaccio for No. 260 East Fifth street was transferred to Ciaccio & Foto.

The retail liquor permit held by Jerue & Cannon for No. 421 South Main street was transferred to Daniel B. Jerue, who has bought out his former partner.

A retail liquor permit held by Eugene Maechtig for No. 132 North Spring street was transferred to No. 408 West Sixth street.

The commission granted a No. 2 restaurant liquor permit to Sebastian Mazzetti for No. 300 Aliso street.

MAY FIX CHARGES.

FOR MESSAGE DELIVERIES.

The subject of charges to persons for the delivery of messages that have been accepted as prepaid by telegraph companies at other points for delivery to definite addresses in Los Angeles was before the Public Utilities Commission again yesterday. Representatives of the Western Union and Postal companies were present, and each submitted their maps showing the free delivery districts and the zones within which charges are made.

The Western Union showed that it charges 10 cents for deliveries of messages outside of a large free zone. The Postal has a much smaller free zone and various districts within which the charges range from 10 cents to 35 cents.

The Public Utilities Board held that there is evident need of readjustment of the Postal charges for deliveries and urged the representatives of the company to secure a readjustment without compelling the board to take action. If this is not done, then the board feels that it must adopt a schedule of delivery rates to which the Postal will have to conform.

NATURAL GAS RATES.

WILL BE FIXED LATER.

Twenty-five or thirty householders in the Shoestring Strip at Athens-on-the-Hill are using natural gas, taken from the mains that are being laid to serve Redondo. They are interested in learning what the natural gas rate will be, and yesterday S. P. Epler of No. 453 One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, appeared before the Public Utility Board to ask what the rate is to be, or what prospect there is of the rate being set by the board.

President McReynolds answered these inquiries by stating that the board feels it cannot consistently set the rate for natural gas until such time as an appreciable portion of the gas consumers are using the natural gas; that to fix the rate at this time would require such a high figure as to make it prohibitive, while the more consumers secured before the rate is fixed will pave the way for the lowest possible rate. The artificial gas rate will be applied to natural gas for the present.

Epler stated that the users of the natural gas are finding that it gives good satisfaction after the proper adjustments of burners are made.

Suspended Thirty Days.

Because he allowed Japanese employees to sell beer from delivery wagons without orders, Henry D. Gilbert, owner of the Western Wine Company wholesale liquor store at No. 238 East Seventh street, had his liquor permit suspended for thirty days yesterday by the Police Commission. He was warned that a further repetition of the offense would bring about a revocation of his permit.

System Is Installed.

City Electrician Manahan yesterday reported to the Board of Public Works that the Llewellyn Ironworks has completed the installation of the ornamental lamp posts for the lighting system on Canal street, Wilmington, between First and Third streets, and that the Southern California Edison Company will have the wiring completed by tomorrow. The board will probably take action today to provide for the current for this system.

To Consider Grade Crossings.

The State Board of Railroad Commissioners will have a hearing on the subject of elimination of grade crossings this forenoon at 10 o'clock, and Commissioner Handley of the Board of Public Works and City Engineer Hamlin will respond to an invitation from the board to be present at this hearing to represent the Board of Public Works.

Makes Demand Upon Bondsmen.

The Board of Public Works yesterday adopted formal resolutions demanding of W. N. Hendricks and his bondsmen payment to the city of the amount of the bond provided in the case wherein Hendricks was awarded the contract for the construction of the Ninth-street sewer, from Wilton place to Western avenue. Hendricks did not sign the contract, declaring that he could not get the money to carry through the work. The city is put to the loss of the difference between his bid and what new bids will call for, besides the incidental cost of readvertising. Hendricks has been declared an irresponsible bidder. If the bond payment is not made the city will bring suit for collection.

Must Comply With Order.

Superintendent Lewis of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation was before the Public Utilities Commission yesterday, asking for some modification in the plans adopted for rerouting of cars on the Boyle Heights and West Seventh-street line, and the lines operating in the western and northwestern portions of the city. The board insisted upon the carrying out of the plans as adopted, and told Lewis that its original order would stand. This plan appears to meet with the approbation of the various communities affected and also the Broadway merchants, as no complaints have been filed since it was adopted by the board.

Asks for Candidates.

The Public Safety Committee of the City Council yesterday recommended that the City Council at once ask the Civil Service Commission to call another examination for candidates for the position of chief engineer of the Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph Bureau. The Council is anxious to secure a head for this department who can proceed with the completion of plans for a system of alarms to be installed by the city.

May Revamp Ordinance.

The subject of increasing the license fees on liquor retailing establishments is a live one at the City Hall, and it is quite likely that the liquor ordinance may be revised so as to raise the license fees 100 per cent. The Public Safety Committee is to confer with the Police Commission on the subject, also upon the proposition to amend the ordinance so as to allow the issuance of a table permit to the Clark Hotel on Hill street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, in a block that is now closed.

City Hall Brevities.

The Municipal Nursing Commission has changed its times of meeting to 10 o'clock on the forenoons of the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. The commission has decided to use present methods of handling the nursing work until its plans are fully matured for establishment of a new system.

The City Council yesterday approved the assessment district for the ornamental lighting system on Olive street, between Sixth and Pico.

The Harbor Commission yesterday appealed to the Police Commission to have the commissioners and secretary appointed special police and have officers' badges issued to them. This was referred to the Chief of Police for recommendation.

The Park Commission filed a request yesterday that the Council provide for the payment of the expenses of $150 for the park superintendent on a trip to Denver to attend the American Association of Park Superintendents, to be held August 25, 26 and 27.

At the Courthouse.

HUBBY IS LAZY AND VERY UGLY.

SUPPLIANT WIFE CRAVES DIVORCE BUT DOESN'T GET IT.

Says Spouse Sleeps Early and Late and Spoke Only Two Kind Words in Fifteen Years—He Got Real Angry When She Refused to Let Him Shoot Her.

Although she testified that her husband was not only the "ugliest but also the laziest man in the world," Judge Monroe yesterday refused to grant a divorce decree to Mrs. Grace G. Woodcock of Long Beach, daughter of a wealthy Idaho ranchman. The judge requested her attorney to amend the complaint and intimated that he would grant the decree at the next hearing.

In awarding her husband the blue ribbon for the prize lazy man, Mrs. Woodcock testified that he never worked over thirty minutes a day, retired with the chickens and arose anytime between 10 and 12 o'clock noon. She said the seven employees on her father's ranch of which Woodcock was supposed to be manager were idle most of the time because of Woodcock's penchant for keeping a toehold on Morpheus.

She said he was ugly at all times and never knew what it meant to be "off the warpath." According to the plaintiff he treated her in a shameful and brutal manner for nearly fifteen years. He never smiled and during the fifteen years of their married life only twice did he speak in a pleasing manner to the plaintiff.

Mrs. Woodcock said she left her husband's home in Lincoln county, Idaho, January 17, 1911, and went to Chicago. Woodcock followed her. She then went to Long Beach and he followed her there, but she refused to have anything to do with him.

"On one occasion," she said, "he asked me to let him shoot me and then kill himself. I refused and he called me hard names. Another time he suggested that we both jump off the end of the Long Beach pier. He made these terrible suicide suggestions just to frighten me and cause me mental suffering."

SHE SURPRISES.

CHINESE GIRL WITNESS.

Maye Soo Hoo, a 12-year-old American-born Chinese girl, was a witness in a case in Department Eleven of the Superior Court yesterday and surprised the court and attaches by her knowledge of this country's customs and religion.

It was necessary that Judge Oster, who was presiding at the trial, should know that Miss Soo Hoo realized the importance and the solemnity of the oath before she would be permitted to testify. He addressed a number of questions to her with that end in view.

"Do you believe in God?" asked the judge.

"Yes," she replied.

"Do you believe in a second life after death," questioned the court.

Maye was puzzled for a moment, but finally decided that she did not.

"Well you understand that if you do not tell the truth and have taken an oath to do so, the presumption is that you will be punished after death," explained the judge.

"Yes, I understand," replied the girl and she was sworn in as a witness.

The case in which she testified was that of Margarito Flores, a Mexican who is charged with stealing a watch from John Mahads, in Chinatown, on June 14. The trial is being heard before a jury.

An attorney for the defense attempted to catch her on cross-examination by asking her what date the crime in question occurred.

"June 14," promptly responded the witness.

"Well, how do you know it was June 14?" asked the lawyer.

"It was Flag Day and we all had flags," quickly answered the olive-complexioned little girl as her brown eyes twinkled.

DOESN'T SEND.

SO WIFE ASKS DIVORCE.

After seven years of ideal married life, Mrs. Marie Dwight testified yesterday in the divorce court, her life was blighted when her husband, Dr. Wilder Dwight, a United States army surgeon, now living in San Francisco, left the Dwight home for the Philippines.

"He went away in 1900," she said, "telling me that he was going to the Philippines to build up a practice and that as soon as he got nicely settled he would send for me. He never did."

She did not have enough witnesses to establish desertion. A continuance was taken and the decree withheld. Mrs. Dwight was attractively gowned and was accompanied by several friends.

JURORS PLEASED.

AND THEY SO DECLARE.

The members of the retiring term trial jury of Department Twelve paid a visit yesterday to the District Attorney's office. They expressed their satisfaction with the way in which the criminal cases had been presented and highly commended the work of Deputy District Attorneys Veitch and Doran, whose work is confined largely to that department of the Superior Court. The jurors also drew up a set of resolutions expressing their appreciation for the courtesies extended by Judge Cabaniss, Clerk Smith and Bailiff Aguirre.

UNPREPAREDNESS.

JUDGE HITS YOUNG LAWYERS.

In sentencing Juan Guerero to twelve years in San Quentin yesterday for the slaying of J. Perez at Glendora, Judge Cabaniss took occasion to speak of the lack of preparation of some of the young lawyers who take criminal cases for the practice.

"A defendant is entitled to just as good a legal defense if assigned a lawyer that he is if defended by a paid attorney," said the court. "I am willing to assign cases to young attorneys, but I want to see more preparation. A man's liberty is not to be lightly trifled with."

Guerero was convicted of murder in the second degree. The evidence showed he went to the Perez home, where a party was in progress. Because of his intoxication he was ejected. In revenge he fired several shots, fatally wounding Perez. Except for the fact the defendant was intoxicated at the time he would have probably been found guilty of murder in the first degree.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

GRAND LARCENY. William Haggerty was convicted of grand larceny by a jury in Judge Cabaniss's court yesterday. He will be sentenced tomorrow. James Brady was the complaining witness.

ROBBERY CONVICTION. A jury in Judge Oster's court found M. Flores guilty of robbing John Mahady on Alameda street, June 14. One of the interesting features of the case was the testimony of Mary Sohoo, a pretty little Chinese girl, who saw the robbery. She said it happened about 6 o'clock. She saw it from a distance and reported it to her parents. Deputy District Blair prosecuted the case.

LARSON ARRAIGNED. Louis Larson, alleged wife murderer, was arraigned before Judge Cabaniss yesterday. His plea was set for Tuesday. Frank Domingues, who is counsel for the accused, stated yesterday that he expects to go to trial and is prepared with a strong defense. While he would not outline its nature it will probably be an alibi.

NO SOBER BREATH. Because she testified her husband "did not draw a sober breath during the last two years of their married life," Judge Monroe yesterday granted a divorce decree to Mrs. Annie H. Mellon from Samuel W. Mellon. Mellon was in a mellow state of intoxication from April 1, 1909 to April 1, 1911, according to his wife and other witnesses for the plaintiff. They were married June 24, 1883, in Lampasas, Tex., and Mellon never looked upon wine when it was red until they had celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

BOY SEEKS DAMAGES. Edward Friedman, a messenger boy, yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court for $10,000 damages against the Woodward Garage and Machine Company for injuries alleged to have been sustained July 14. The complaint alleges that Friedman was struck by an automobile driven by Edward Woodward at the corner of Third and Hill streets and seriously injured. Friedman charges negligence.

RELEASED. Manuel Ruesga and Beatrice Regna, charged with contributing to the delinquency of the latter's children, were released on their own recognizance yesterday by Judge Wilbur, with instructions to return for arraignment on August 4.

WILL BUT NO ESTATE. Although she left no estate, letters from relatives in the East caused the two sons of Sarah Jackson, 74 years of age at her death, to file her will for probate. She had considerable property several years ago, but disposed of it before her demise. Arthur H. and William Jackson are the petitioners.

HE'LL PAY FOR IT. Pleading guilty to a charge of stealing a motor velocipede from the Southern Pacific Railroad, George Lawrence was given a suspended sentence of three years by Judge Wilbur yesterday in Juvenile Court, upon promising to pay the company $100 in installments of $15 monthly.

INTOXICATED DRIVER. J. S. McNutt, who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an auto while intoxicated, will be sentenced this morning in the Juvenile Court by Judge Wilbur.

LAW ON THE SPEEDERS.

Justice Summerfield intends to uphold the law regarding speeders. He is also an enthusiastic motorist himself, but he has no patience with speeders who give their names to the arresting officers and then fail to appear in court. He issued bench warrants yesterday for nearly a score of offenders, who will probably be taken into court today and heavily fined.

Assessment Question.

MANY CITATIONS BUT FEW TAX ADDITIONS.

WHILE 108 citations were made by the City Board of Equalization to persons to appear yesterday to show cause why their assessments should not be raised or new ones made, the total results in the way of additions to the tax rolls were not heavy at the close of business by the board last evening.

The citations issued at the request of Councilman Wheeler showed property alleged to be to the value of more than $1,500,000, but one by one the cases yesterday showed aspects that caused the Councilmen to vote against making the increases proposed, except in a few cases, where minor amounts were added.

In the citation of the representatives of the estate of Charles E. Pendell, who was murdered in the Temple block recently, it was alleged that there was $10,000 worth of jewelry, $25,000 in bank and solvent credits to the amount of $50,000. The bank books showed credits of $685 and there were three notes found of the value of about $1000. The board voted to place the assessment at $1925.

The Union Oil Company representatives showed that its domicile and principal place of business is Oleum, Contra Costa county, and therefore its stocks and bonds are not assessable here.

C. A. Canfield's 1500 shares of Bankers' Oil stock was shown to be assessable in Kern county, as were also shares of this stock owned by other persons cited. The board voted not to increase the assessment on solvent credits of Canfield.

The Los Angeles Investment Company was assessed $2500 on bonds, although the citation showed an item of $127,000 of trust funds alleged to be subject to assessment. Its representative declared that he knew of no trust funds that have not been properly assessed.

In several cases it was shown that money was on deposit in savings banks, and, therefore, not assessable.

The board voted to place 50 per cent. on the assessment roll of $52,-330 in mortgages and $7075 in bank held by the estate of W. N. Avery. In the case of Boice, Gates and Johnson, where they failed to appear, the board voted to assess them $2932 for solvent credits, this being 50 per cent. of the amount named in the citation. Similar percentages were charged against Hunsaker & Britt and Nannie Bicknell.

The hearing of citations will be continued by the board this morning at 9 o'clock.

HALF A MILLION MORE THIS YEAR.

FINANCIAL BUDGET SHOWS SOME INCREASE IN EXPENSE.

Over Six Millions to Run City, New Charities Commission, Municipal Markets and New Efficiency Bureau Provided for in the List as Now Made Up.

The financial budget for Los Angeles for the fiscal year 1913-14 was completed yesterday by the Budget Committee—Whitten, Reed and Conwell—subject, of course, to modification due to the final results of the work of the City Board of Equalization on the tax rolls.

The budget provides for expenditures by the various city departments for the present fiscal year of $6,435,756, which is an increase of $613,962 over that expended by the city last year. In the total amount is included $1,309,072, created by the reserve fund and unexpended balances; miscellaneous incomes that will reach $1,293,767, and $3,832,917 to be gleaned from the taxes.

In the item of miscellaneous incomes is included $800,000 from license fees, $45,000 from franchise payments, $50,000 interest on money in bank, $343,767 from departmental receipts and $55,000 from delinquent taxes.

An analysis of the new budget funds presents many interesting figures. The new Charities Commission is given $14,054 to carry on its work, which is to include the establishment and maintenance of a free municipal labor bureau. The sum of $10,970 is allowed for municipal markets, a new feature established only a few weeks ago; and $15,000 goes to the new Efficiency Bureau.

The fire department gets $772,638, of which $500,000 goes for salaries and $108,710 is for outlays. The park department gets only $257,625, and the police department must get along on $773,271. A payment of $50,000 on the purchase of the Temple block property is provided for, as is also a payment of $100,000 on the old State Normal School site which the city is to acquire.

A total of $29,000 is provided for the firemen's and policemen's pension and relief funds, and the celebration fund is held down to $2000.

The general expense fund is placed at only $250,000 and the reserve fund is to be an even $1,000,000, or a 10 per cent. increase over the allowance made last year.
